Coal Czars Abolish All Fixed Prices

U.S. BOARD ACTS AFTER SERIES OF LEGAL ATTACKS

Will Begin Work on New Schedule.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The national bituminous coal commission today revoked all 30,000 minimum prices of soft coal it has fixed. The revocation goes into effect at 11:59 p. m. Friday.

The whole structure of prices created under the Guffey act, designed to boost the profits of operators on bituminous coal in order to enable them to pay higher wages to miners, was razed by the commission as a result of the numerous court injunctions temporarily protecting various groups of consumers from the exactions.

The commission, after days of delay and much internal dissension, was forced to undo its work because of the manifest injustice of some consumers being compelled to pay the higher prices while others, protected by court injunctions, could obtain fuel at the former lower rates.

Schedule Upset by Court.

On Feb. 11 the commission's price-fixing structure was given a severe jolt when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here issued injunctions to 209 railroads, three coal companies, and the city of Cleveland against application of the minimum rates affecting them. Meanwhile, a mounting list of individual injunctions was being granted.

It was learned that the action today was not taken until pressure had been brought to bear on the commission by John L. Lewis, representing the miners, and by 15 major operators. The operators met first with Lewis and convinced him that the price scale should be rescinded. Then a joint group of operators and miners appeared before the commission and urged the action. The operators said they feared the collapse of the entire price structure as a result of the injunctions, and argued that chaos in the industry would result.

Begin Task All Over Again.

The commission announced that it now will begin all over again the task of fixing coal prices.

"The commission," said a resolution adopted at a meeting this afternoon, "will proceed immediately to the reëstablishment of minimum prices and marketing rules and regulations in conformity with a program to be adopted by the commission with the advice of its general counsel."

This is the second collapse of coal price fixing schemes dictated by Lewis, who is president of the United Mine Workers and chairman of the C. I. O. Both schemes were sponsored by Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.] at the instance of Lewis, who is a formidable power in Pennsylvania politics.

The first coal price fixing structure fell when the Supreme court held the first Guffey act unconstitutional in President Roosevelt's first term. After the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt, in which the campaign funds raised by Lewis played a conspicuous part, the C. I. O. chieftain demanded new price fixing legislation.

Commission Hand Picked.

Under pressure by the President, congress enacted the second Guffey price control law drafted along lines which were deemed proof against attack in the courts.

A commission composed mainly of politicians picked by Guffey and Lewis was set up and proceeded to fix minimum prices which it was estimated would raise the cost of fuel to consumers more than 100 million dollars a year. After the operators had collected enormously increased profits they were to divide with the miners by signing agreements increasing wages, according to the project visualized by Lewis.

Eventually the scale of fixed minimum prices was promulgated last Dec. 16. It was greeted almost at once with a storm of protests. The price structure was shot through with discrimination against states and districts not favored by possessing friends in the commission. Illinois, which has no member in the price fixing body, was one of the victims of the discrimination.

Opens Bar Without Bottle, Glass or Even Brass Rail

"Come down into the basement, boys, and see the new bar," said Justice of the Peace Ralph H. Fjellman. The boys followed him down the stairs of his home at 4718 Oakton street, Niles Center, yesterday. "I can't see a thing, but I haven't had a drop—yet," said one. "O, I forgot to tell you," said Fjellman, "it's not that kind of bar. It's a bar of justice—my new courtroom." He turned on the lights and so it was.

SINGLE EXPERT NAMED TO FORCE TRACTION UNITY

Walter Shaw Picked by U. S. Court.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday centralized the responsibility for the preparation of a unified traction plan in the hands of Walter A. Shaw, engineer and the court's traction adviser, and placed the power of the federal court behind an order that something be done to end Chicago's ancient traction muddle within six weeks. The engineer was ordered to report by April 5.

The judge instructed Shaw to attempt at once to get the opposing traction interests to agree on a plan for a unified transportation system. If that effort fails the engineer was told to formulate a plan of his own and report it to the court which, under pending court proceedings, has supervision of both the elevated and surface lines systems.

Will Begin Work At Once.

Under this new procedure, Shaw will occupy a position similar to that held by the late Walter L. Fisher, attorney and traction expert, in the working out of the discarded 1930 ordinance and consolidation agreement.

Shaw said he would begin his work at once. It is expected that he will contact principals in the traction matter, preparatory to mapping out a program for conducting hearings in accordance with the court's instructions.

Shaw, a consulting engineer, has had extensive experience in corporate reorganization and local transportation affairs. He was a member of the Illinois utilities commission from 1914 to 1921 and served as the city's representative on the surface lines board of supervising engineers from 1923 to 1934.

Adviser in Utilities Case.

Shaw had an important part in the reorganization of the Middle West Utilities company, acting as Judge Wilkerson's adviser. He served as a director of the successor concern, Middle West corporation, during the organization period. He held several positions in city engineering departments from 1893 to 1905. He was born in Mt. Morris, Ill., 71 years ago.

Judge Wilkerson's determined effort to force a settlement of the local transportation issue, particularly that phase involving unification of the Chicago Surface Lines and the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines], follows the failure of company representatives to work out a consolidation agreement.

Shaw, in a recent recommendation to the court, advised that if a corporate consolidation of the systems cannot be worked out then a plan for unified operation should be drawn up, using the recently announced plan of Mayor Kelly for modernization and extension as the basis of the program.

Consult Council and Commission.

Judge Wilkerson instructed Shaw to consult with city and state agencies which will have to approve steps in the settlement. These include the city council, which will have to approve the ordinance, and the Illinois commerce commission, which will have to authorize issuance of new securities by reorganized companies.

"Nothing can be accomplished unless the court and those agencies act together in the public interest," Judge Wilkerson said. "Having in mind the magnitude of the problem, its difficulties, and the urgent need for prompt action, it is inconceivable that there can be any relation except that of complete harmony and coöperation among those to whom the public is looking for relief.

"Mr. Shaw will hold hearings and receive the suggestions of the parties to those proceedings. He will be furnished with accounting and engineering data and other records which he may request. He and his assistants will attempt to bring the parties to the proceedings and the city to an agreement, but in any event he will report to the court the essential points of a plan and proposed ordinance which he is prepared to recom-

CLASPING HIS HANDS TO KEEP HIM FROM SHOOTING

Hours Annoy 6,500 on WPA; Talk of Strike

Because half their number have to get up too early in the morning to be at work on time and the other half get home too late at night, the 6,500 men employed on a Works Progress administration project at the Chicago airport are threatening to strike. The men circulated a petition yesterday, and spokesmen said the strike may be called today.

"It's a lot to expect of a man—getting him out of a warm bed at 4:30 these cold winter mornings—for $66 a month," protested one of the early workers yesterday. "That's the hour I climb out into the dark to get here at 6 a. m."

Pressure from Home.

"You've got something there, partner," agreed a second as he leaned on a shovel. "But it's even worse for me. My missus gives me dirty looks every night for getting home at 7:30—but what are you gonna do when you have to work from noon to 6?"

The WPA workers have been laying tiles and preparing runways since Dec. 17 so that the northern half of the airport can be used as a landing field. Leaders of the strike movement said that almost every worker on the project had responded favorably to the petition.

Complaints started after the present double shift was begun on the project on Feb. 16. Until then the men had worked an eight hour day—from 8 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. But, with the addition of more men to the project, there were too many to work efficiently when all reported at the same time. For this reason WPA engineers divided the force into two shifts—one working from 6 a. m. until noon, the other from noon until 6 p. m. The workers demand a return to the single shift.

Find Fewer Men Did More.

City officials also wish to reinstate the single shift. They say that under the old arrangement, and with less men on the job, more was accomplished than the 6,500 men now are able to do in two shifts. For a while there was talk of a third shift, but this was vetoed with the assertion that three shifts would get nothing done at all.

A. J. Haines, WPA superintendent on the project, said yesterday he had heard strike talk, but that he had not been approached by any committee for the men. He asserted that a great deal of work had been done despite adverse conditions.

Laying Sewers in Field.

Most of the men have been laying sewers to drain the field, which meant digging in frozen ground. More than 26,000 out of 55,000 linear feet of tile for the entire job has now been installed, he said, and the hardest work has been completed.

Walter Wright, superintendent of parks, aviation, and recreation for the city, said last night he had heard of grumblings among the workers at the airport, but was convinced there would be no strike. He said that if the work continues at its present rate the airport expansion program would be completed on June 1.

JILTED LOVER WRINGS WEDDING BILLS ($681) OUT OF EX-SWEETIE

TURIN, Italy, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A Turin court today ordered Rina Boffa to pay back the sweetheart she jilted on the eve of their marriage for expenses he incurred.

The girl said she refused to go through with the wedding because Antonio Chiorino misrepresented his financial condition.

The court said that wasn't a good excuse and ordered her to pay Antonio 4,600 lire for their engagement ring, 8,500 lire for a fur piece, and 520 lire for wedding announcements, a total of about $681.

STORY OF MONEY, GOOD WILL, AND BROTHERLY LOVE

As the Wisconsin sheriff told it to Chicago police yesterday, there was little or no good will toward men in the heart of John Charles Evans last Dec. 22 when he attended a Christmas party at the Pilot Knob school house, in Adams county.

John Charles, who is 24 years old and lives currently at 451 North Cicero avenue, Chicago, said the sheriff is stretching it a little. He had good will for all men except one—an Ed Hollman—who, he insists, owes him money.

That is why, John Charles told police yesterday, he left the Yuletide gathering and dropped enough rubbish into the gas tank to put Hollman's car out of commission. The young man, who comes from that part of Wisconsin, is not under arrest, but readily went back there with the sheriff, whose name is Frank Hollman.

O, yes, the sheriff is Ed's brother.

Seize Ex-Prof and 4 Others in Nazi Clashes

Chicago Nazi Storm Troopers saw action last night and two Nazi sympathizers with three anti-Nazis—two of whom are in their teens—saw the inside of a jail.

The action occurred at the Germania club, 108 Germania place, where G. W. Kunze addressed 1,000 persons in the interest of Nazism and the German-American bund, of which he is director of public information. Dressed in the brown uniform of a Hitler Storm Trooper and surrounded by twelve guards similarly uniformed, Kunze assailed the Jews and advocated Fascism.

Newspaper Camera Smashed.

On his way to the hall Kunze had seen one of his followers smash the camera of a newspaper photographer, but he appeared unconcerned by the incident. Nevertheless, as Kunze spoke Supervising Captain Joseph Goldberg of the north side police was ordering 12 patrolmen and three squads to the hall.

At the close of the Kunze harangue, which was given in English and German, an open forum was held. From the back of the hall came the question: "If Nazism has divine guidance and is helped by the Lord, why are the churches all opposed to it?" Kunze ignored this and it was repeated. Police intervened after shouts.

Former Professor Seized.

The questioner was charged with disorderly conduct. He is Dr. Erich von Schroetter, former professor of languages at the University of Chicago and Northwestern university and now editor of an anti-Nazi magazine.

The meeting was brought to close shortly after this incident with a salute to the Nazi flag, which hung beside the Stars and Stripes. John Fisher, 18 years old, 2936 North Major avenue, and Ray Pauly, 15 years old, of 4242 North McVickers avenue, refused to salute.

William Wernicke, 6250 Wayne avenue, then tried to force them to do so, they told police. They resisted vigorously and during the scuffle that followed all three were arrested. Wernicke, the boys, and Von Schroetter will be arraigned today in the Boys' court and Horitz will face Judge Oscar Caplan in the Felony court.

Boom McNutt at Gala Fete; He Only Grins

INDIANA DELICACIES.

A list of the sumptuous viands spread on the buffet table at Commissioner McNutt's reception in Washington yesterday is given in a story on page 2.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The nation's capital today and tonight was treated to an extravaganza in which Paul Vories McNutt of Indiana was launched on a campaign for the Democratic nomination for President. Nothing like it ever has occurred before in the memory of veteran capital residents.

From his arrival this morning until a $7,500 reception ended tonight, the United States high commissioner to the Philippines moved in an atmosphere reminiscent of the hysterical tension of the last days of a presidential campaign. Both farce and tragedy were present in the day's proceedings.

The tragedy to McNutt's fervent boosters laid in the fact that the administration snubbed the boom.

Roosevelt Is Absent.

Both President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James A. Farley were unable to attend the reception because of absence from the city and the report was that they purposely had left town to avoid being present. Of the administration family, only two cabinet members showed up. They were Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper and Attorney General Homer Cummings.

More than 4,000 had been invited, and by count of clockers [provided by the Indiana organization] 3,341 stood in line to shake the hand of McNutt and United States Senator and Mrs. Sherman Minton of Indiana, who stood beside him.

A large proportion of these well wishers were gate crashers who came to sample a buffet supper and liquid refreshments. Both were provided on a scale which amazed the most seasoned party goers.

Reception in Mayflower Hotel.

The reception was held in the ballroom of the Mayflower hotel and overflowed into the thirty-three suites engaged by the Indiana boosters. McNutt stood from 4 p. m. until 7 p. m. under the blinding and burning glare of lights with a battery of moving picture cameras focused upon him. The cranks turned whenever a celebrity appeared.

During the first two hours, there were long awkward pauses when no one waited in line. The former governor of Indiana kept a fixed smile upon his tanned, handsome face. Two Indianans, Representative Louis Ludlow and Representative William H. Larrabee, endeavored to help out by mustering their wives and relatives in the receiving line time after time. The watching crowd was convulsed with laughter as the announcer bellowed out the names of Ludlow and Larrabee at five minute intervals.

But there was a real mob scene in

CHINESE PLANES HOP SEA; CITIES WARNED OF RAID

8 Slain, 30 Wounded in Formosa Attack.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Feb. 24 [Thursday].—The Domei [Japanese] news agency today reported that twelve Chinese bombing planes, accompanied by pursuit planes, were approaching Kyushu, one of the main Japanese islands.

Kyushu, southernmost of the main Japanese group, is 750 miles north of the island of Formosa, which a fleet of Russian made planes from Hankow, China, raided yesterday, killing at least eight persons and wounding thirty.

The approach of the Chinese planes was reported from Fukuoka defense headquarters.

Sighted At High Altitude.

It was said the planes were sighted flying eastward at a high altitude and apparently came from some Chinese city near Hangchow, Japanese held city 125 miles southwest of Shanghai.

The raiders would have to cross 550 miles of the Yellow sea to reach Kyushu from China and fly 575 miles farther to reach Tokio. Such a flight and return would total 2,250 miles.

[Long distance non-stop flights by United States army and navy bombers have been made frequently. Six army "flying fortress" bombers now are returning from a good-will trip to South America, during which they flew 2,695 miles nonstop from Miami, Fla., to Lima, Peru. The navy's record for distance mass flight is 3,085 miles made by 12 patrol bombers from Coco Solo, Panama, to San Diego, Cal.]

Raid Warnings Sounded.

Nagasaki, Kyushu's principal port, with a population of 211,000 and the departure point of most of the Japanese soldiers now fighting in China, was warned of the approaching planes. Air raid warnings were sounded throughout north Kyushu and also in Yamaguchi province, across the straits from Kyushu.

News of the approach caused great excitement in Tokio, where the population of more than 6,000,000 was made conscious of the perils of air attack by air defense maneuvers which began yesterday in the Tokio-Yokohama area.

Before yesterday's raid on Formosa, which was the first time in history that Japanese territory had been bombed from the air, the Japanese public had been led to believe that Japanese air forces had complete command of the air in China.

Planes Return After Raid.

Japanese reports said the raid on Formosa was carried out by twelve planes. Chinese reports asserted that "thirty-six to seventy" planes participated, flying 600 miles from Hankow, dropping their bombs, and returning to Hankow without the loss of a plane.

[Hankow recently has admitted the arrival of many Russian made planes and the formation of a "foreign legion" of pilots.]

Taihoku, Formosa's capital, and Shinchiku, on the western coast, were attacked an hour apart. The first attack on the capital was made about 11 a. m. The objective, apparently, was the airdrome.

Report 10 Bombs Dropped.

Ten bombs were dropped, Japanese reports said, "hitting private houses and causing several casualties among women and children."

[Chinese reports said two hangars, forty planes, and gasoline supplies were destroyed.]

Gerald Warner, the American consul at Taihoku, said a brick factory was blown up near the airport. None of the eleven Americans on the island was hurt.

An air raid warning was sounded for all of Formosa and citizens responded quickly when the attacking planes appeared a second time. This time Japanese planes took off and drove them away.

Escape Anti-Aircraft Guns.

The attacking planes flew so high on the first trip that anti-aircraft shells could not reach them. Anti-aircraft guns prevented them from making power dives to aim their bombs, however, the reports said.

The attack on Shinchiku was carried out by twelve planes an hour after the raid on the capital, the Japanese report said. It was said several civilians were killed at nearby Chikuto.

The island of Formosa was ceded to Japan by China in 1895, and most of its 5,500,000 inhabitants are racially Chinese. The Japanese population of Formosa was only 271,000 in 1935, and most of them lived in Taihoku.

Shake Up Shanghai Command.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23.—Marking the beginning of the "second phase of hostilities" to realize Japan's objectives in China, the military high command in the Shanghai-Nanking-Hangchow area was shaken up today and new men put in the top positions.

Gen. Shunroku Hata, formerly inspector general of military education in Japan, replaced Gen. Iwane Matsui in command of all forces in the area.

Lieut. Gen. Prince Yashuhiko Asaka, commander of the Japanese force which captured Nanking on Dec. 13, and Lieut. Gen. Heisuke Yanagawa, whose forces captured Hangchow on Dec. 24, also were recalled by Tokio. Prince Asaka is a member of a collateral branch of the Japanese imperial house. The names of their successors were not announced.

Aim to Speed Up War.

The changes were made, a military announcement said, "to meet the new situation under the command of Gen. Hata." The new situation, it was admitted, is Chinese resistance which threatens a prolongation of the war.

[Gen. Matsui landed at Moji yesterday, much to the Japanese public's surprise, a Tokio dispatch said. An announcement, the first inkling to the Japanese people that Matsui even had left Shanghai, said that Matsui had made a triumphant return to Moji with his staf officers, including Lieut. Gen. Prince Asaka. It was said that because military operations still are going on an imperial carriage would not be sent to the general and his staf on their arrival in Tokio, as was the case on the triumphant return of Gen. Shigeru Honjo after Manchurian warfare.]

It has been known for some time that the war department in Tokio has been dissatisfied with the lack of progress in the Shanghai zone as well as the Lunghai railway zone of north central China.

Take Important River Town.

The Japanese today announced the capture of Menghsien, on the north bank of the Yellow river at the western end of the Lunghai zone. Japanese forces now are near the river all the way from Menghsien to Fengkiu. They menace the northern Honan province cities of Loyang, Chengchow, Kaifeng and Kweiteh, but thus far Chinese on the south bank of the river have prevented them from forcing a crossing.

On the "southern front" of the Lunghai corridor, the Chinese claimed to have wiped out most of the recent Japanese gains near Pengpu. Chinese troops have pushed their foes south of the Hwai river and within eight miles of Pengpu, it was said. Pengpu is an important point on the Tientsin-Pukow railway which crosses the Lunghai at Suchow.

The Japanese reported gains in Shansi province. One force advanced twenty miles from Luanfu to capture Tunliu.

CHEERS OF FORTY CLUB GREET PLEA FOR RULE BY LAW

Cheering members of the Forty club, which is more than half a century old, called for preservation of constitutional government last night at their dinner in the Chicago Athletic association quarters.

Lee D. Mathias, the speaker, said: "If you want to have a Hitler, a Mussolini, or a Stalin, then establish a government of bureaus and commissions instead of a government of laws." He proposed this resolution, which was adopted amid cheers:

"Let us solemnly dedicate ourselves to the task that the institutions established by Washington, vitalized by Marshall, and saved from destruction by Lincoln shall not be impaired."

BOMB GALESBURG HOTEL, FACTORY; HINT LABOR WAR

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Bombs exploded in a manufacturing plant and a hotel entrance and brickbats tonight were tossed through the windows of four mercantile establishments in what authorities believed an outbreak of labor trouble.

Sherif Elgin Ross said he had been informed two automobiles were seen hurrying from the Sharp hotel after a bomb had shattered the entrance lobby. Earlier a bomb was thrown through a window of the Churchill Manufacturing company plant. No one was hurt by the explosions. Windows of two garages and two stores were smashed by brickbats.

Chinese Air Raiders Over Japan

Dispatches from Tokio this morning said Chinese bombing and pursuit planes were nearing Japan from a city near Hangchow, possibly Ningpo. The air raid alarm was sounded only a few hours after Russian made planes had bombed the Japanese island of Formosa. The Formosa raid was conducted from Hankow. The raiders returned safely to Hankow after a 1,200 mile flight.

SMALL BUSINESS TOLD TO AMPLIFY VOICE IN AFFAIRS

Oak Park Group Urged to Unify Influence.

Citizens of America have the power to convey their opinions to their political representatives, but to solidify this influence and make it articulate the ordinary men and women must organize.

Such was the message given last night to 500 representatives of civic and service groups of Oak Park, gathered in the Oak Park club, by Merle H. Potter, head of Let's Do Something About It, Inc.

Goal Is Unity and Aid.

This organization, Potter explained, is not for profit. It was formed to marshal the small business and professional man, supply him with unbiased factual reports on his government, and organize his voice into an articulate mass.

"The voice of the ordinary men and women of America is absent in Washington," Potter declared, "yet they have the power of organizing themselves into a unit, of becoming interested in government, of becoming reliably informed, and of expressing their opinions to their representatives in government."

Points to Court Bill Defeat.

Potter, who is co-chairman of the retail merchandising division of the Oak Park Chamber of Commerce, recalled the national reaction to President Roosevelt's scheme to pack the United States Supreme court. He said the people, by successful protest, learned their power.

One of the dangers the nation now faces, Potter said, is that of increasing taxation to a point of diminishing purchasing power, creating fewer markets and fewer jobs.

Dr. Harry Stewart, a member of the advisory board, declared that ordinary home folks form one vital group with the power to make their opinions effective, but that they have been too busy making money.

FALLS TO DEATH FROM 16TH FLOOR OF HOTEL IN LOOP

Jacob Philipson, 59 years old, retired head of a tailoring concern, leaped or fell to his death last evening from the 16th floor of the Fort Dearborn hotel at 117 West Van Buren street. The body was found in an alley by a passerby.

Philipson engaged a room at the hotel shortly before the tragedy. In a waste basket, police found scraps of an uncompleted note they believe he had intended for his daughter, Mrs. Robert Lederer of 5488 Everett avenue. Philipson lived at 1117 Hyde Park boulevard with his wife.

Kennedy Off for London in Role of Ambassador

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Joseph P. Kennedy, newly appointed ambassador to Great Britain, sailed today on the Manhattan to present his credentials at the Court of St. James's. James Roosevelt, Sir Gerald Campbell, British consul general in New York, and Mrs. Kennedy were among those to wish him godspeed. Mrs. Kennedy, recuperating from a recent illness, will join her husband after several weeks. Before his departure Kennedy described himself "simply a babe thrown into a country to do the best I can."

GOV. DAVEY ACCUSER AT GRAFT QUIZ HELD ON PERJURY WARANT

Columbus, O., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The star witness before a senatorial graft investigating committee here was arrested today on a perjury warant sworn out by Gov. Martin L. Davey. The man is Lee Bradley, 57 years old, a Cleveland asphalt salesman.

The governor accused him of testifying falsely concerning alleged contributions to Davey's 1934 campaign made by utilities and motor car corporations. Bradley, who described himself as a former political contact man for the governor, asserted Davey bargained with manufacturers for contributions.

The senate committee turned its witness over to Police Chief L. G. Coriett of East Cleveland, who held the warant. An abridged transcript of Bradley's testimony will be released to the governor, the committee announced.

URGE U. S. SPEND 885 MILLIONS TO BETTER SCHOOLS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—A proposal that the federal government spend 855 million dollars in the next six years to help improve school facilities came today from an advisory committee chosen by president Roosevelt to study education conditions.

The President transmitted to congress the report of the group, which was headed by Floyd W. Reeves of the University of Chicago and included teachers, government officials, labor leaders, churchmen, and business men.

The committee recommended that the federal expenditures be made by grants to the states according to their financial needs. If schools are to be materially improved in the poorer states, it said, the share of the wealthy states must be limited.

CIO PRESIDENT OF LUMBERMEN MUST QUIT U. S.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The temporary visa on which Harold Pritchett, president of the C. I. O. International Lumber Workers of America, is in the United States will not be renewed, officials said tonight.

The American consul at Vancouver, B. C., has denied his request for a new visa.

Officials said the consul found Pritchett was not admissible under the laws governing entrance of foreigners and that Pritchett was found ineligible under the laws permitting residence in the United States.

INDIANANS BOOM M'NUTT AT $7,500 PARTY; HE GRINS

Denies He's Candidate for Public Office.

the last hour when the word went out about the magnificent provisions being provided for guests. McNutt was busy giving his stock greeting: "Gee! It's good to see you." To those he recognized, he added a warm "bless your heart!"

United States Senator Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana had said he would be present but didn't show up. The only prominent Democrat who appeared in the last hour was House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas. William Green, president of the Federation of Labor, arrived after the reception was over, but found McNutt and shook his hand.

McNutt subsequently was asked about reports that the federation was opposed to him. "There is nothing in my record to which any responsible labor official can object," he said.

Soon after he arrived, McNutt announced he was not a candidate for public office. His followers grinned and continued to shout "McNutt for President," whenever they glimpsed him.

Quizzed by Reporters.

At a press conference he was affable under a barrage of questions. Reporters were curious about the initiation of a presidential boom so long in advance of the conventions. Two years and three months will elapse before the parties get down to the business of selecting their nominees.

After he had declared that he was not a candidate and was devoting his "entire time, energy, and thought to American affairs in the Philippines," McNutt was asked:

"Won't this huge reception put you out on the limb as a candidate for the presidential nomination?"

The McNutt eyebrows shot up. He was quick in his reply.

Questioned About Colonel.

He was peppered with queries about the incident which has all political Washington talking—the transfer of Col. Davenport Johnson, who piloted a plane which sped McNutt from San Francisco to Denver to attend a political meeting. The punishment of Col. Johnson has been interpreted as a rebuff to McNutt's political ambitions by President Roosevelt, who, many observers believe, may be a candidate in 1940 for a third term.

McNutt spiritedly denied that the disciplining of Col. Johnson was a result of the flight in which he and Wayne Coy, his administrative assistant, were passengers.

"Both Coy and myself are war department employés," he declared. "When I arrived in San Francisco I asked the corps area commander for transportation to Denver. He informed me that a my airplane transportation would be available. I had never met Col. Johnson until I climbed into the plane. And I didn't order any one around."

Visits Secretary Woodring.

Later McNutt visited Secretary of War Harry Woodring. He emerged with the secretary and both answered "no comment" to all questions about the Johnson incident.

Woodring finally stated that there was no politics in the Johnson transfer from Hamilton Field, Cal., where he was field commandant, to Chanute Field, Ill., where he will be assistant commandant. In refusing to discuss the matter further, he said he was following a long established policy that the secretary of war should make no comment on army orders.

Eats and Drinks Dazzle Guests at McNutt Reception

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—With bulging eyes, more than 3,300 guests who attended High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's reception tonight surveyed a buffet table 75 feet long loaded with costly delicacies. The maitre d'hôtel who prepared the repast estimated its cost at $3,000. In another room was a table 100 feet long which carried huge bowls of rum punch and the ingredients for nearly 10,000 Martini and Manhattan cocktails.

Nothing like this display hitherto has been seen in Washington, according to veteran observers. The cost of the reception was placed at $7,500. Indiana officials in charge denied that expenses were met by contributions from the state's famous "two per cent club."

This is an organization composed of state employés who kick in two per cent of their yearly salaries to the state Democratic organization. The official explanation was that twenty-five friends of McNutt were footing the bill.

Among the pastry masterpieces were:

Large layer cakes adorned with the United States seal and the Indiana state seal.

Numerous baskets full of strawberry tarts.

In addition guests could choose from a great array of delicacies as listed. [For those whose curiosity is persistent, the reference marks will lead to clarifying details below]:

DIVORCEE TELLS WHAT SHE THINKS OF FATAL BRAWL

Mrs. Marie Gibson, 24 years old, a divorcee, who was the cause of a tavern brawl last June 23 in which a man was killed, said last night:

"The man who is dead was a stranger to me. I'd never seen him before and he had no business interfering in a fight."

Mrs. Gibson, a slim brunette, mother of a girl 6 years old, was arrested Tuesday night in her home at 4352 South Ashland avenue. Police had searched for her since the killing, which occurred in front of a tavern at 1221 Belmont avenue.

The victim, who was knocked down and fatally injured while trying to pacify several men quarreling over Mrs. Gibson's attentions, was Joseph Wendt, 1532 Oakdale avenue, a bricklayer. Andrew Stello, named by police as the man who struck Wendt, will go on trial on a manslaughter charge today before Judge Rudolph Desort in the Criminal court. Mrs. Gibson is expected to be a state witness.

Physician Ordered Held in Abortion Death Case

A coroner's jury yesterday ordered that Dr. Reuben Rush Lisse, 11420 South Michigan avenue, be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder by abortion. Mrs. Christina Woldrich, 2858 South Spaulding avenue, testified that her daughter, Emily, 25 years old, who died on Jan. 18, told her Dr. Lisse had performed an illegal operation for her on Jan. 6. The physician denied this, asserting that he had only attempted to save the life of the young woman.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO CARRY RELIEF TO JUNE

Gives WPA Free Hand with 250 Millions.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—By a vote of 67 to 1 the senate today passed the administration's 250 million dollar supplemental relief appropriation bill, providing additional funds to carry the Works Progress administration until June 30, the end of the current fiscal year. The measure now goes to conference with a committee from the house of representatives, because of senate amendments.

Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] was the only senator voting against the relief bill. He did so, presumably, because the senate rejected, by a vote of 47 to 25, his amendment requiring local sponsors of WPA projects to put up 25 per cent of the cost or else make a showing of insolvency.

With the 250 millions provided in the bill passed today, a total of 1 billion 993 millions will have been made available for the WPA for the current fiscal year. The relief appropriation act of 1937 provided a fund of 1 billion 500 millions and the WPA had on hand for the current fiscal year $243,400,000 in unexpended funds.

As of Feb. 1 the WPA and the National Youth administration had on hand an unobligated fund of 545 millions. The WPA contended, however, that it was unable to meet additional relief requirements, caused by the new depression, because of limitations in the 1937 appropriation act. The 1937 act made it necessary to apportion the funds in such a manner as to make them last throughout the fiscal year.

To Employ 2,500,000.

With the funds available, WPA employment could average only 1,700,000 from Jan. 1 through June 30, the WPA contended, whereas on Feb. 5 such employment had increased from a low of 1,450,000 in October to 1,945,000. With the additional appropriation of 250 millions, the WPA proposes to increase employment to 2,500,000 in March, and thereafter to decrease employment by approximately 100,000 a month until the end of June, when a figure of about 2,200,000 will be reached.

The bill passed by the house was subject to the same apportionment limitations as the 1937 act, but the senate removed these restrictions so that the WPA could apportion the 250 millions in any way it saw fit.

The house bill provided that no part of the 250 millions could be paid to aliens, except those who have declared their intention to become citizens and those who have resided in this country for ten years and are ineligible for citizenship. The senate struck out this amendment after hearing objections of veterans' organizations.

Citizens Come First.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars said the 1937 act gives preference to American citizens and prohibits employment of aliens who entered the country illegally. The house amendment, they argued, would make eligible for employment 3 million aliens who have been in the country for ten years or more and are ineligible for citizenship.

Before congress adjourns another relief appropriation for the 1939 fiscal year, beginning July 1, must be made. The amount of that appropriation remains to be determined by President Roosevelt. It is understood that he will ask for 1 billion dollars and then call for another supplemental appropriation next winter, after the congressional elections are over.

MARTA ROCAFORT.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Formal announcement will be made Sunday of the engagement of Marta Rocafort, recently divorced wife of the count of Covadonga, to E. H. [Tommy] Adkins, head of the Miami Beach police bureau of identification, it was disclosed today. Reports that they will wed were confirmed by Adkins father, Dr. E. H. Adkins, Miami Beach surgeon. Miss Rocafort was the second commoner wife of the count of Covadonga, son of the former king of Spain.

REFUSES TO DROP EMERY-FAHRNEY WILL CONTEST

Judge John Prystalski yesterday denied a motion to dismiss the suit which seeks to construe the will of Emery H. Fahrney and ordered that an answer be filed preparatory to trial.

Trustees of the $2,500,000 Fahrney estate want to determine the share of Peter Parker-Pickering Fahrney, 6 years old. The son of Merry Fahrney, he was adopted in 1933 by her father, Emery. Emery's will left him a $50,000 trust, and the rest of the estate to his widow and his children. Merry and her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Saeman, contend Peter should not be considered a child, but a grandson.

The same issue was raised recently in another suit over the $3,500,000 estate left by Emery's father, Dr. Peter Fahrney, founder of the Oak Park patent medicine fortune. The court ruled that baby Peter could not inherit with Merry and Myrtle as a grandson of Dr. Fahrney.

CHICAGO'S TWO HOSPITAL GROUPS ARE COMBINED

A merger of the Chicago Hospital association and the Chicago Hospital council was announced yesterday by E. I. Erickson, superintendent of Augustana hospital and president of the association. The association becomes the administrative section of the council and the consolidation will avoid duplication of work and lead to more efficiency, according to Dr. Arnold Emch, executive secretary of the council. Membership in the association was restricted largely to administrative heads of hospitals, while the council included superintendents, board presidents, and chiefs of staf. The council had 26 member hospitals; the association represented 43.

EXPECT COUNTY SLATEMAKERS TO NAME IGOE TODAY

Downstate Sponsors to Be on Hand to Make Sure.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The Cook county Democratic central committee will meet at the Hotel Morrison this afternoon to indorse a slate of candidates for six offices to be voted upon by the state as a whole. Every sign for weeks has pointed to the indorsement of District Attorney Michael L. Igoe of Chicago as the choice for United States senator.

In spite of this apparent certainty about the program, the downstaters who started the demand for Igoe and brought about his entry into the race are not taking any chances. They intend to be on hand to urge approval of their candidate. It was reported yesterday that their delegation will include representatives from nearly all of the 101 downstate counties.

Confident of Indorsement.

Thomas P. Sinnett of Rock Island, former majority leader of the Illinois house of representatives, who will lead the downstaters as chairman of the committee that assembled 75,000 signatures on Igoe petitions, said he was confident of the Cook county indorsement.

Patrick A. Nash, chairman of the county committee, returned to Chicago yesterday from Florida. As usual, he kept himself in strict privacy, but he surprised many by directing that the meeting this afternoon be held in the limited quarters of the bungalow on top of the hotel. It was understood the chief reason for the selection was a plan to keep out newspaper men, as was done when the committee secretly voted to drop County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki from the county slate. It is probable that the bungalow will prove inadequate for the crowd expected today.

Support Igoe in State.

The certainty felt that Igoe will be indorsed extends to the rest of the ticket scheduled for approval. The choices for congressman at large are one of the incumbents, Lewis M. Long of Sandwich, and John C. Martin of Salem, the present state treasurer. Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis has been selected for state treasurer. Ald. Walter J. Orlikoski of Chicago will be slated for clerk of the state Supreme court, and John A. Wieland of Calumet City, the present superintendent of public instruction, will be indorsed for renomination.

The opposition Democratic state ticket supported by Gov. Horner and State's Attorney Courtney, on an issue of downstate versus Chicago, will open its campaign tonight at Decatur. Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, the candidate for senator, will be the principal speaker.

Grandmother Is Ordered to Bring Twins, 3, to Court

Judge Donald S. McKinlay yesterday ordered Mrs. Augusta Halberg, 6340 Wayne avenue, to bring her twin granddaughters, Barbara and Josephine, 3 years old, to court today. Her son, George, 37, of 5826 Fulton street, charged that she refused to give up the children after he left home June 6 and remarried. The mother of the twins is dead.

Next morning Bas was attacked by terrorists who clubbed him with a blackjack and a pistol at Clark street and Delaware place.

5 FLYING FORTS LAND AT LIMA ON GOOD WILL TOUR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 23.—The first of five "flying fortresses" of the United States air corps arrived over the Lima airport at 4:45 o'clock [3:45 Chicago standard time] this afternoon from Santiago, Chile. It circled the city until four other United States good will planes arrived and landed.

One of the six planes spent the night at Arica, Chile, because of motor trouble. The six will leave Friday morning for Panama. The captains were entertained tonight at a dinner in the United States embassy and other officers were dinner guests of the United States naval attaché.

FIND OLD AGE BENEFITS SENT TO DEAD MEN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The social security board heard from its investigators today that benefit checks had gone out to dead men because of loose administration of Oklahoma's old age pension plan.

The board, considering cutting off federal funds for Oklahoma, is conducting a public hearing on reports of maladministration of the state plan.

Board investigators also charged that pensions totaling $685,121 had been paid out without proper proof of the pensioners' eligibility.

GOV. CHANDLER ANNOUNCES HE'S IN SENATE RACE

Barkley's Seat His Goal; Names Manager.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Gov. Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky formally announced tonight his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. His main opponent in the August, 1938, primary election will be the incumbent, Alben W. Barkley of Paducah, senate majority leader.

Friend of President.

The governor indicated he would seek to confine the campaign to himself and Senator Barkley and state issues, and would not make President Roosevelt and his administration an issue.

"I am President Roosevelt's friend," he said. "President Roosevelt hasn't had any trouble in Kentucky since I've been governor."

The governor announced selection of Brady Stewart, county judge of McCracken county, Barkley's home, as his state campaign manager. Stewart managed Chandler's gubernatorial campaign in McCracken county in 1935.

Calls Barkley Stranger.

The governor sharply criticized Barkley, referring to him as "a stranger to the state" and a man who "has given Kentucky the absent treatment." He promised that if elected he would "represent Kentuckians."

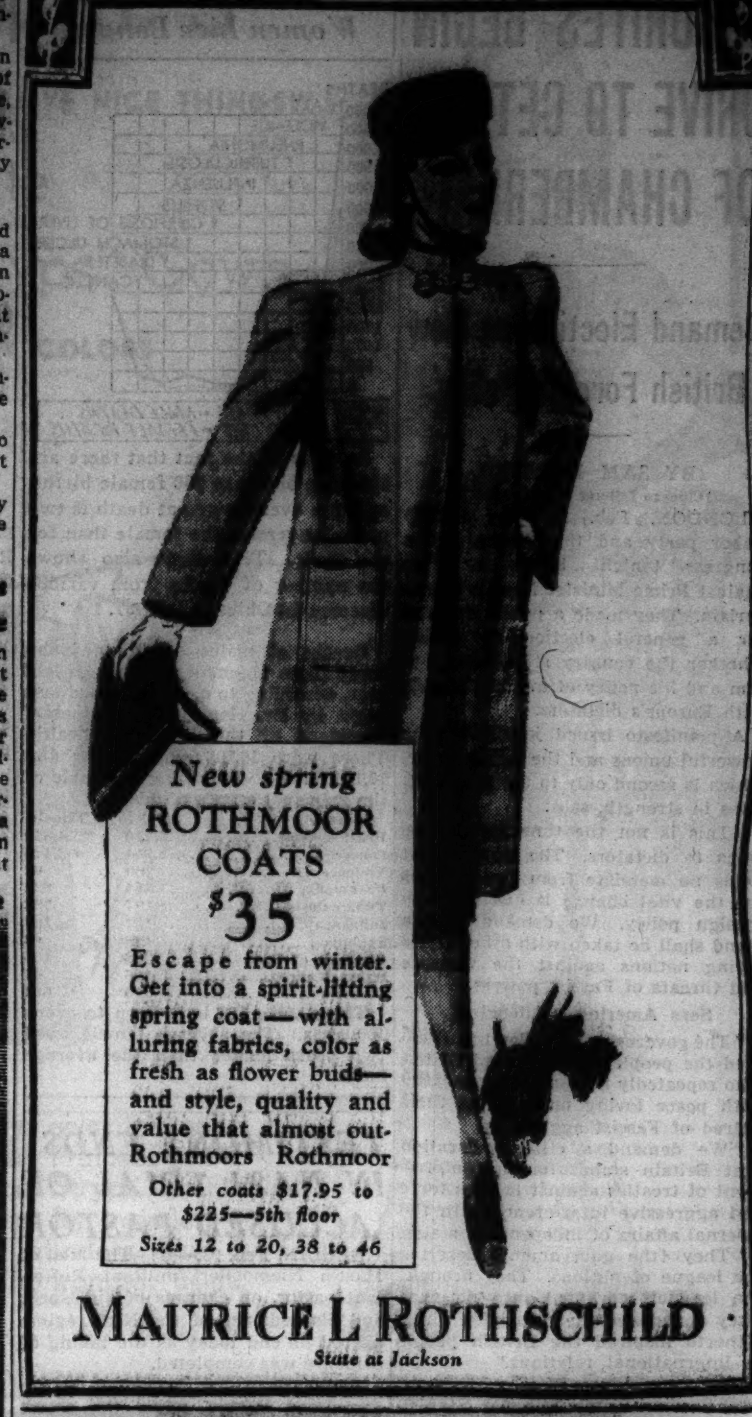

Recalling his gubernatorial campaign promises three years ago, he said:

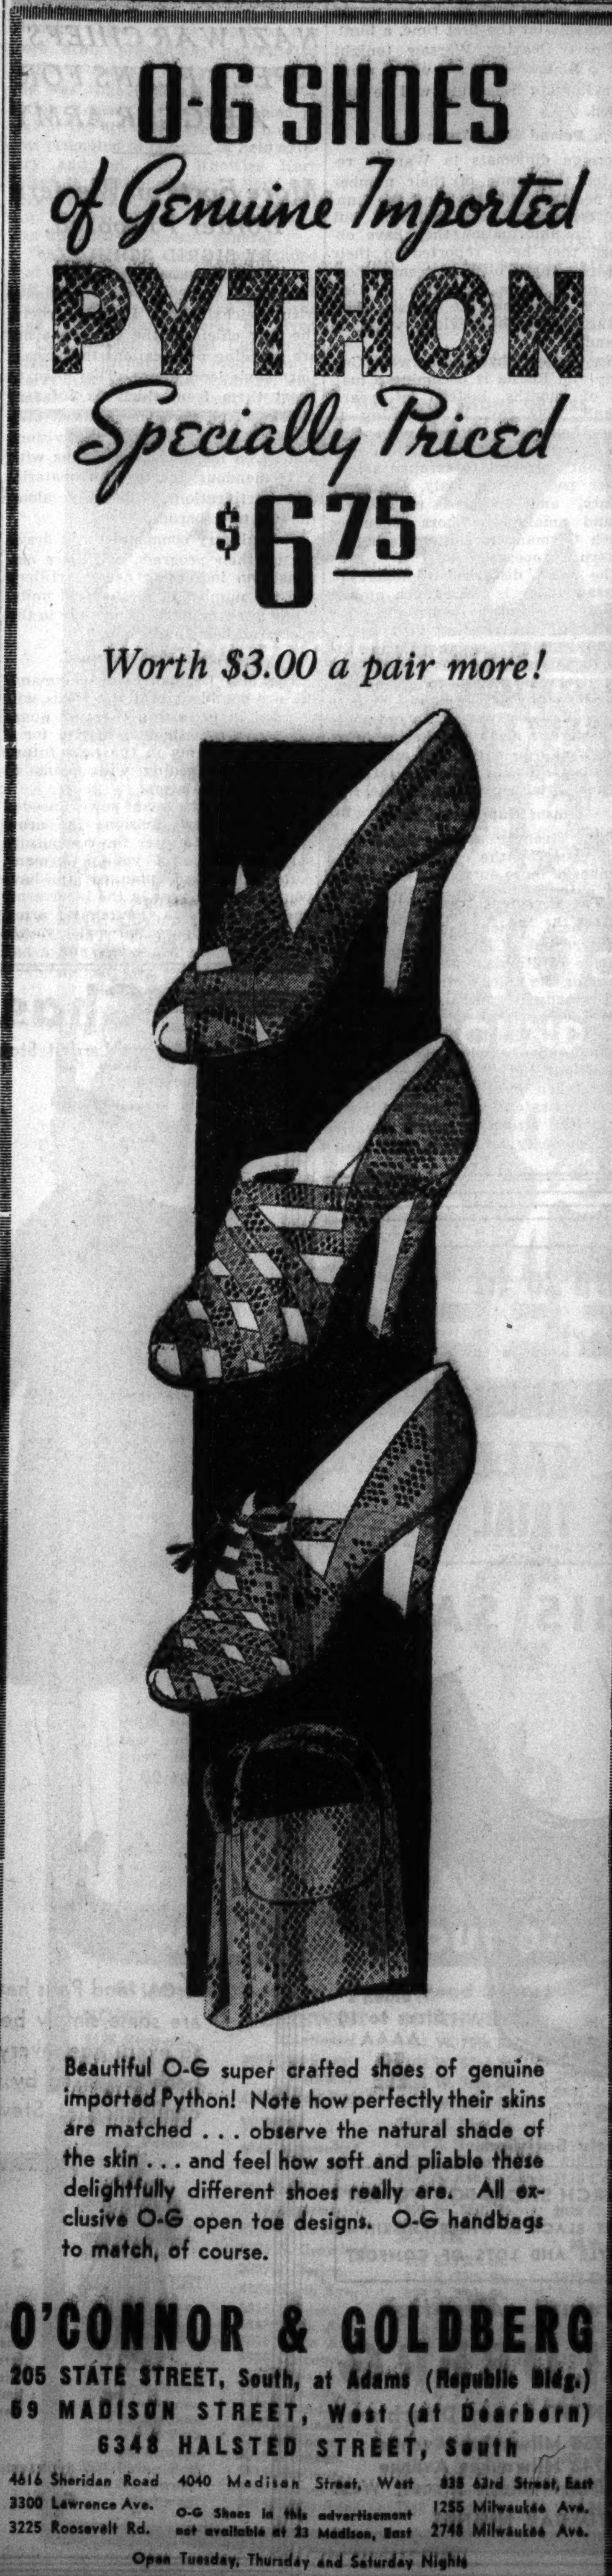

"We have set up the machinery to pay off the state debt, and have left the state in good order.

"We've got to undertake to pay the national debt and reorganize the national government," he added.

LABORITES BEGIN DRIVE TO GET RID OF CHAMBERLAIN

Demand Election on New British Foreign Policy.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The British Labor party and the Trades Union congress tonight began a drive against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. They made a public demand for a general election to decide whether the country still is back of him and his policy of making friends with Europe's dictators.

A manifesto issued jointly by the powerful unions and the Labor party, which is second only to the Conservatives in strength, said:

"This is not the time for concessions to dictators. The government holds no mandate from the electors for the vital change it has made in foreign policy. We demand that a stand shall be taken with other peace loving nations against the violence and threats of Fascist powers.

Sees Americans Alienated.

"The government's policy has alienated the people of the United States, who repeatedly have shown sympathy with peace loving nations and their hatred of Fascist aggression.

"We demand a clear declaration that Britain stands for the enforcement of treaties against lawless force and aggressive interference with the internal affairs of independent states.

"They [the government] deserted the league of nations. They brought the league's covenant into derision. They abandoned the principles which hitherto inspired the British people in international relations."

The Labor opposition pointed out that former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, Chamberlain's predecessor, won the last election largely through the support of Capt. Anthony Eden, who was scrapped as foreign secretary, and a promise that Britain's foreign policy would be based on collective security.

Want Nation to Speak.

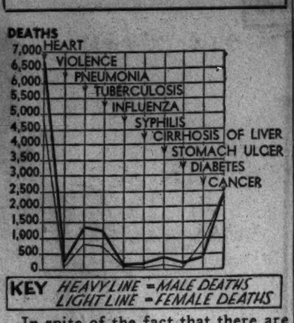

"Chamberlain has announced that this policy has been abandoned," said labor leaders. "Consequently he should go to the country on the question of approbation or dismissal."

Laborites have accused Chamberlain's government of planning a surprise election this spring to insure retention of office before the country turns against it. They feel that the best hope of beating Chamberlain is to take advantage of the powerful wave of indignation aroused by Eden's virtual dismissal to meet Italy's terms for a "now or never" settlement of differences.

Meanwhile Chamberlain began directing the new foreign policy, with Viscount Halifax, lord president of the council, as a figurehead in the post of foreign secretary. Halifax, it was reported, has decided to accept the nomination as foreign secretary on the condition that it be terminated at the end of the Anglo-Italian negotiations which probably will be opened in Rome next week.

The earl of Perth, British ambassador to Rome, is en route to London to get instructions for negotiations with the Italians. The cabinet discussed these instructions today.

Women Live Longer

In spite of the fact that there are 106 male births to 100 female births, still the average age at death is two years longer for the female than for the male. This chart also shows the number of deaths from various diseases in Chicago in 1937.

Deaths of males greatly outnumbered those of females in Chicago last year, according to a report issued last night by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health. There were 13,108 male deaths and 10,135 female. Following is a table of the principal causes of death:

Cause—	Male.	Female.
Heart disease	6,719	4,830
Cancer	2,354	2,424
Violence	260	63
Pneumonia	1,384	824
Tuberculosis	1,197	782

TESTIMONY ENDS IN NAZI TRIAL OF ACCUSED PASTOR

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The trial of Martin Niemoeller, militant Protestant pastor, on charges of disrespect and disobedience of the Nazi régime neared its end today as the taking of evidence was completed.

Summations are expected to be completed Friday, when the secret court will adjourn until Monday. The verdict probably will be given at a public session at that time.

It was disclosed the state has withdrawn all charges of treason and political plotting against the pastor, who led the Protestant opposition to the Nazi church program.

He is now charged only with "speaking disparagingly of leading personages" and "positive resistance against orders not to read from the pulpit names of persons canceling their church membership."

HUNGARY OFFERS TO PAY HER WAR DEBT TO AMERICA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Hungary announced today that she had offered the United States "one hundred cents on the dollar of her original indebtedness, to be paid off in one generation."

Hungarian Minister John Pelenyi, in a formal statement issued on behalf of his government, said Hungary had proposed to this government:

That the original principal [$1,685,000] of the post-war debt, less the amount already paid on principal and interest [$478,000], or $1,207,000, be paid in full in a series of annuities.

The annuities would be about $39,000 per year for approximately 30 years and take the form of noninterest-bearing notes falling due at specified dates.

POLISH-GERMAN ALLIANCE FORMS AGAINST RUSSIA

Goering's Luncheon Visit Sets Warsaw Buzzing.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Feb. 23.—An alliance of Germany and Poland against Russia began to take definite shape today when Field Marshal Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany lunched in Warsaw castle. With him were President Ignace Moscicki of Poland, Field Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, "strong man" of the Polish army, and Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister.

Goering's appearance in Warsaw for the first visit abroad since his appointment as field marshal in Reichsfuehrer Hitler's army shakeup on Feb. 4 created much excitement in Poland. The foreign office announced today that Beck also would accompany, for the first time, a hunting party leaving Warsaw tonight for the Bialowiecz forest, where plans for a Russian bear hunt will be continued.

Poland More Amenable.

Foreign diplomats in Warsaw regretted that none of their number had been invited to attend the hunters' conference near Bialystok, but from the information they have obtained they have reported to their countries that Polish statesmen now are much more amenable to Germany's plans against Russia than during Goering's previous visits to Poland.

They believe that war between Germany and Russia is becoming a matter of months instead of years. Poland, they say, is hastening to strengthen her relations with Germany, fearing that the British government's attempt to arrange a four power pact among Italy, Germany, France, and England may leave Poland among the hors d'oeuvres which Germany is contemplating in eastern Europe.

The most disturbed diplomat in Warsaw today is the French ambassador. The Polish opposition press is utilizing the Goering visit ironically to remind France that during the last three years she has lent Poland well over $100,000,000 to strengthen her as an ally of Germany. Opposition leaders declare that Poland never must permit herself to become Germany's ally in a military adventure and attack Beck's policy of intimate friendship with the Nazi régime.

Censor Suppresses Foes.

Even stronger articles have been suppressed by the censorship and a number of more outspoken enemies of the present government have been sent to Bereza Kartushka concentration camp, which has the severest penal régime of any such institution outside of Russia.

Among the Poles distrust and hatred of Germany is general, and as a visitor Goering is about as popular in Warsaw as Premier Mussolini would be in London. Police reserves were called out in extraordinary precautions taken by the government for Goering's safety, and during his stay the street on which the German embassy is located was closed to trafic.

Chancellor of Austria to Tell Why He Surrendered to Hitler

VIENNA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Police precautions were redoubled in Austria tonight as nervousness mounted on the eve of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's speech explaining his side of the new Austro-German agreement.

Increased security measures resulted from fear of even greater political demonstrations following the speech than have been staged since Schuschnigg and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler met at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, Feb. 12.

Seven foreign countries, including the United States, arranged to broadcast the speech scheduled before the government diet at 7 p. m. [noon central standard time].

May Proclaim Plebiscite.

Schuschnigg is expected to relate, as Hitler did in his speech at Berlin last Sunday, events leading up to the agreement which compelled the Austrian chancellor to admit Nazi influence into his cabinet after four years of opposition to the Nazis. It was said, the chancellor might proclaim a plebiscite to ascertain his strength in the present turmoil.

The Fatherland Front, sole legal political party in Austria, was planning a torchlight parade and a source close to the Nazis declared Nationalists and Nazis planned counter action, despite a ban on political demonstrations.

It was explained the Nazis felt the ban on gatherings, other than those of the Fatherland Front, were aimed only against the Nazis, who were highly incensed.

Rivals Plan Common Parade.

At Linz, a city of 50,000 on the Danube, 98 miles from Vienna, the Fatherland Front members and Nazis planned a common parade.

The Fatherland Front arranged for radio receiving sets at convenient gathering places throughout the country for Schuschnigg's broadcast. Many theaters will be closed. Flags already were appearing in profusion under mayors' orders.

A resolution supporting Schuschnigg in the crisis arising from the pact has been signed by 1,000,000 Austrian workers. One interpretation was that this was a move by Socialists, monarchists, and Jewish sympathizers to pool their forces against the feared advance of Nazi power in Austria.

NAZI WAR CHIEFS SPEED PLANS FOR A BIGGER ARMY

More Forts on Western Border Proposed.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—In compliance with Reichsfuehrer Hitler's orders, the new chiefs of the German army are speeding preparations to increase Germany's land forces. They plan to boost them from thirty-six infantry divisions and three mechanized divisions to forty-five infantry divisions and seven mechanized divisions with a tremendous increase in material and fortifications, especially along the western border.

The military commanders, in drawing up their program, will place emphasis on increasing heavy artillery and the number of mechanized units. Many infantry divisions now are in the process of being motorized.

Synthetic Fuel Planned.

The new German army commanders are confident that the Nazis will succeed in producing the vast quantities of synthetic fuel needed for a mechanized army in the near future and are proceeding with plans to mechanize the army.

To obtain the man power needed to fill the new divisions the army chiefs intend to alter the compulsory service periods of young Germans. Authorities had planned to have youths serve a year in the labor army and two years in the regular army. It is now proposed to make youths of military age serve two and a half years in the army and a half year in the labor service.

Examine Men for Service.

Germans who still hold wartime military passes have been ordered to return them in exchange for "national defense passes." Men returning the passes are being examined by military authorities and the branch of service for which they still are physically fit is inscribed in their new passes.

Officers said they expected that passes for men of the classes between 1900 and 1914 who have not done full military service will be called to the colors soon for a shorter period of service.

ASSAILS HITLER AND QUITS JOB IN U. S. EMBASSY

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Assailing Hitlerism as fundamentally anti-German and anti-Christian and picturing the Nazi régime as anti-Christ and the enemy of western civilization, Dr. Ernest Wilhelm Meyer, for sixteen years a member of the German diplomatic service, tonight announced his resignation as first secretary of the German embassy in Washington. He had served in that city for six years.

"Hitler and his régime have betrayed what I knew to be the lasting interests of the German fatherland," said Dr. Meyer. "I could no longer conscientiously serve a government which I saw to be the foe of so many things I had been taught Germany stands for. The moral law and loyalty to the true German make surrender to national socialism impossible. I cannot do otherwise, whether as a German or as a Christian."

HITLER THREAT SPEEDS CZECH DEFENSE PLANS

Ready for Sudden Attack, Says Army Chief.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia is ready to defend herself against sudden attack without waiting for outside help, the chief of the general staf said today.

Gen. Krejci.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The republic's whole defense plan, Gen. Ludwig Jan Krejci explained, is based on realizations that wars now begin without declarations and move with swiftness.

He did not mention Germany, but there has been uneasiness here since Sunday when Chancellor Adolf Hitler proclaimed protection of German minorities in central Europe.

Many In Bohemia.

Czechoslovakia lies next to Germany and has 3,250,000 Germans in her population. Nearly two-thirds of the Germans are in Bohemia.

It would be a long time before effective help could be expected from allies, Gen. Krejci said, adding that "our task is to hold off the enemy without outside help during the first phase of the fighting."

"For this purpose," he said, "a far flung system of fortifications is being erected along our borders. These should give our possible enemies reason to ponder whether plans of brutal aggression would have any chance of success."

Industrial Plans Shaped.

He said industry already was in shape to be put on a war basis on short notice and plans for wartime feeding of the population have been worked out.

The leaders steering Czechoslovakia through the present critical period are ready to give Germans, Hungarians, Poles, and other minorities every share in public and economic life short of autonomy.

A decree may be expected soon opening civil service and other government positions to each minority group in proportion to its numerical strength within the state. In addition, these groups are to enjoy cultural autonomy.

BODY FOUND ON TRACKS.

The mangled body of a man identified by clothing marks as Fred LaFever, 60 years old, 456 North Green street, was found yesterday on the Nickle Plate railroad tracks, seven miles west of Valparaiso, Ind.

PUSH NEW PLEA FOR CLEAR CUT FOREIGN POLICY

Speed Naval Program to Cost Billion.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—While plans for the billion dollar navy increase were being rushed and the navy was preparing for secret maneuvers from which the press will be barred, Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.] today returned to his attack on the President's foreign policy.

The President, with his proposal to quarantine aggressor nations, has been left away out on the end of the limb by the British government in proceeding to seek terms with Dictators Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler, as Mr. Johnson views it.

The California senator again demands in the name of American security what is Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy.

Think of Britain First.

Then Mr. Johnson suggests that perhaps it will become fashionable to think of America first now that the British are making a virtue of thinking of Britain first.

"It is none of our business," said Senator Johnson, "what England does in this peculiar crisis except in so far as it may influence our own policy. As I understand Mr. Hull [Secretary of State Cordull Hull], he has made it perfectly clear what our foreign policy is: He says, 'we will parallel the action of other democracies.'

"I fear that we will have a little difficulty doing this now since Mr. Chamberlain [Neville Chamberlain, England's prime minister] has moved off at a tangent and our parallelism has suffered something of a setback. Then again the President said in his Chicago speech: 'We are going to quarantine' these wretched nations. I don't think we will do that, now that Mr. Chamberlain is dealing with them.

"So I ask again, what is our foreign policy? I am confused and I am sure that my colleagues are somewhat amazed regarding it.

Doesn't Blame Chamberlain.

"I don't blame Mr. Chamberlain for acting as he has upon the information he doubtless possesses. He thinks first of the 'tight little isle,' its peace, progress, and prosperity. Idealism become with him, when the 'tight little isle' appears in jeopardy, a mere iridescent dream. No one can blame him. I hope no one blames those who are thinking in terms of America with this classic example before us [it has ever been the policy of England] for thinking of the United States alone, our peace, progress, and prosperity.

"This ocular demonstration of Mr. Chamberlain's attitude will make us very much more cautious in the future and I think there will be very many more who will want to know what the foreign policy of the United States is."

The forthcoming war maneuvers in the Pacific in which 150 warships and 50,000 officers and men will be engaged will be the most extensive and realistic ever undertaken by the navy, it was learned. The war games will furnish a test of the adequacy of the nation's Pacific defenses.

Newspaper Men Are Barred.

The secrecy order bars newspaper representatives from all the fighting craft which will maneuver over the Pacific from Alaska to Samoa and the Panama canal from the middle of March to late April.

The decision, the navy said, was made by Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson after conferences with Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of operations, and the fleet commander in chief, Admiral Claude C. Bloch.

The only explanation given was that fleet problem No. 19, to be worked out in six weeks of mock warfare, was "highly confidential."

Officers said that only once before have newspaper representatives been barred in recent years. That was in 1936, when Admiral Joseph M. Reeves was the commander in chief.

Limited to Interviews.

Publicity this year, the navy said, will be limited to interviews with Admiral Bloch before and after the war games.

Resuming his testimony before the house naval affairs committee on the billion dollar navy bill, Admiral William G. Du Bose, chief of naval construction, said it would cost 3 billion 200 million dollars to provide a separate fleet to defend the Atlantic coast. He said such a fleet would require 166 fighting ships costing about 2 billion 800 million dollars and 53 auxiliary vessels at a cost of approximately 400 million dollars.

Such a fleet, he said, could be built in about 10 years if the facilities at both navy and private shipyards were expanded sufficiently.

Admiral Du Bose said the fighting craft necessary for adequate defense in the Atlantic would include 12 battleships, 6 aircraft carriers, 17 heavy cruisers, 18 light cruisers, 77 destroyers and 36 submarines.

Provides Three Battleships.

The 20 per cent increase in naval strength being studied by the committee would give the navy only three more battleships and bring its total in this category to 18.

Committee Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] told reporters neither the administration nor the navy was giving any consideration to a separate Atlantic fleet.

"If we maintain the 5-5-3 ratio," the chairman said, "it is sufficient to defend both coasts from attack by any single power."

Spanish Rebels Open Drive Toward Mediterranean

(Story in adjoining column.)

BARE NEW PURGES AS RUSSIAN ARMY MARKS 20TH YEAR

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's Red army celebrated its 20th anniversary today in a blaze of martial spirit, accompanied by disclosure that purges had made further inroads among its officers.

A new vice commissar of defense appeared in the person of Gen. Ivan Fedko, former chief of staf in the far east and recently commander of the Kiev military district.

It was learned he has replaced A. I. Yegoroff, who succeeded Marshal Mihail Nikolaevitch Tukhachevsky as vice commissar when the latter was executed along with a group of other allegedly disloyal officers.

The secret execution of two former commanders of the soviet navy was disclosed in published versions of a speech by Commissar of War Klementi E. Voroshiloff. The two were Admiral Vladimir R. Orloff and Admiral A. K. Sivkoff. They, too, were called traitors.

Representatives of twenty concerns charged with violation of the city smoke ordinance have been asked to appear today before Frank A. Chambers, head of the department of smoke inspection and abatement. Twenty-two others have been cited to appear tomorrow.

MARCH TOWARD SEA STARTED BY SPANISH REBELS

Seek to Smash Through Loyalist Territory.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], Feb. 23.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent troops moved into positions on the Teruel-Valencia highway tonight to await a signal from Generalissimo Francisco Franco for a drive through government territory toward the Mediterranean sea.

The insurgents said their forces advancing from Teruel had progressed to El Castellar, 15 miles east and through Castralvo, three miles to the southeast. This would place the insurgent front line some 45 miles from the Mediterranean coast, between the key government cities of Valencia and Barcelona.

Loyalist Forces Intrenched.

Although strongly intrenched government forces stood between them and the coast, Franco's troops were said by military observers to be in a far better position to strike than before the government fighters took Teruel in December, only to lose the city again yesterday.

The new insurgent strength lay in the conquest of the Alfambra river valley, north of Teruel, where government mountain positions previously constituted a threat to left wing insurgent operations.

Government leaders declared on the other hand that the position of their forces, overlooking mountain passes nine miles southeast of Teruel, were ideal for defensive purposes and virtually were invincible. They took up the positions yesterday after evacuating the provincial capital, 160 miles east of Madrid.

Explore Teruel for Mines.

While Navarrese battalions held the insurgent front, Galician units reinforced defenses left by the government around Teruel, determined not to lose the provincial capital again.

Within the war scarred city mopping up operations proceeded while sappers continued to explore underground passages in search of mines believed to have been planted before the government troops withdrew.

Thousands of prisoners held temporarily in the city prison, bank, and other buildings were sent back to a camp.

Report Freighter Shelled.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The British freighter Shetland was reported shelled in Valencia roads this afternoon. The report to Lloyds' here said there were no casualties.

The captain informed the owners there was a direct hit in the forecastle blowing a hole in the hull of the 1,846 ton freighter. He was proceeding down the Spanish coast to Gibraltar.

SENTENCED ON AUTO CHARGE.

Howard Horan, 7414 Harvard avenue, who was found in a stolen automobile last Sunday, was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in the Bridewell.

ROOSEVELT TO HEAR EUROPEAN OUTLOOK FROM HULL TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt returned to the capital at 9:50 o'clock tonight after a five day visit at his home in Hyde Park, N. Y. He went to the White House immediately.

Yesterday afternoon in a conference with Joseph P. Kennedy, newly appointed ambassador to Great Britain, Mr. Roosevelt discussed the American foreign policy as affected by the British cabinet changes, Hitler's belligerent address and Italy's promise to withdraw her support from the rebels in the Spanish civil war.

Tomorrow he is expected to go over the whole international outlook with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, to take in developments in the far east and South America.

THOMAS HOYNE TO RETAIN HIS CUSTOMS POST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today sent to the senate several appointments, including the renomination of Thomas T. Hoyne, controler of customs at Chicago. Most of the appointments were army promotions necessitated by the retirement this year of numerous war time generals.

Col. Robert M. Danford, chief of staf of the 6th corps area at Chicago, was promoted to be chief of field artillery, and Col. John Knowles Herr raised to chief of cavalry. Both will take the rank of major general, as will Col. Emory Sherwood Adams who was appointed adjutant general.

The President also recommended that Brig. Gens. James Albert Woodruff and Frank Wheaton Rowell be made major generals, and that the rank of brigadier general be given to Cols. Joseph Michael Cummings, infantry; Richard C. Moore, engineers; Karl Truesdale, infantry, and Fulton Q. C. Gardner, coast artillery.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

[ADVERTISMENT]

THIS 4 DAY TEST MUST Help Soothe Bladder Irritation

THAT GETS YOU UP NIGHTS or your 25c back. Must help kidneys flush out excess acids and other poisonous waste or your 25c back. Must help relieve frequent or scanty flow, burning or backache or your 25c back. Just say Buketa (25c) to any druggist. Locally at Walgreen Drug Stores.

[ADVERTISMENT]

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

mend to the court as fair and reasonable.

"Of course, he cannot make a complete plan or draft of a complete ordinance, but he can present an outline which can be the basis of negotiations among the parties, if they are unable to agree, as well as the basis for determining what action the court will take as to the management and disposition of these properties, if they are unable to agree among themselves and with the city."

Attorneys for the transit companies said they were ready to coöperate with Shaw in working out a plan.

HISTORY OF DELAYS

Here is a tabloid presentation of the eleven years of local transportation history in Chicago, the struggle for the unification of surface, elevated, and bus lines and the building of subways:

JAN. 31—Municipal franchises of surface lines expired. Operation continued on month to month extensions.

MAY 17—Surface and elevated companies proposed consolidation contingent upon enactment of enabling legislation.

JUNE 29—Consolidation legislation died with adjournment of legislature.

MAY 15—Special session of legislature convened but refused to consider legislation proposed by Chicago.

DEC. 6—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson appointed citizens' advisory committee to aid in solving problem.

MAY 28—State legislature passed eight bills agreed upon between city and companies to permit consolidation.

AUG. 15—A. A. Sprague, as head of Wilkerson advisory committee, appointed another committee of five to break deadlock on terms between city and companies.

OCT. 13—Samuel Insull appointed committee of bankers to work out financial structure for consolidation.

MAY 19—With a referendum provision city council approved indeterminate franchise to proposed consolidation.

JULY 1—Special election. Indeterminate franchise proposal approved by referendum.

DEC. 8—Financial plans for consolidation completed by Halsey, Stuart & Co.

MAY 6—Council extended indeterminate franchise grant to Jan. 31, 1932.

AUG. 10—Halsey, Stuart & Co. announced consolidation plan by majority of security holders.

JAN. 5—City council extended indeterminate franchise grant another year.

JUNE 29—Judge Wilkerson appointed A. W. Harris, Melvin A. Traylor, and D. F. Kelly to press consolidation.

MARCH 21—Upon Mayor Kelly's initiative the city council repealed the 1930 indeterminate franchise ordinance and began work on new ordinance.

1935.

JUNE 25—Legislature passed Mayor Kelly's home rule bill.

1936.

APRIL 14—Home rule bill approved in Chicago referendum.

NOV. 21—Judge Wilkerson approved consolidation plan subject to granting of franchise.

JAN. 26—Mayor Kelly announced outline of his plan for consolidation.

OCT. 19—Mayor Kelly made public his completed plan for consolidation.

FEB. 7—City council fixed April 30 as expiration of surface lines' authority to operate.

FEB. 18—Walter Shaw, adviser to Judge Wilkerson, urged work be started on unification under Kelly plan and on franchise.

'PICKABACK' AIRPLANE TEST SUCCEEDS; FEAR OF CRASH IS OBVIATED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Proving that the impromptu separation test on Feb. 6 was no fluke, the Mayo "pickaback" aircraft successfully parted in midair again today. Flying at 140 miles an hour 1,000 feet above the River Medway at Rochester, Kent, the long range seaplane shot almost vertically off the back of the booster flying boat. It circled alone over the town before returning to its moorings.

The test, experts said, settles the problem of whether the two planes would part cleanly enough to avoid the danger of colliding after separation.

The "pickaback" now will go to Felixstowe for air ministry tests and may be tried out over the Atlantic this year, it was said.

MOTHER OF SLAIN BOY IS ARRESTED AFTER COLLISION

Mrs. Grace Loomis, whose foster son, Roger Loomis, 5 years old, was slain in Lombard in February, 1937, was arrested by Du Page county authorities yesterday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The complaint alleged that her car crashed into another driven by Deputy Sherif Charles Thielen on the outskirts of Lombard on Feb. 16.

No definite clews ever was discovered in the Loomis boy's slaying. At the time of his disappearance Mrs. Loomis said she had allowed him to go out to play and that a boy later told her a man in an old auto had picked him up. Roger's body was found the following day in a prairie at the northwest edge of Lombard.

State's Attorney Russell W. Keeney, who questioned Mrs. Loomis yesterday, said she would be released as soon as her husband, George, furnishes a bond of $1,000 on the automobile charge. Late last night she still was held. Mrs. Loomis is 44 years old and lives at 43 Park avenue, Lombard.

SANE OR INSANE, ROBBER DEMANDS A TRIAL BY JURY

Heat's On, Says Harbut; Fears Judge's Decision.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

John Harbut, notorious gunman whose traumatic psychosis [insanity resulting from injury] sent him to the Chester State Hospital for Criminal Insane in 1933 for three years instead of to the penitentiary under a possible maximum of forty sentences of one year to life each, yesterday declared that there is too much public agitation against him to allow a judge to decide a new gun robbery charge which he faces.

Assistant Public Defender Morton Anderson, appointed to defend Harbut on the gunman's plea that he was penniless, notified Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court last evening that his client had decided to take a chance on a jury rather than hear a judge pass on his case. After Harbut entered a plea of not guilty to the charge, the chief justice set his trial for March 2.

Ask New Examination.

During the brief arraignment, Harbut demonstrated, his own lawyer admitted, that he is in perfect possession of his faculties. Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, who was in court observing the proceedings, admitted that Harbut's performance in court indicated that he realized his predicament and was within the scope of the law for punishment if guilty of the crime charged.

However, Bachrach and Anderson asked for a new mental examination by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman of the Criminal court's behavior clinic in view of Harbut's past history, so the court records will show he was given every protection of the law.

Justice Harrington ordered the examination and Dr. Hoffman was asked to have his report completed before the trial opens.

"I would be crazy if I let a judge pass on the case with all the heat that is on me now," commented Harbut to a bailif as he was taken from the court after the arraignment. "A judge would have to give me the works, but maybe with a jury it would be different."

Freed After Examinations.

Harbut in 1933 was accused of forty robberies. On each he could have been sent to the penitentiary for an indeterminate sentence of one year to life. However, Dr. Hoffman found him insane as a result of an injury received in an automobile accident a few months before. Acting on the testimony of Dr. Hoffman, a jury sent Harbut to the Chester asylum.

After three years at Chester Dr. Paul L. Schroeder and Dr. H. Douglas Singer, state alienists, decided that Harbut had recovered from the traumatic psychosis and ordered him back to Cook county. Dr. Hoffman reëxamined Harbut and agreed with the finding of the state alienists. A new jury was impaneled and the gunman was freed. Acting under the old English common law, which holds an insane man cannot commit a crime, the state dismissed the old robbery charges.

Arrested by Passing Squad.

Harbut has been in minor troubles with the law since his release. Then a week ago Tuesday he jumped on the running board of the automobile of William Pryz, 23 years old, 924 Noble street, and forced Miss Wanda Dziewitz, 21 years old, 963 Milwaukee avenue, from the car. He forced Pryz to drive to a desolate spot and robbed him of $98.

A passing police squad arrested Harbut a few blocks away and found the $98 in his possession. He had thrown his revolver over a fence. Miss Dziewitz recognized Harbut as an old neighbor, and Pryz identified him. He also confessed.

Harbut, an exceptionally well built man of 28 years, with black hair slicked down and a stubble of black beard, stood before Chief Justice Harrington yesterday in the first step of a promised speedy trial for his new crime. When he entered his plea of not guilty the chief justice misunderstood him and thought he had pleaded guilty. Harbut quickly disillusioned Justice Harrington, who then asked him fifty or more questions, which Harbut answered directly and intelligently.

Gets Jury Trial

GETS 14 YEARS IN SLAYING OF MOVIE CASHIER

Richard Peabody, one of three young men in the holdup slaying of Miss Jean Riley, movie theater cashier, was sentenced yesterday to fourteen years in the penitentiary by Judge John C. Lewe. Peabody pleaded guilty during the course of the trial.

The other two are Alfred Davies, 25, of 1349 North Bell avenue, who got thirty years from the jury, and Arthur La Frana, 24, of 2621 Cortland street, who was sentenced to life as the actual killer. Peabody is 25 years old and lived at 1423 Berteau avenue.

Father, 17, Shoots Self After Quarrel with Wife

After a quarrel with his wife last night, John Erlenbach, 17 years old, shot himself in the chest and is in a critical condition. Erlenbach and his wife, who is also 17, have a son, 7 months old, and live at 4511 North Kilpatrick avenue. The young husband shot himself at the home of a brother, Stanley, 4738 North Lavergne avenue.

U. S. HOUSING ACT RAPPED AS BIRTH CONTROL WEAPON

Restrictions Termed Bar to Large Families.

The government's model housing program was blamed yesterday for keeping down big families. Two aldermen told the city council's housing congress in the city hall that limitation of the size of families eligible to occupy flats in the housing projects was, actually, a modified form of federal birth control.

They expressed their views after Miss Elizabeth Woods, secretary to John R. Fugard, chairman of the Chicago Housing authority, explained that the larger flats are restricted to families of not more than seven members, and that those slightly smaller are available only to families with five members or less.

"In my ward there are families that are proud to have thirteen or fifteen children," said Ald. James F. Kovarik [15th]. "These restrictions are unfair."

Alderman Voices Protest.

Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] said: "My ward includes a wide industrial area. Out there people raise large families and they certainly have as much right as any one to enjoy the government's housing program. But the government apparently is demonstrating just how big a man's family should be."

Accumulated tax debts in real estate are depriving Chicago of the benefits of development in areas now vacant, John Cummings Lindop, realtor and builder, told the congress.

"Before the depression," Lindop said, "many tracts on the far south and on the far north sides were subdivided for residential purposes and the various untilities were installed.

Inactive Since 1929.

"Since 1929, however, these tracts have not been developed further and now the accumulated taxes, penalties, and assessments amount to more than the property is worth. Building on the land would increase its future taxable value, but the present situation is forcing many persons to go to the suburbs where they can acquire land at lower cost.

"Unless something is done, I think we are going to see a continued exodus to the suburbs because profitable building in Chicago is impossible. This property should be used for building and eventually become a source of revenue instead of a liability."

Fred R. Walsh, realtor, said 260 acres of vacant property on the west side owned by the board of education could be developed to house 30,000 persons at a cost of approximately $40,000,000. He recommended that the property be offered for sale or made available through long term leases.

Actress Visits City

Mae West at the Palmer house yesterday.

Mae West, Gloria Swanson, and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., all arrived in Chicago yesterday aboard the City of Los Angeles, but it was Miss West who caught the crowd's eye. On advice of her manager she didn't stop for autographs or the radio hello sought by CBS, but held an informal reception later for newspaper men and photographers at her suite in the Palmer House. Miss West opens a week's engagement at a loop theater Friday. Fairbanks told radio listeners he was going to New York to visit his mother. Miss Swanson disappeared without being interviewed.

PRISONER FLEES; HORAN FIRES TWO DEPUTY BAILIFS

Left unguarded after being sentenced to serve a one year jail sentence as keeper of a house of prostitution, Morris Levin escaped yesterday from room 1128 of the city hall. Bailif Albert J. Horan of the Municipal court immediately discharged two deputy bailifs, Samuel Goldman and Samuel Rothenberg.

Levin was convicted more than a year ago on a charge involving a hotel at 1659 Monroe street. He appealed, but the Appellate court affirmed the sentence. Yesterday he was taken before Chief Justice Sonsteby of the Municipal court and ordered to jail. Goldman, instead of leading Levin to the detention cell, left him for a moment in the jury box in the License court, with Rothenberg nearby. Levin fled.

WOMAN'S SCARF CLEW IN EXILED DENTIST'S DEATH

Investigators seeking the killers of Dr. Max Bernhard Sammet, exiled German dentist whose body was found Sunday under the front steps of a vacant building at 229 South Paulina street, yesterday attached much significance to a fur scarf that was found near the building.

The scarf, which apparently had been torn from a woman's coat, was picked up Saturday night by Roy Long, 1652 Congress street. He said yesterday, when he turned it over to the police, that he did not realize until Tuesday night that it might have value as a clew.

Although there have been guesses that Dr. Sammet, 43 years old, emigré who admittedly fled from Germany because as a Jew he was subject to persecution, was slain because of his anti-Nazi leanings, the police have held to the theory that he was the victim of a robbery gang.

Used to Support Robbery Theory.

They believe the scarf strengthens this hypothesis. They pointed out that he may have been kidnaped first, placed in an automobile, and then shot when he resisted his captors. If the robbers had a woman companion, it was further reasoned, the scarf quite plausibly might have been torn in the struggle. Under this theory, the killers carried his body to the abandoned building and the torn scarf was dropped in front of it.

Mrs. Inga Sammet, wife of the dentist, who was attending the University of Illinois college of dentistry with the intention of obtaining a license to practice in this country, arrived in Chicago yesterday. She was interviewed at the home of a friend by Police Sergeant John Racek of the Warren avenue station.

$40,000 Left in Germany.

"My husband," she said, "had no personal enemies. He was quiet and ambitious. I have been working in New York and he was going to open an office there as soon as he could get a diploma. I am positive that there was no other woman mixed up in his life. Dr. Sammet had to leave $40,000 of assets in Germany, and he was supporting himself on loans from friends while he pursued his studies. He took no interest in political movements."

Several men arrested in the last three days have been questioned regarding the murder, but all have convinced the police of their innocence in that crime.

YOUTH GETS 30 DAYS FOR THEFT.

Stephen Warren, 17 years old, of 919 West 35th street, who had been placed on probation three months ago, was sentenced yesterday to thirty days in jail by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Boys' court for petty larceny.

STEALING

By CALEB

I KNOW an important executive in the chain store business. Occasionally he has opportunity to prosecute light-fingered persons who think it amusing or profitable to "take" things off his counters.

The result is usually a defeated defendant languishing away for a while in a cool public domicile with bars on the windows.

One's viewpoint changes with the years. This man's has. When he was in his state university he belonged to a fraternity—good one, too—whose members thought it cute and commendable to "get away" with small items off the counters of the town's merchants.

Several years ago a family in my neighborhood learned that their daughter was one of a group of schoolgirls who were systematically stealing whatever they could off retail counters.

"Stealing" is a harsh word. The girls would not have called it that. Neither would the chain store man when he was in college.

I worked in stores for years as a boy. Once I took a pair of socks from Art Anderson, my boss. I wouldn't have called it stealing then—but that's what it was.

It is unfortunate that children sometimes gain the deluded idea that taking some one else's property, be it ever so small, is not serious. For it is serious.

Of course most boys and girls know that shoplifting is illegal—and, what is worse, morally wrong. Even if it brings no disgrace to them or their families, sooner or later it works sufficient harm to them so they wish they had never done it.

Even professional thieves are notably unsuccessful at making it pay. This is particularly true in Chicago's loop. Recently, a pair who rate as topnotchers in the gray world of stealth, left a loop store with several things for which they had thoughtlessly neglected to pay.

When they entered the doors of a store a block away, that store was watching for them. The teletype-writer system had flashed descriptions up and down the street. It was a simple matter then to catch them in the act. And their story read like crime's story usually does in the end. Retribution—but not early enough to avert prison.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the queer stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

U. S. COAL CZARS REVOKE ENTIRE PRICE SCHEDULE

Compelled to Act After Series of Injunctions.

commission were so much higher than those allowed Indiana that Illinois mines began to lose their markets to Indiana. Soon Illinois mines were closing down, and miners who were thrown out of work were uttering complaints that were heard all the way to Washington.

Gov. Henry Horner lodged with the commission one of the most vigorous and detailed indictments of its action. Then followed the appeal to the courts of the railroads and numerous other groups and the granting of temporary injunctions in favor of the petitioners.

The court action forced the commission to rescind its price fixing, although the body debated its retreat for more than a week and consulted President Roosevelt on what to do in the crisis.

Before the commission evolved its price scale it was much in the limelight as the scene of squabbles among its members, chiefly over the disposition of political patronage.

MARVIN READS THE PAPER, AND LOUIS IS HAPPY

A trafic light separated their two automobiles Tuesday on the west side while they were en route home to Ogden, Utah. Seddon carried $78, the joint resources of the two families. Holland was without funds.

Holland's plight appeared in yesterday's TRIBUNE. Seddon read the item, telephoned his friends at the home of Matthew Buol, 3478 Elston avenue, where they were staying, and said he would meet them at De Kalb, where he was waiting.

Upset of Fixed Coal Prices Hailed as Illinois Victory

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Suspension of the minimum price schedule by the National Bituminous Coal commission at Washington was hailed yesterday as a victory for Illinois coal consumers, miners, and producers. Since the minimum prices were put into effect on Dec. 16, 1937, Illinois consumers and producers have charged they were the victims of discrimination in the setting of minimum prices which favored other states. Labor complained that it has lost jobs as a result of other states getting coal business to which Illinois was entitled.

The fight on the coal commission's fixed prices was started immediately after they became effective, and has continued with increasing vigor. In the fight Gov. Horner and Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes of Chicago joined with governmental officials in other states to force the issue.

Carter Coal Company Leads Off.

Among the first to win relief from enforcement of the minimum price schedule was the Carter Coal company of West Virginia, which on Jan. 28 was granted an injunction by the United States District court in New York. The Carter Coal company also was the instrument in knocking out the original Guffey coal act. The Carter company's contention that the Guffey act was unconstitutional was sustained by the United States Supreme court. The minimum price schedule just vacated was set up by the coal commission under authority of the Guffey-Vinson act passed by congress last year. It frequently is called the little Guffey coal act.

Also on Jan. 28 209 railroads attacked the coal commission's prices, alleging that they added about 21 million dollars annually to railroad operating costs.

On Jan. 29 the city of Cleveland, O., filed a petition in the District of Columbia court in which the city of Chicago joined. Other cities to attack the prices were St. Louis, Mo., and Rochester, N. Y.

Six Suits in One Day.

Joining the attack were numerous coal companies, six filing complaints in one day in the United States District court at Chicago.

The courts began granting an increasing number of injunctions restraining the commission from enforcing the minimum prices in specific cases. A jolt was handed to the coal commission on Feb. 11, when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Washington granted temporary injunctions to 209 railroads, the city of Cleveland, and to three coal companies.

One of the most severe blows came on Feb. 21 when the court of appeals at Washington suspended the coal prices for 1,462 members of the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. This organization corresponds to the Illinois Manufacturers association. With 1,462 companies in New York state freed from the fixed minimum prices, there was little hope that the commission would be able to avoid calling off its price fixing order.

Based on Lack of Facts.

Most of the attacks against the original order were made on the ground that the prices were fixed without public hearing and without disclosure of the facts on which the prices were based.

THE TRIBUNE printed news stories and editorials calling attention to the discrimination of the coal commission's minimum prices as far as Illinois was concerned. These stories told how coal prices paid by Illinois industries were being boosted as much as 60 cents a ton by the Illinois price order of the coal board, and how Kentucky, Indiana, and other states were winning business formerly held by Illinois mines.

Gov. Horner disclosed that the state of Illinois was able to buy out-of-state coal for less than coal from nearby Illinois mines.

Praises Editorial Action.

"I am very happy to learn that the commission has taken this action," Gov. Horner said last night. "As a result there is a new hope for fair treatment for the producer, the employé, and the consumer.

"I am grateful to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for the vital campaign it waged in behalf of Illinois against discrimination in this matter."

George T. Evans of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, who represented six coal companies which were granted a temporary injunction by the District court at Chicago, said:

"I think THE TRIBUNE and other Chicago papers accurately and very promptly set forth the facts with respect to the coal litigation going on throughout the country with respect to the minimum coal prices. These prices were fixed without hearings or the finding of fact which would have informed consumers and producers on the reasons for fixing these prices at their respective levels."

POLICE PROTECT TWO WITNESSES IN RACKET TRIAL

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Police were on guard tonight at the homes of two witnesses who testified against Don A. Campbell and John E. Magee, Cleveland labor leaders on trial for extortion.

As the trial continued testimony was given of other instances of shakedowns by the two labor leaders. Theodore Fishel, vice president of a window washing company, said he gave $900 to a man sent to him by McGee. The money, he said, represented commissions on a window washing contract. McGee then was business agent for a window washers' union. Now he is president of the Painters' District council.

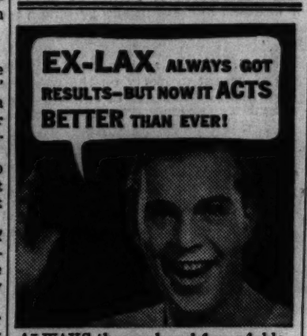

Another witness today was Bror Anderson, installation superintendent of the Moline [Ill.] Furniture works. He said he had to pay $150 to an agent of Campbell before installation of mirrors at the Halle Brothers' Department store, largest in the city, was permitted to continue.

W. G. WALLING, 59, PHILANTHROPIST AND BANKER, DIES

Willoughby G. Walling, banker and philanthropist, died yesterday in Presbyterian hospital. He was 59 years old. The family has lived in Winnetka for thirty-two years.

Willoughby Walling.

Mr. Walling was president of the Morris Plan bank which became the Personal Loan and Savings bank; a director of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, and a director of the Stevens hotel and the Middlewest corporation.

On RFC Advisory Board.

He was also a member of the advisory board of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. In 1905 he was a member of the Chicago harbor commission; national chairman of the Red Cross in 1918 and 1919; president of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies from 1920 to 1927, and chairman of the Illinois board of public welfare commissioners since 1928.

He was a member of the national executive board of the Izaak Walton league, president of the North Shore Country Day school, and chairman of the board of the Cook County School of Nursing. His clubs were the Chicago, University, Commercial, and Indian Hill Golf club.

Born in Louisville.

Mr. Walling was born in Louisville on May 23, 1878, and was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1899, after which he attended Harvard law school. In 1902 he married Frederika Haskell of Columbia, S. C. She and three sons and a daughter survive. The latter are Willoughby Haskell Walling of Santa Fe, N. M.; William English Walling of Chicago; Frederika Christina, who lives at the family home, 1094 Fishers lane, Winnetka, and Thompson Cheves Walling, also of Winnetka.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial is expected to be in Indianapolis.

BANK EXAMINER QUITS WHEN $300 LOAN IS FOUND

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Henry Odenthal of Belleville, a state bank examiner, resigned today after his personal notes on loans totaling $300 had been found in the safety deposit box of George E. Wuller, cashier of the closed Belleville Bank and Trust company, an announcement from the office of State Auditor E. J. Barrett said.

Chief Examiner Frank A. Adams said Odenthal had not violated the law, since he had borrowed directly from Wuller instead of from the bank.

Adams said Odenthal hadn't examined the bank for two years before it was closed because of defalcations admitted by Wuller.

DICK TRACY—Surprise Maneuver

S. P. GILBERT OF WAR REPARATION BOARD IS DEAD

New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Seymour Parker Gilbert, 45 years old, partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., and an authority on finance and economics, died of a heart ailment in the Doctor's hospital today.

S. Parker Gilbert.

At the age of 32 he became famous for his brilliant work as agent general for reparations.

That involved the complex problem of adjusting German payments, in goods and cash, under the revised war reparations plan. Owen D. Young, industrialist, who played a leading rôle in reparations adjustments, called Parker's post the most important job in the world.

Completing his work in Berlin, Parker returned home without definite plans for the future. In January, 1931, he was admitted to partnership in the Morgan firm. In his eight years there Gilbert's activities touched the entire range of that banking firm's interests, but his counsel specially was sought on matters of international finance.

PASTOR FIGHTS GAMBLING; HIS HOME IS BOMBED

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Dynamiters believed to be seeking reprisals for his activities against gambling and vice in East Peoria early today bombed the Homewood Heights residence of the Rev. Walter Meyer, pastor of the Bethel Evangelical church and arch-enemy of gambling. Mrs. Meyer, alone in the house while her husband was attending a ministerial conference in St. Louis, Mo., was thrown from her bed by the force of the explosion but was not injured.

REDUCED TRAIN SPEED ASKED AT CRASH INQUEST

Recommendations for better railroad crossing protection in Illinois towns came from two sources yesterday.

A coroner's jury urged a reduction of train speeds in towns after hearing testimony that the Wabash railroad train from St. Louis which was derailed Tuesday in Worth was traveling 78 miles an hour. Frank Gregson of 7848 South Ashland avenue, driver of the truck that caused the derailment, was killed in the collision and 27 passengers on the train were injured.

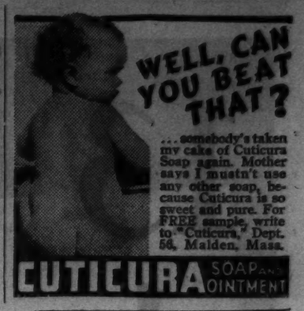

Herbert L. Woolhiser, village manager of Winnetka, asked the Illinois commerce commission to order better safeguards at the crossings of the North Western and North Shore railroads in Winnetka. He testified at a commission hearing that some of the North Western trains go through the village at 85 miles an hour.

HELD AFTER STILL SEIZURE.

Carlyle, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Sheriff B. J. Timmermann said today C. B. Beatright, 71 years old, was being held in the Clinton county jail for federal officers after a fifty gallon still was seized near his home, south west of Centralia, last night.

Escape of Dollar Robber Foiled; Taken to Prison

Belvidere, Ill., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Under sentence of one year to life for a robbery that netted him $1, Jack Malloch, an itinerant 56 years old, was taken to Joliet penitentiary today. Malloch made a futile attempt to escape jail last night, being stopped by Sheriff Fred Smith after he had smashed a lock on a cell window. Malloch was sentenced for the armed robbery of Hosea Hawkinson and his sister Mrs. Sarah Carlson at their Manchester township farm home last Nov. 6.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

The New Farm Law

February 23, 1938.

THE market quota for corn provided for in the new farm law applies only to farmers in the commercial corn producing area. No market quota on corn can be put into effect until after the estimates of the 1938 corn crop are available in August.

Corn quotas will be in effect any year when the official estimates indicate that on Oct. 1 the total supply will be more than 17 per cent above the amount needed for domestic consumption and exports. Total supply is the estimated production of the current crop plus carryover from previous years.

A market quota cannot be actually put into effect if it is opposed by more than one-third of the corn growers voting in a referendum which must be conducted in the commercial zone. If corn growers decide they favor a market quota it then becomes compulsory for all farmers within the commercial corn producing area, excepting those who raise less than 300 bushels.

Under the market quota each farmer inside the commercial area will be allotted, by the secretary of agriculture, the amount of corn he can market, keep for seed, or feed to work stock, and told how much he must put in a crib under government seal.

What "Market" Means.

The term market, in the case of corn, means to dispose of by sale, barter, or exchange, or to feed in any form to poultry or live stock for sale.

When it has been definitiy decided that a market quota for corn is to be enforced, then only the nation's normal supply is free to be sold or fed. The balance must be stored in cribs or in other suitable storage houses and held under government seal. The quota, however, is not called for until the total supply of corn in the country is more than 10 per cent above the normal supply. The term normal supply is defined as a normal year's domestic consumption and exports plus 7 per cent carryover.

After the secretary of agriculture decides how much corn is to be placed under seal he will advise the local committees of farmers in the commercial counties the exact percentage of the counties' base production of ear corn that must be stored. The committees in turn will advise individual farmers of the official decision.

For the sake of illustration, it is assumed that the secretary of agriculture has ordered farmers to seal an amount equal to 15 per cent of their base production.

Choice of 3 Plans.

If the acreage of corn on a farm exceeds the marketing precentage of the farm's acreage allotment, the farmer must seal some corn. The individual farmer has the choice of three plans and he may use the one that requires him to seal the least amount of corn.

Marketing percentage is that portion of the year's acreage allotment, based on the average yield for the previous ten years, which is set aside as free corn to be used by the individual farmer without any restriction.

Here are the three plans:

1. A farmer may store and seal an amount of corn equal to 15 per cent of his base production. Assume that his established base production of corn is 4,000 bushels, then he would seal 600 bushels. He would be free to sell or feed the balance, which is his market quota, amounting to 3,400 bushels.

2. He may store and seal that portion of his actual production in excess of the marketing percentage of the farm's acreage allotment. For instance, if his actual production is 3,800 bushels and his marketing percentage, or marketing quota, is 3,400 bushels, the same as under the first plan, then he would be required to seal only 400 bushels instead of 600 bushels.

3. He may store and seal all of the corn not used for silage. Suppose that he puts in silos all but 300 bushels of corn. Then he would seal only 300 bushels.

When Sealing Stops.

Unless a grower has produced 100 bushels in excess of his marketing percentage, he will not be required to seal any corn.

The farm marketing quota will be terminated in a commercial area when the secretary of agriculture finds that the actual production plus the amount stored under seal in that area is less than the amount allotted as free corn to be fed or sold.

Farmers outside the commercial corn producing area will not be required to store and seal any corn under the market quota plan. Last year these farmers produced one billion 13 million bushels of corn, while growers inside the commercial area raised one billion 600 million bushels.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

13 Page Netcher Day ad in the Sunday Tribune packs the Boston Store's 13 floors

TYPICAL OF THE CROWDS which packed the 13 floors of the Boston Store last Monday is this throng of buyers on the main floor featuring values offered in the 13 full pages of adver tising placed by this store in the Sunday Tribune of February 20.

CROWDS SUCH AS THESE illustrate dramatically the full-market, all-income circulation of the Tribune. Every day of the week the Tribune gets dynamic response from families in all sections and suburbs of Chicago. It has the volume of coverage and the intensity of reader interest that get maximum results for advertisers.

IN CHICAGO AND SUBURBS over 670,000 families read the Tribune. This is from 240,000 to 418,000 more than read other Chicago newspapers. To this friendly, majority audience Chicago retailers sell hundreds of millions of dollars of merchandise annually. Readers of the Tribune are their largest and most responsive market . . . the backbone of their trade.

DAY AFTER DAY the men and women of this market turn to the Tribune for its comprehensive news reports, editorial comment, features and service departments. It is the medium which they are accustomed to consult to keep abreast of the news and to keep informed of buying opportunities.

They show how Tribune readers responded to the Netcher Day values pictured and described in 13 full pages of advertising (one in four colors) in the Sunday Tribune of February 20.

"Every department had a record breaking crowd," said Mr. J. Espovich, General Manager. "The store was packed from the twelfth floor to the bargain basement.

"We bought merchandise far in advance at rock bottom prices, and through the enthusiastic co-operation of our buyers and salespeople, plus that of the Tribune, we have demonstrated again that Tribune readers will buy in tremendous volume when outstanding values are offered.

"Departments which were exceptionally well patronized were the newly remodeled main floor drugs, toilet goods and accessory departments, radios, linoleum, men's clothing and household furnishings. These and many other sections had substantially greater sales than a year ago. We feel that results were highly satisfactory."

Regardless of the product or service you sell—to whom it sells—the Tribune, because it reaches Chicago's largest, constant audience, is the logical medium around which to build your advertising program.

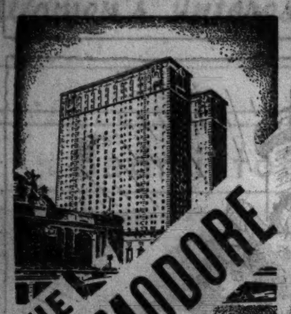

Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in the advertising business.

APPROVES BILL FOR STATE AID IN SYPHILIS WAR

Senate Committee Puts O. K. on 9 Millions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—With its appropriation authorization cut from 271 millions to 9 millions, the La Follette bill providing for federal aid to states in the campaign to stamp out venereal diseases was reported favorably by the senate commerce committee today.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] made the motion to limit the authorized appropriation to 3 millions for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, and 6 millions for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940. It was adopted by a vote to 5 to 3.

The bill as introduced by Senator Robert M. La Follette [Radical, Wis.], at the request of the United States public health service, called for an appropriation of 3 millions the first year, 6 the second, 12 the third, and 25 for each of the following ten years.

Wants to See Need First.

Senator Vandenberg told the committee that it would be unwise to authorize appropriations totaling 271 millions in view of the present condition of the nation's finances, without having some information, gained from experience, as to the amount of money needed. If additional funds are required after the first two years, he said, they can be provided by additional legislation.

Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.], argued against the whole principle of federal allocations, asserting that the control of venereal disease is a state problem. Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.], chairman of the committee, said some of the state have no funds.

"Where does the federal government get its funds except from the citizens of the states?" Senator Bailey demanded. He then offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring states to make contributions to be used in connection with the federal grants whenever the surgeon general finds that they are able to do so.

Surgeon General to Make Rules.

Under the bill, the surgeon general is to apportion the funds among the states on the basis of population, the extent of the venereal disease problem and financial needs. The surgeon general also is authorized to prescribe the rules and regulations for the use of the funds.

The bill establishes in the bureau of public health service a venereal disease division, which shall study and investigate the causes, treatment and prevention of venereal diseases and cooperate with state boards of health for the prevention and control of syphilis and gonorrhea.

Surgeon General Calls Upon Industry to Fight Syphilis

Dr. Thomas Parran.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States, yesterday called upon the 5,000 members of the Chicago Association of Commerce to support the city's syphilis control campaign by urging their employés to take syphilis tests and, if necessary, treatment.

Dr. Parran spoke at an Association of Commerce luncheon in the Hotel Sherman, attended by more than 300 industrial representatives, social service leaders, public health authorities, clinical directors, and university educators and researchers. His speech was entitled, "Syphilis Is Bad Business."

Warns Against Ousting Victims.

Dr. Parran emphasized that the control campaign will be defeated if employers elect to test their employés for syphilis and then discharge those found to be infected.

Instead of bringing the diseased patient under control, such discrimination, he said, would tend to drive infected persons beyond the reach of public health authorities. The syphilitic employé if faced with discharge would seek to conceal his disease rather than to have it treated, he explained.

"As long as the employed syphilitic is willing to take treatment he is not a menace," said Dr. Parran. "Only a few doses of neo-arsphenamine are needed to place him in a chemical quarantine, rendering him noninfectious as long as treatment is continued until his recovery."

Cites Several Control Plans.

Dr. Parran pointed out that the Du Pont de Nemours company, Eastman Kodak company, and a number of railroads have successfully established syphilis control programs in which the employé's blood test and possible treatment is kept confidential.

Following the meeting, Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, board of health secretary and chairman of the mayor's anti-syphilis committee, said that every Chicago industry interested in far-sighted economy and civic progress should join in the campaign of finding sources of infection and treating them.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, declared the board stands ready to assist any business that asks its help in testing and treating employés on a voluntary basis.

TAVERN KEEPERS ARE SORRY; SO IS CASPER, 'SUCH A NICE FELLOW'

John Casper, a reserved appearing man of 45 years, would walk into a bar, ask for the manager and say quietly but firmly: "Federal liquor inspector." The tavern man would know what that meant and say: "All right, sir, go ahead." Casper then would step behind the bar and take tastes from various bottles. Finally he would smack his lips and remark smilingly: "Everything in perfect order. And now, may I buy you a drink?"

The manager would usually set out the bottles, but would notice that the inspector appeared to be embarrassed. This was too bad; the inspector was such a nice fellow. When it turned out he had only forgotten his money, the manager usually was glad to cash a small check for him—but was always sorry a few days later. Mr. Casper looked rather sorry himself last night at the West North avenue police station where his victims are viewing him and signing complaints.

TWO SELF-MADE WIDOWS GO ON TRIAL FOR LIVES

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Two self-made widows, Mrs. Patricia Ryan, 21 years old, and Mrs. Mary Spry, 50 years old, went on trial today for their lives. Each of the defendants pleaded that the killing was a result of unhappy married life.

Mrs. Ryan, pretty convent schooled girl who eloped when she was 15 years old, went on trial for the slaying of her patrolman husband, seven years her senior. She had challenged his right as a husband to dominate her.

Mrs. Spry, accused of having shot her husband, nine years her junior when he asked her for $100 to pay for an operation for another woman, went on trial for murder before a Brooklyn jury.

FARMER HANGS HIMSELF.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Because he was ailing, Harold Hildinger, 47 years old, a farmer of Saline township, hanged himself in his barn late yesterday. He had been married a year.

TRIED IN SLAYING OF HIS FATHER AT CHRISTMAS TREE

Thomas Burns, 32 years old, was tried yesterday before Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court on charges of murdering his father, James, 65 years old, a former city employé, in the family home at 709 West 47th street last Christmas morning. Burns blamed drinking for an argument over the tree decorations that preceded the shooting and said he didn't remember anything about the affair. Judge Dunne withheld decision until March 8, ordering mental tests in the meantime.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH.

Charles C. Russell, 22 years old, of 4645 Kenmore avenue, was found dead on a cot in his basement flat yesterday, a bullet wound in his head and a rifle nearby.

Blind Lawyer Enters Race for Ogle County Judgeship

Oregon, Ill., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—C. F. Mammenga, blind attorney here, is one of four candidates seeking nomination as Republican candidate for Ogle county judge. County Judge Martin Eakle, the first Democrat in the history of the county to hold the office, is the only candidate on the Democratic ticket seeking nomination.

PERSHING WILL NEED LONG REST, PHYSICIANS SAY

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing's physicians tonight disclosed the aging war commander has suffered acute damage to his heart muscles which will require prolonged rest in bed.

He is in no immediate danger, said Dr. Roland Davison, unless there is a sudden change. Dr. Davison said discovery of the damage to the heart muscles was the result of additional observation by Lieut. Col. S. U. Marrietta and himself.

Hopeful of Outcome.

"We still feel the outcome of his illness will be favorable," said an official bulletin.

Elaborating on the bulletin, Dr. Davison said: "The danger seems over now, but it is hard to say at present what the outcome will be. But unless there is some sudden change, he should make normal progress to recovery." Col. Marrietta nodded assent.

"The rheumatism is minor," Dr. Davison continued. "The heart is the important matter.

Cite Causes for Illness.

"The present illness is due partly to his age and partly because he is a man who always has overdone himself because the people of the United States made great demands on him."

A cardiette, a machine for measuring electrical reactions of the heart, showed a very favorable record, the physicians reported. The general ate a hearty lunch and was perfectly comfortable after a quiet day, they said.

PENNSYLVANIA LABOR FEDERATION CHARTER REVOKED BY GREEN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—William Green, president of the A. F. of L., revoked the charter of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor tonight in an effort to thwart certain labor leaders he says are ambitious for political power.

Green left no doubt that he considered John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chairman, to be one of the most ambitious leaders. The state federation's charter was taken away because its officers refused to drop C. I. O. unions from its roster.

"This action," said Green, "will serve notice that the policies of the 400,000 loyal members of the American Federation of Labor unions in Pennsylvania cannot be dictated by self-constituted labor leaders not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, nor can their votes be delivered by such leaders ambitious for political power."

The state federation of labor is dominated by C. I. O. unions, including Lewis' United Mine Workers. Last March it indorsed Lewis' right hand man, Thomas Kennedy, for governor of Pennsylvania.

Public Hearing Monday on Double Features Ban

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the city council subcommittee on health, announced yesterday that a public hearing will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in the city hall on the proposal to ban double features in the movie theaters. Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes ruled the city can prohibit double features if they are shown to be harmful to children's health.

A TRACTION PLAN.

The Chicago traction situation has been described as chaotic and tangled, but a review of the outstanding factors invites wonderment as to whether such pessimistic adjectives result from the existence of actual obstacles or from insistence on attacking the problem at an impregnable point. A whole year has been wasted in discussing the possibilities of a corporate consolidation of the Surface, Rapid Transit, and Motor Coach lines. The negotiators are no farther ahead than when they started, so why not seek a weaker spot for the attack?

That seems to have been Judge Wilkerson's idea in appointing Engineer Walter A. Shaw to survey the problem and offer recommendations. It might be helpful if at the start a list of the aims of the different interests were drawn up in plain English. It would show something like this:

The Chicago Surface lines desire consolidation with the Motor Coach company and a franchise from the city. They have nearly thirty million dollars available for improved equipment.

The elevated lines are in bankruptcy and require reorganization as well as some relief from the prospect of continuing rapid transit on poorly located lines at less than cost.

The car riders demand better and faster service with modern equipment as well as rapid transit from the outer zones and suburbs.

The city is badly in need of a system of elevated highways on which high speed bus lines may be operated. It controls the traction fund, a substantial part of which is liquid.

The last mentioned phase is the most important. The present effort to operate twentieth century motorized traffic on nineteenth century streets is fostering the massacre of nearly a thousand citizens and the maiming of twenty thousand other victims each year. A plan to use sections of the elevated lines for life saving elevated highways has been suggested and approved, so why not begin here for the sake of humanity?

The money for the purchase of these west side lines is available in the traction fund. Nobody would object to its use for this purpose, because high speed bus lines will be run on the superhighways. As a second consideration the Rapid Transit company would be relieved of the duty of maintaining and operating these nonpaying and badly located segments of its system.

With the money thus made available the Rapid Transit Lines could effect reorganization and free themselves from the bankruptcy court. Then, in their rejuvenated condition, they certainly would be in a stronger position to negotiate consolidation with the Surface Lines. The car rider, however, would not need to await the outcome of this plan. A franchise could be granted to an operating unification of the Surface Lines, the Motor Coach company, and the Rapid Transit company. The Chicago Surface Lines itself is merely a unification of several street railways, but as such has been giving universal transfer privileges for the past twenty-four years.

No more time should be wasted on jockying for a financial consolidation of the Surface and Rapid Transit Lines; such corporate merger can come later, after an operating entity has knit the properties together. Certain sections of both systems have valuable assets, and this condition will be improved when they commence to pay more than lip service to the public interest.

THE PUBLIC PAYS AND PAYS.

The Supreme court of the United States has upheld the constitutionality of a South Carolina law which prohibited the operation on state highways of motor vehicles, the weight of which, including load, exceeded 20,000 pounds. Georgia's maximum is 39,600 pounds, while North Carolina's limit is 40,000 pounds. The less liberal law of the intermediate state had the effect of raising motor carriage costs in the neighboring territory because all interstate loading was held down to the lowest figure. This fact precipitated an appeal to the court, which has now established the right of each state to protect its own highways with such load laws as may be deemed advisable.

While each state has regulations presumed to represent the best engineering survey available, there is a suspicion that railway influence has a tendency to dictate the limitations under which motor vehicles may be operated. This is particularly true in the legislation of several southwestern states. The railroads, fighting to retain the trafic, are hampered in every move by interstate commerce laws, and naturally turn to artificial handicapping of highway vehicles to protect themselves. They regard highway freighting as subsidized competition, and as such consider that it should be taxed or regulated in the same manner as their own efforts.

The viewpoint is wrong. Freight and passengers were being moved over free highways and on rivers that had been improved at government expense long before the locomotive was invented. The fact that mechanical power has been substituted for muscle power on public roads and waterways does not alter the argument. The railway undertook, as a contractor, to meet the transportation needs of American citizens with a specially built private right of way and with private equipment. It had and still has trespass protection and the right of eminent domain. The railway has no inherent right to the trafic of the country and is not privileged to interfere with any use of the roads that may be granted by the citizens who built them.

Railway presidents would be better advised to use their influence and energies in attempts to have the national government rewrite the ancient and patchwork laws that are restraining their own efforts instead of suggesting that the curse should be passed along to others. To demand that a millstone be hung around the neck of highway transportation because the railway is dragging a millstone of its own can have but one effect—an increase in the cost of all transportation. That is why the railways are today seeking a fifteen per cent increase in their rates and also why the trucks have announced a similar advance in their charges if and when the railway prayer is granted.

TO AVOID RUIN.

From crushing taxes on business, a personal income tax which runs up to 79 per cent, and a capital levy upon decedents which amounts to virtual confiscation of their estates, the government is collecting more money in taxes than ever before.

The new high record reached last year was the culmination in the rise in revenues which started in 1933. The larger income was due only in part to reviving business. In larger part it was attributable to the use of new kinds of taxes, some of them revolutionary in character, and of sharp increases in old ones.

But even these record breaking receipts have not provided nearly enough for the Roosevelt spending program. A chart which appears today on the financial page of THE TRIBUNE shows that the present national administration has spent huge amounts in excess of receipts every year. While taking an increasing amount of taxes from the people, now at a point beyond all precedent, the Roosevelt administration has accumulated a deficit of 16 billion dollars to be paid by posterity.

Nor is even this all. While the present administration has taxed the daylights out of industry, outrun all past limits on personal exactions and run up a deficit in a period of reviving business of 16 billion dollars, it has assumed new liabilities for the future which also have no precedent. It has made the promise to 26 million people that the government will pay them a pension when they reach the age of 65.

To be sure, these 26 million people and their employers are being taxed to provide the funds for these pensions, but the pension payments are not now being held for any such purpose. The old age pension money is being spent as fast as it comes in. It is counted upon by Mr. Morgenthau as a source of money for the government's daily requirements. All that is in the old age pension fund are promises of the government to pay in the future the money which is borrowed for current expenditures as rapidly as it is collected.

This is a plain statement of the financial procedure of the national government at the present time. Mr. Roosevelt is not changing the procedure and has no intention of doing so. If these practices are persisted in they must lead inevitably to ruin. And these practices will be persisted in unless the people demand reforms.

WHY USE WORDS?

Critics are rediscovering the primitive man where modern man was supposed, self-supposed largely, to be most engaged in observation, contemplation, meditation, and decision, when he was intent on using his mind to change his environment and better it. A decision requires words if it is to be expressed and therefore the whole process ought to be revealed in what the thinkers have to say about their conclusions. The rediscovery, the original being very old, is that for the most part the words mean nothing, or if they did once they have become mere epithets.

Modern man and primitive man apparently are alike. When they are engaged in controversy they go into their dance and make sounds, sounds of scorn, fury, and ridicule which have no added value because they also are words and can be found in the dictionary. The effect would be just as good and the intellectual content just as large if they were only sounds and had no definition in the language.

This brings up another idea not exactly related to controversy or mental exercise. The needs and uses of a great deal of conversation would be satisfied without words. Almost any sociable gathering would be quite happy with nothing more than a continuous stream of sound at varying pitch and modulation. The outpouring of each person in the group could be uninterrupted, a great gain in individual enjoyment because the chief drawback of general conversation is the necessary pretense of listening.

Gay twitterings and sonorous rumbles would make an animated scene, satisfying all the gregarious inclinations and producing a generous exhilaration. Six new hats, a month in Florida, last month's coal bill, the children's progress in school, could be discussed with no loss of relevancy or any lowering of the intellectual standards. A stenographic record of any general social group conversation will prove the truth of that.

SUCH THINGS GO ON AND ON.

[Cedar Rapids Gazette.]

No matter who succeeds President Roosevelt in the White House, no matter whose party succeeds the New Deal majority in congress, the established precedent of having the welfare of the people on the conscience of the government will not be abandoned. That's what Dr. Stanley High, one time "close adviser to the President," says.

If that is what Dr. High really means, we earnestly hope he is right. But we doubt that it is exactly what he means. It is an indirect quotation and quite possibly has lost some of the shadings of the young cleric's actual words.

What Dr. High meant to say, we suspect, is that the New Deal philosophy of considering it a government obligation to see that everybody gets along all right socially and economically regardless of the individual effort he puts forth—that that philosophy will not end with the New Deal but will be perpetuated by whatever breed of politicians comes next.

If that is what Dr. High really means, we sadly fear he is right. If there ever was a good thing for politicians, the philosophy of the More Abundant Life, F. O. B. Washington, is it.

Offhand we don't recall any great service to humanity the government ever undertook that it later abandoned, unless it to the dispensing of free seeds to the constituents of congressmen. That was abandoned only because it was obviously more satisfactory both to donor and beneficiary to dispense cash instead of seeds.

The Baltimore Sun is fond of recalling a sage pronouncement by the late Senator Reed Smoot—what the Sun calls "Smoot's law"—to wit: "The cost of government will continue to increase, I care not what political party is in power." That "law" has held up so far, and we see no reason to expect with any confidence that it won't continue to hold up.

The reason it holds up is that almost every function the government takes on involves benefits of one kind or another to a number of voters. Abandoning the function terminates the benefits and thereby alienates the affections of the voters concerned, and no politician is going to make any voter mad if he can help it.

Satire on Greatness.

An evening or so before Helen Hayes left town with her Victoria Regina company she decided she would see a little night life in Chicago. A reservation was made in her name at a near north side night club. When she arrived with her party shortly before midnight she gave her name. "Miss Hayes," she said. "Miss Helen Hayes." She spelled the name modestly to the head waiter, who said he was sorry but they had no tables. After some conversation Miss Hayes was finally ushered to a table in a poor location. A few minutes later another party of about the same number entered and a ringside table was hastily arranged for their use. The waiter explained that it was Mr. Ralph Capone and party.

STAGE WINDOW.

(For Eugenie Leontovich.)

All Russia lies beyond that window there . . .
Arched high above the icy marshes where
Great Peter built his city long ago;
And Novgorod, the ancient and the proud;
And Moscow, o'er whose palaces of state
And humble homes, at sunset, rang aloud
The bells from bright-domed churches—Russia, great,
Vast land of mystery! From star-strewn heights
That knew the sons of Rurik must descend
Deliverance, when Russia's frozen nights
Awaits the victory of Russia's faith.

THIS WEEK'S TAXI DRIVER STORY concerns the one who was taking two women—one of them Mrs. Montague P. Ford of Newton Center, Mass., to the Union station. They were held up in a particularly bad trafic jam and the driver, seeing they would be unable to move for some time, murmured over his shoulder to his fares, "Wonder if we could find a fourth for bridge."

THE FAD FOR CHILD SINGERS with orchestras grows apace, and one more is added to the number when a Chicago 12 year old named Babs Bernard makes her debut with Shep Fields' orchestra at the Chicago Friday. A little girl in a sailor suit with a bow in her hair, she will sing "Thanks for the Memory" and "Mamma, I Want to Make Rhythm." Paul Whiteman and Eddie Varzos have child singers with their orchestras, Ted Weems did have one—Marilyn Thorne—for whom he is arranging movie tests shortly. Without exception the children are "hot" singers.

BOOKMAN AND AUTHOR FRANKLIN MEINE, who is credited with having tracked down Mark Twain's earliest story, "The Dandy Frightening the Squatter," is at work on a new book on frontier humor in America. Mr. Meine, who has a research fellowship at Northwestern—the recently created Mark Cresap fellowship—believes that the sporting journal, the New York Spirit of the Times, edited by William T. Porter from 1831-'56, will one day be recognized as the most important periodical from a standpoint of original contribution to American humor. Everybody with a humorous bent was contributing to the journal. It had eighteen correspondents in congress in February, 1851, by the way—so congressmen must have been more humorous then than they seem now. The only made-in-America literature is American story telling, according to Mr. Meine. During the '40s and '50s, throughout the south and west, in barrooms, on law circuits, and on steamboats this humor flourished. The prevalent practice of writing under pseudonyms and the "fugitive practice of newspaper exchanges" have made sources and authorship difficult of identification, but it is this research to which Mr. Meine, author of an earlier book called "Tall Tales of the Southwest," is devoting his time.

MALTA, OR UNDULANT FEVER.

CERTAIN portions of the shores of the Mediterranean long have been known as fever ridden spots. Malaria had no little to do with the fall of classic civilization, and in all probability what is now known as Malta fever has existed for hundreds of years. This affliction, however, was not recognized as having a specific origin until members of the British garrison stationed on the Island of Malta became ill with an obscure difficulty which finally was traced by Sir David Bruce to milk from infected goats. Since that time the disorder has spread to many parts of the world, including the United States.

Essentially, it is an ailment of animals, but it can be acquired by human beings through contact, the handling of infected meat, or the consumption of butter, cream, milk, and cheese from sick cows or goats. The commonest mode of transmission is via unpasteurized milk. But even handling one of the animals and then touching unwashed hands to the mouth may disseminate the bacilli. Unfortunately the resulting illness is of long duration, averaging several months, and the manifestations include fever of a peculiar up and down type, sweating, chills, weakness, loss of appetite and weight, and usually some abdominal tenderness.

From the time when the victim comes in contact with the causative bacillus, five to twenty days elapse as a rule before signs of trouble appear. The first symptoms observed are similar to a serious cold or influenza—cough, sore throat, pain in the neck, and shivering. Sometimes the malady makes its advent with a violent chill, quite like that which may usher in pneumonia. There also are general muscular pains suggestive of grip. After a few days the patient lies in bed, a picture of profound weakness, with a "don't care" attitude. Continuous and profuse perspiration occasions great discomfort.

The diagnosis may be puzzling at first, but with the identification of the organism in the blood or a positive agglutination test we may be certain.

Bed rest is, of course, requisite, with plenty of fluids, good nursing, and enough lowering of the temperature to make the sufferer comfortable. Vaccines made from the offending bacteria have been reported upon favorably, although for a short time following each dose the symptoms may increase. Since goats can overcome the disorder, a serum from immunized animals has been prepared. This antitoxin has been effective in severe cases. Blood transfusions are occasionally helpful.

A typical case is that of a man, 40 years old, who had experienced considerable loss of weight before he noted that every afternoon his head and face felt hot. He visited his physician convinced that he had tuberculosis, inasmuch as he was perspiring at night and had a hard cough. Agglutination tests showed no typhoid fever, but a positive reaction to undulant fever. Goat serum was employed with striking improvement. Within a short time the temperature returned to normal and an uneventful recovery ensued. He was saved many weeks of incapacity by the antitoxin.

The wise thing to do is to prevent the disease if possible. This means that dealers should not handle meat with bare hands, particularly if there is any break in the skin. It is through such an area that the organisms may gain entrance to the blood stream. No one should use raw meat or milk unless the source is known and proved to be free from contamination. It is so simple to cook meat thoroughly and to pasteurize milk. Furthermore, dairy products utilized in the manufacture of butter, cheese, ice cream, etc., should always be heated to a pasteurizing temperature.

Veterinarians in most of our states are alert to this infection and are aiding in stamping it out through the classification of animal carriers.

BALANCING THE BLOOD.

L. G. K. writes: I hear a great deal concerning acid in the blood and the necessity for alkalizing to combat this condition. How is a person to know when alkalis are required?

REPLY.

The blood has remarkable powers of adjustment and—with most of us—will preserve a proper balance between acids and alkalis. That is, it will do so if we give it a chance. If we are confirmed alkali users we will handicap our bodies immeasurably. Unless alkalis annoy you, don't bother them. Use a balanced diet and forget about your so-called acid blood. It probably is no more so than it should be.

GOOD FOR INVALIDS.

G. K. writes: Is any value derived from drinking whey?

REPLY.

Whey is obtained from milk after the fat and protein have been removed. It contains milk sugar and some minerals. At one time its use was as popular as soda water is today. It is a valuable drink for invalids.

EXAMINATION ADVISED.

D. writes: My metabolism test is minus 8. Is this normal? Should I take thyroid extract? I am very nervous and I lost 14 pounds in 4 months.

REPLY.

This is within the bounds of normal. No one should take thyroid extract unless advised to do so by a competent physician. There probably is some other cause. A careful check-up is suggested.

COLLECTION OF DEBT.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it possible to collect an account receivable that is twelve years old? During this period there was no statement of account rendered to the customer. The customer knows that he paid the bill, but has no proof of payment. Now he received a notice from the merchant's lawyer to pay in full or be sued.

2. Does the statute of limitations apply to bills of this nature?

3. What course should one follow in an action of this nature? N. J. F.

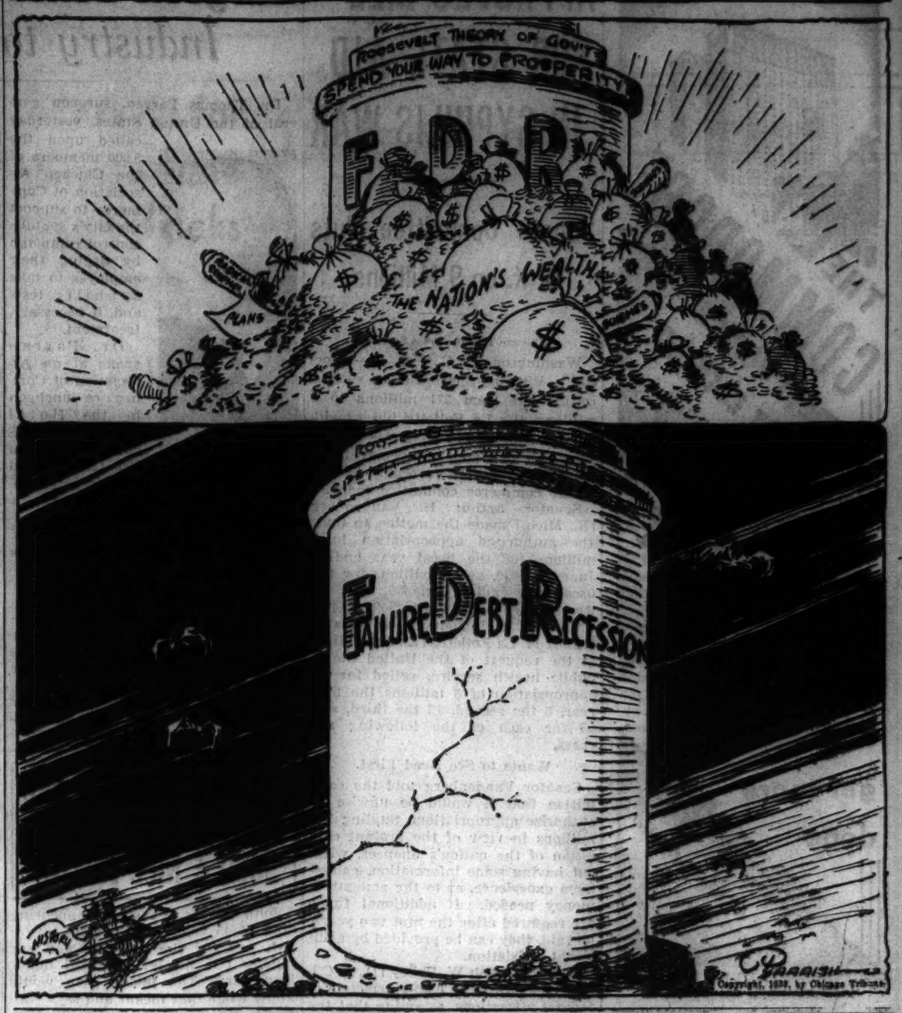

1. Not unless special facts, such as a part payment, new promise or absence of the debtor from the state is involved to extend the limitation period.

2. Yes.

3. It is the other party's next move. We doubt if the suit will be brought. If it is brought, the debtor should present his defense of the statute of limitations.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—An elderly woman was walking across the street. The trafic was stopped and apparently she had time to cross safely. A number of cars, including a newspaper truck, were waiting for the signal to proceed. Suddenly a car driven by a reckless driver came from behind the waiting vehicles and struck the elderly woman, hurling her with great force against the curb. When taken to the hospital it was found that she was so badly injured she was not expected to recover.

The driver, whose car hit her, carried no insurance. After a month in the hospital, the victim recovered sufficiently to be permitted to go home, but was forced to be under the care of a physician for several years following the accident. The reckless driver never made any inquiry concerning the victim, but when questioned about the accident, stated that she bent his fender.

The point of the story is simply that if you are injured by a car whose driver does not carry insurance, all of the expenses of hospital and medical care, etc., no matter how prolonged, must be assumed by yourself. How many men, women and children during the coming year will be disabled for life by reckless drivers who do not carry insurance, thereby becoming dependent upon their families or the county for medical care and the necessities of life? A child or a business man, through no fault of their own, may be permanently paralyzed and receive no more consideration than the elderly woman who was accused by the reckless driver of having bent the fender of his car.

If the victim is yourself or myself, compulsory insurance is not a bad idea, is it? JOHN BURKE MONTGOMERY.

MR. KENNEDY'S APPOINTMENT.

Sterling, Ill., Feb. 18.—As a daily reader of your paper for the last 45 years, I agree with most of what you print, but occasionally even the World's Greatest Newspaper carries an article containing a bit of misinformation.

Reference is made to the inaccuracy in your article of Feb. 17 under the heading, "Perkins' Marine Stand Assailed by J. P. Kennedy," in which a senator is quoted as saying Mr. Kennedy is the first Irish Catholic to be appointed ambassador to the court of St. James's and his church would not let him resign; that he cannot quit and Miss Perkins won't.

Assuming the honorable senator has been correctly quoted, I would like to know from what source he procured the information that the Catholic church would not let Mr. Kennedy resign. When did the church acquire jurisdiction over any Catholic layman accepting, holding, or resigning from any position, governmental or otherwise?

If the senator believes what he was quoted as saying, I wish there were some manner in which he could be informed that the Catholic church has no authority whatsoever in matters of this kind. C. F. G.

SUPERHIGHWAYS.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—To one who daily views parts of the devastated area between Western avenue, Racine avenue, Roosevelt road, and Chicago avenue, the building of superhighways to enable workers in the loop to live in the suburbs seems to be against the interests of Chicago.

Devastated areas of the city are being denuded of buildings. As a result, the population of the city is decreasing, and the tax burden is increasing on those who remain.

If the money which it is proposed to spend on superhighways were used to make large portions of the devastated areas fine residential sections, within fifteen minutes of the loop, it would help to increase the population, increase the taxable property, and add to the glory of our great city.

Let us improve our building code, our zoning laws, and devote ourselves to slum clearance. Make Chicago's back yard as fine as its front yard and increase our population. L. C. W.

WHERE THE PENNIES GO.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Although the gum machines and penny merchandise boards have been taken out of the school stores, an investigation will disclose that you cannot keep a child from spending his lunch money for other than lunch if the child does not wish so to do.

Shall we proprietors padlock our candy cases and refuse to sell penny candy unless the child furnishes proof that he has eaten his lunch?

However, we have noticed a great increase in the smaller boys and girls puffing on cigarets, and they do not get these in school stores. Which is the greater evil? E. J. G.

PROGRESS.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Chicago is, indeed, the progressive city. In the old days the downtown streets were full of mud holes. Today the holes are all lined with asphalt or brick! READER.

STANDING IN THE RAIN.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Undoubtedly every mother wants to do her best for her child and the most obvious thing seems to be a forgotten item. I have reference to the children standing in one of the recent morning downpours outside the public schoolhouses at 8:45, unable to get in until the bell rings at 9 minutes to 9. Most children live a good many blocks away and it is impossible for the mother to time their leaving home so that they arrive on the dot. I believe that the mothers are perfectly unaware of this arbitrary board of education rule, that compels children from the age of 5 up to stand without shelter in rain, snow, or zero weather, sometimes after a good many blocks' walk. Or does this responsibility rest with the individual principal?

I am informed that the children cannot be admitted unless there is a basement, and modern schools have no basements. But what about letting them stay in the schoolroom, gymnasium, halls, or auditorium? Are they more valuable than our children's health?

It would be better for the P.-T. A. to look into some of these "minor" abuses and to correct them than to invest funds in pictures on walls, the children do not understand or appreciate, or drapes for the principal's office for which allowances should be made in the budget by the board of education.

MRS. M. C. SHERMAN.

THEY WOULD PAY IF THEY COULD.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Your headline of Saturday, regarding taxes, should mean plenty to every thinking person reading it. That we have just passed into a depression, after the most severe period of depression ever known, should be the answer to that headline, not the laxity of people in charge of collecting.

People have been reduced to the bread lines who before had plenty, and no person alive will risk losing his property for taxes if he can possibly pay them. Well, I'm not a taxpayer but the relative of one, who would probably live longer if he could see his way to pay them. If values would rise, if property were saleable, that would be done, but I know of the sleepless nights, the one try at suicide, because of these same taxes.

Don't think people don't pay, if they can, and I hope, that if the laws are changed so that property can be sold, the same as on a foreclosure, that these same taxpayers, who put their life earnings into property, will rise up together, and tar and feather every politician in Illinois. GRACE D. SMITH.

THE THRIFTY CITIZEN.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 20.—The article by Howard Wood in today's TRIBUNE on the thrifty citizen is tremendous. In line with recent powerful editorials this devastating and unanswerable arraignment of the New Deal, in leaflet form or otherwise, should be made to reach every voter.

From Across the Sea

LONDON—An increase in marriages, divorces, crime, millionaires, births, and deaths featured English life in 1936. This was disclosed by statistics issued by the board of trade in London.

The marriage rate for the year topped all records, while divorce figures were the second highest ever known. A substantial rise was shown in the number of criminals under the age of 16.

The 400 page blue book issued by the board of trade carries 295 tables dealing with changes in almost every aspect of British national life since and before the war.

The number of marriages in 1936 was 401,704, representing a rate of 17.1 per thousand of the married population. The previous highest total was the 397,998 average for 1920-'22, when the United Kingdom included the whole of Ireland.

Many more women married young than men. Of those married before reaching the age of 21, more than 60,000 were women and only 15,000 men.

Divorces totaled 4,699, the highest figure for any year except 1934, when the number was 4,755. The total jumped from 827 in 1913 to more than 3,600 in the early post-war years.

Business improvement in 1936 was reflected in the increased number of people liable to surtax. In 1934-'35 it was 87,594, and in 1935-'36 it was 88,951.

There were 334 persons in the millionaire class in Britain in 1935-'36, nearly forty more than in the year before. Eighty-five of them had incomes of more than $500,000 a year, seventy-one between $375,000 and $500,000, and 178 between $250,000 and $375,000.

Crime figures showed that nearly 70,000 persons were convicted of indictable offenses during 1935, the last year given, as compared with 65,000 and 62,000 in the two previous years. Men outnumbered women by 61,295 to 8,544.

Boys under 16 years of age numbered over 24,000 against 19,000 the year before and 13,000 in 1933.

Births in 1936 showed a slight increase over the previous three years, and, as usual, more boys were born—1,032 to every 1,000 girls in the total of 720,129.

The death rate also rose slightly, from 12.0 to 12.3 per 1,000 of the population.

New Houses Rout Bogy of May I Moving

BY JUDITH CASS.

MAY 1, traditional moving day, still is two months away, but not too far off for those housewives faced with spring moving to begin preparations for the upset. The day is approaching too rapidly for those who want to move to another apartment, or out to the country, but who have not yet found their ideal home.

Moving day holds no terrors for the families that at last will be settling at a permanent address, and many new houses are to be ready this spring. Mr. and Mrs. Conway H. Olmstead, the Leonard D. Karchers, and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery M. Orr have moved or are moving into their own homes.

The Karchers, who purchased the Russell Walcott home in Barrington, plan to move to the country at the end of April, but the Orrs will not be able to occupy their new home in Wayne until June 1.

The Olmsteds will awake this morning for the first time in their new Lake Bluff home. Situated high on the bluff overlooking the lake, the house, which was designed by William Adams Delano of New York, has French provincial characteristics, although an English influence is noticeable. The kennels in which the Olmsteds raise their blue ribbon dogs are about a quarter of a mile from the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Bryan Jr., whose home the Olmsteds had leased while awaiting the completion of their new home, are moving back at the end of the week.

May Brings Moving Day for Many.

By May Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Armour III. will be found in a house not far away from their present one in Deerpath avenue, Lake Forest. It is occupied now by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Evans, who will go to the Onwentsia for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin Stevenson are moving to Lake Forest June 1 to the house Mr. and Mrs. John B. Drake Jr. are living in now, and the Drakes will come into town. The Stevensons will leave their present apartment in Lake Shore drive May 1, according to present plans, and will spend the month of May with Mrs. Stevenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Doering.

Mrs. Stevenson is not the only one with moving problems in her family, for when her brother-in-law and sister, Capt. and Mrs. Ambrogio Cassinerio, returned to Italy this month they found they had been transferred from Vicenza to Florence. Mrs. Cassinerio had just settled a house in Vicenza before coming to America in December, and now she is setting up housekeeping all over again, this time in an apartment in Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alden Rogers will move to Winnetka in May. They have taken a little house near the Leonard Burgwegers [Marion Calkins], who were married last October.

The Sterling Mortons have leased one of the Richard Bentleys' houses in Lake road, Lake Forest, for two years. They will move in this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Daggett Harvey already have obtained a Lake Forest house for the summer months. They have taken Mrs. Oliver Wilson's home in Ravine drive.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The natural line is the best line for eyebrows. An expert says that the brow line should follow the lines of the upper lip and usually nature arranges it that way. Skilful grooming and the right makeup should enhance the natural line, not change it.

Let Eyebrow Line Alone, Is Beauty Motto

"Let your brows alone" is an excellent beauty motto. Groom them, of course, and keep the space above the bridge of your nose free of stragglers, but do try to resist the temptation to change the natural line beyond recognition.

The completely unnatural eye brow line that was so beloved of the movie stars a few years ago and so widely copied by us lesser mortals is now unfashionable. But we find that a surprising number of the younger women haven't discovered this yet. Recently, when we were on a hunt for good looking photographic models, we found far too many girls who'd thrown their face off balance with a phoney eyebrow line. It seemed a dreadful shame that pretty faces should be made to look vacuous with a high, pencil thin line that had no harmony with the other features.

Not that almost all eyebrows don't need attention. They do—but not that much. A Chicago eye beauty specialist is firm in her conviction that the natural eyebrow line invariably follows the line of the lips and that this basic line should always be respected, not tampered with. One can dramatize this natural line by having it expertly groomed and even, if necessary, making it up a bit.

Eyebrows are important to a face. They can give it character or help it to be just sort of blah. If the line is artificial the brows can make the handsomest face rather silly looking. Any woman in doubt about her own brows should consult an expert to start her on the right eye brow road.

Use Shells for Latest Costume Jewelry Tricks

BY RHEA SEEGER.

People who design costume jewelry can't possibly boast of the required forty winks of sleep. The avalanche of new loot this spring is positively staggering in originality and lavishness. Just when you've managed to dull your appetite for lapel pins and funny chest clips and have begun to toy with the idea of collecting hat pins, along comes the new shell stuff and pouf—there goes the extra lunch money.

See this alluring aquatic jewelry before you sniff. It's so new you look for a few straggling strands of seaweed. Color ranges from lovely deep sea blues and greens to tawny gold, orange, and what they couldn't find in the sea the designers dyed. The results are unexpectedly effective, besides being the sort of stuff you can keep fresh and bright with a bit of soap and water.

This shell jewelry does wonders with dark clothes; it's medium in price so the budding career girls will like it for their office outfits. Chokers, clips, bracelets, even earrings complete the showing and you can start wearing it now and it will be just as effective next summer with summer clothes.

For the pearl hunters there is something new. Lusciously colored pearls in peach blossom pink, just as delectable as it sounds, a heavenly shade of crocus blue, some shimmering gray pearls and the new mixtures.

Both the peach blossom pink and crocus blue are a lovely contrast for navy blue and black outfits.

Bracelets, graduated strands and twisted chokers matched to button earrings comprise the collection. Well worth the money are the twisted chokers using the pink blue and pale beige pearls, or the copper, beige and ivory combinations.

These are brand new finds that look as much like spring as a crocus patch through the snow! All have modest price tags!

Educators Learn Mother Is 'Ma' to Quintuplets

New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Dionne quintuplets call their parents "ma" and "pa," the Progressive Education association heard today at its twentieth national convention. Nearly 2,000 parents, teachers, and school administrators listened with keen interest to a report on the five sisters by Dr. William E. Blatz, Toronto psychologist, who has directed their educational training. He said he expects them to score an intelligence quotient of from 95 to 105 [normal] by the time they are 5 or 6 years old.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Taking a Chance

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 23.—About $250,000 was bet at the track on the Santa Anita Derby, won by Earl Sande's Stagehand to the vast delight of those who were rooting for a Sande triumph. Biggest single bet made by the movie crowd on the winner was that of Sol Wurtzel, Twentieth Century-Fox executive. Wurtzel bet $300 to win and $300 to place.

Earl Sande.

William Anthony MacGuire won a sizable wager. So did Jimmy Grainger, president of Republic Pictures. Grainger, en route to Honolulu, left $100 with Song Writer Walter Donaldson to bet for him. Unluckiest of the movie colony was Myron Selznick. He bet $6,000 on his horse, Can't Want, lost in the shuffle.

Harry F. Sinclair's bet of $50,000 on My Play, a horse running at Saratoga back in 1924, is one of the largest ever recorded. The horse lost by a nose to Cartoonist Bud Fisher's hoss, Mr. Mutt, in the running of the Saratoga cup. Sinclair, concealing whatever emotion he may have felt, said: "Guess it's not my day." Your reporter would have been more dramatic—he would have dropped dead.

At Santa Anita, after Stagehand's victory, Doug Fairbanks, Joe Schenck, Bill Powell, and some of the other movie biggies were discussing big race track bettors and bets. Just for the records, here are some of the bigger race track coups: W. Averill Harriman collected $100,000 at Jamaica one day when Chance Play won. Frank Keenan, former Brooklyn theater owner, pocketed $130,000 at Aqueduct when a horse tagged Lombardo won. Coley Madden, one of the most unusual characters at the major tracks, won $120,000 on a horse named St. John at Empire City.

Show business has had a lot of nervy operators. Charles Dillingham thought nothing of risking a quarter of a million dollars on a musical show. Ed Wynn sunk $150,000 of his own dough in "Laugh Parade." Sam Goldwyn is often kidded because of his dialect, but Goldwyn has the heart of a lion when it comes to tossing in his own money on his own judgment. He spent $250,000 in an attempt to put over Ann Sten, and never squawked when his judgment was proved wrong.

Jock Whitney sunk $350,000 in "Jumbo," which he angeled; dropped another $150,000 in "Here Comes the Bride," produced by Peter Arno.

Not many people have the temperament for gambling. Don Ameche is the best of the local colony. Ameche must have had some nervy ancestor back in the branches of the Amici family tree in Italy. But he and his wife, "Honey," have a system. He is allowed to lose just so much and then he must go into retirement until he saves up money in his own account. During these periods, when he is unable to bet, Ameche is the saddest man in town.

Sometimes, of course, you can have your cake and eat it, too. Jock Whitney gambled $1,200,000 on the first technicolor picture, but he copered the bet, for technicolor stock, as a result of the picture, spurted to 26, and he made handsome profit in the market.

Don Ameche.

Warner Brothers really gambled daringly when they turned out the first full picture in sound, "The Jazz Singer," in 1927. It cost them $450,000 and theaters throughout the country were not equipped for sound. To make the prospect gloomier, on the very day the picture opened Sam Warner died. But H. M. Warner refused to back down to the cynics. "The Jazz Singer" grossed $6,000,000.

Personally, I've never had this kind of money and never will have it, but it is to be doubted that plunger Sullivan ever would command the recklessness of these mighty gamblers. And my inspection of all games of chance brings me to the conclusion that there must be an easier way to make a living than gambling.

I have never seen a pari-mutuel machine that looked underfed, but I've seen plenty of people who patronized pari-mutuel machines who are run down at the heel, and undoubtedly there is a moral to this.

Masterpieces from England on Exhibition

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A group of brilliant 18th century English paintings and a smaller group of important French paintings make up the new exhibit in the Anderson galleries, 530 South Michigan avenue. The show will continue some two or three weeks.

In the English room the magnificent Turner, "Bligh Sands," occupies one end of the gallery. Flanking it are landscapes and portraits by names that have made history.

The landscape with river by John [Old] Crome is an unusually fine example of this painter's work. It is rich, dark, and decorative. The painting comes from the collection of Sir Seymour Haden, the great etcher, who, by the way, made a mezzotint of it.

One of the most intriguing canvases in the show is the portrait of Sir Francis Bourgeois by Sir William Beechey; note the exquisite craftsmanship displayed in the painting of his dress. The portrait of Mrs. Hoare, at the other end of this line of pictures, gives us two as brilliant examples of Beechey as one could desire.

The portrait of George Canning, prime minister of England under George IV., by Sir Thomas Lawrence, is another stunning canvas. The portrait of Lord North, who was prime minister under George III., is an excellent example of Allan Ramsey. It might not be going too far to say that this particular portrait is the finest Allan Ramsey in the world.

George Henry Harlow was an English portrait painter whose work may be easily confused with that of Sir Thomas Lawrence. Booth Tarkington, the author, makes his art dealer, Rumbin, give warning that "a long necked Lawrence turns out to be a Harlow." To see how easily the mistake may be made there is a delicious Harlow, "Mrs. Lambourne of Tinsbury Manor," in the exhibition which 90 per cent of those who looked at it would be willing to wager was a Lawrence.

Three of the French paintings are especially important. They are a marsh sunset by Cazin, an exquisite landscape by Carot, and "The Washer-women," by L'Hermite, which is the last salon picture he painted before he died. In the gallery, too, is the only cast of Szukalski's Victor Hugo to have been seen in Chicago, a vivid, vehement, forceful sculpture.

Ila Woodward, Daughter of Judge, Weds Saturday

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday announced that his daughter, Ila, would be married Saturday to Thomas Hibley Willard in the Woodward home. Willard, grandson of Thomas Willard, late dean of Knox college at Galesburg, and Miss Woodward both attended Knox. The marriage will be solemnized by the Rev. Alfred W. Newcombe, a member of the history department at the college.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Balhatchet of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Mary, to Don Kent Alford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Alford of Evanston. Both Miss Balhatchet and Mr. Alford were graduated from Northwestern university. The wedding will be in September.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Virginia Doran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minford Doran of Rockford, Ill., to James Philip Dunn Jr., who is the son of James P. Dunn of Montrose, Colo., and is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dunn of Evanston. Miss Doran was graduated from Northwestern university last June. Mr. Dunn, who is practising law in Rockford, is a graduate of the University of Chicago law school.

THE STAGE

Cole Porter's latest musical comedy, called "You Never Know," will be produced in Chicago late in April or early in May, before it is seen in New York. It will have Clifton Webb, Lupe Velez, Libby Holman, and Toby Wing as stars. Miss Holman's last appearance in Chicago was in "Three's a Crowd" about five years ago.

The Chicago Mummers, semi-professional organization, will stage "Night Must Fall," a drama by Emlyn Williams, in the Chicago Woman's club theater tomorrow night. Performances will also be given on Saturday and Sunday nights. Kenneth Carrington, a veteran actor, will have the leading rôle.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Edith E. Meany, daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Meany of 1343 Granville avenue, to John A. Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley of 8005 Calumet avenue, will take place at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. Gertrude's church. Mr. Hurley and his bride will make their home at the Winthrop Towers.

The wedding of Miss Alice Josephine Burke, daughter of Mrs. Frank J. Burke of 1133 North Shore avenue, to Edward Joseph Minogue, son of Mrs. John Minogue of Evanston, will take place Saturday. The reception, after the ceremony, will be held at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Burke was graduated from Trinity college in Washington, D. C., and Mr. Minogue was graduated from St. Ignatius college.

The wedding of Miss Marylou Leimgruber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Leimgruber of 1800 Juneway terrace, to Charles Ernest Appleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Appleton of 3732 North Lawndale avenue, took place yesterday evening at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Glee Club Concert.

YOUR DOCTOR KNOWS YOUR MIRROR SHOWS

HURRY! "Bubble" OUT Those BLACKHEADS

If blackheads and similar complexion flaws remain stubbornly, "bubble" them out by using DIOXOGEN CREAM, the two-way oxygen cleanser:

First, it softens the hard fatty excretions that hold the blackheads so fast.

Second, it "bubbles out" the underlying grit and dirt so they can be easily and quickly wiped away.

The naked eye can't see this bubbling—but your doctor knows why it is so effective. And your mirror shows how wonderfully the skin responds to its invigorating action.

For a skin that is clearer, smoother, and noticeably fairer!—Use DIOXOGEN CREAM tonight! Approved by Good Housekeeping. 50¢ & $1 everywhere.

DIOXOGEN CREAM

CLEANS, CORRECTS, CLARIFIES THE COMPLEXION

NEEDLESS TRAGEDY for a girl to have chapped, red hands, so disillusioning to a man! Put back beautifying moisture in dry, rough hand skin with Jergens Lotion, which goes in more effectively. Prevents chapping. Restores velvet-softness even to hard-used hands.

WATER, wind and cold roughen and dry your hands—make them look old! Replace lost moisture with Jergens—which goes into the skin—and goes in better than any other lotion tested. Never sticky! Contains two fine ingredients known to medicine for softening and whitening. So—for shell-pink, tender hands, use Jergens. Only 50¢, 25¢, 10¢ or $1.00 at beauty counters.

GUNHAMMERED GOLD

By Luke Short

[Copyright: 1938: By Frederick Dilley Glidden.]

SYNOPSIS.

Abe McCandless, who framed Poco St. Vrain and made him an outlaw, owns a gold mine on a mountain peak. Two insurance agents, sent to bring down the gold, are murdered by two different bands of outlaws. Two-Way Hornbeck, leader of one band, persuades Poco to pose as one of the agents. At the mountain camp Poco finds Espey Cardowan, killer gunman, posing as the other agent. Shayne, the mine manager, has a lovely daughter, Kate. Cardowan crowds Poco off the cliff and takes the gold. He joins forces with Two-Way. Posing as prospectors they are given an army escort to Rincon. Meanwhile Kate helps rescue Poco. He confesses his identity and promises to recover the gold to save her father from blame. In Rincon Poco saves the life of a stranger, Van. He tricks Two-Way and Cardowan into admitting they put the gold on a stagecoach. Poco rides off after the coach. Two-Way double-crossing Cardowan, promises McCandless to lead a posse to St. Vrain and the gold. But Cardowan learns the hotel clerk has the gold which was put off the coach and rides off with it, also kidnaping Kate Shayne. The posse catch up with Poco on the coach. When they find no gold McCandless turns on Two-Way. In an exchange of gunfire both are killed. The mob returns to the hotel with Poco, and when they find Cardowan and the gold gone, turn on Poco. The stranger, Van, appears and announces himself a United States marshal. When the mob turns on him he and Poco take refuge in the sheriff's office. Harry, the stagecoach driver, and a girl called Steamboat give the two a chance to escape through the roof.

INSTALMENT XXXIV.
ON THE KIDNAPER'S TRAIL.

Poco noticed that the stage was slowing up. Van leaned forward in his seat, gun in hand, and when the stage stopped, he leaped out and swiveled the gun up to cover Harry.

"Shuck 'em out, Mister," he said good-naturedly. "You've got me out of a jam, but I can't take a chance that you'll put me in another."

Poco heard the chuckle and knew it was Harry's.

"Sure," Harry said, obligingly. "There's a rifle in the cupboard here if you can reach it."

Van swung up on the wheel-hub. Noiselessly, Poco stepped out of the stage, his gun poised, and waited. Harry saw and winked broadly, and Poco winked back. When Van had secured the rifle from the express compartment, he stepped down—into Poco's gun jamming him in the back.

Van stood motionless holding his breath.

Harry drawled dryly, "Even a United States marshal knows what to do when a gun's in his back, don't he?"

"Yes," Van said. He dropped the Colt and the rifle and looked up at Harry now. "You can't get away with it. You'll have to answer sometime."

"I figured on that," Harry replied evenly. "I got to answer for a lot of things. What'll it be, Poco? Go ahead or take a horse?"

Poco did not answer just then. He prodded Van up ahead of the horses, then examined the road, looking for some signs to back up the clerk's evidence. Guessing that Cardowan would hit for the nearest railroad point, which was over the San Jons, it followed that he would choose the quickest way over the trail. And there, fresher than any tracks except those of the single horse of the Negro who was on his way to Fort Benjamin, were the tracks of a team pulling a buckboard.

Van, watching him, guessing what he was doing, said, "You aren't going to follow him?"

"'Them,' you mean," Poco said somberly. "Kate Shayne is with him. I'm going to get him and the gold."

Van said slowly, "You mean, you're going to stick to it, when you'll have a posse of hard-cases and the United States army on your tail?"

"That's right," Poco answered.

To Harry, he said, "Anything against driving the legs off these horses, Harry, if I make it good, along with two fares?"

"You watch," Harry said, nodding.

Once the rifle and Van's gun were deposited under Harry's feet, Poco motioned Van into the stage and they were off again.

Kate Shayne was afraid to go to sleep, even if she had been able to. She crowded against the end of the buckboard seat, stiff with panic.

She recalled all those things she had spoken to Poco up there on the peak that night, hard and chiding things that blamed him for his way of life and his arrogance and his toughness. But now she would have given anything for some of his hardness, his cunning with guns, his mocking courage. Somehow, the memory of those chill dark eyes was comforting. Hadn't he said he would get the gold back? Didn't they have the gold here? Wouldn't he follow and overtake them? And when he does, she thought with shame, I will be proud of the murder in his eyes, that hard, unbending arrogance of his that will let him kill.

But in those hours before he came, she must face this out. And since she was a reasonable girl, she decided the best way to act would be to keep quiet. She did. Up the long grade of the San Jons, Cardowan rolled many cigarets and smoked them down without looking at her. His attention was on the horses, and he kept them working with that same ruthless threat that he used to drive men. It was a hard, nerve-straining pull.

Kate knew she was riding with a man whose cold, sure judgment of horses was instinctive and unerring. Dawn caught them nearly in the foothills, where the grade had lengthened out. The horses were almost foundered and welcomed the slow pace Cardowan chose now to breathe them.

While still in the foothills, Cardowan took a side road that turned south along the base of the San Jons. It was only a rough wagon road. After traveling it for an hour, they pulled into a clearing which held a log shack, a slab shed and a pole corral in which a half dozen horses were eyeing them.

He said softly to Kate, "I wouldn't try to drive off if I was you. There are fresh horses here, you see."

"Yes."

He looked at her and smiled wolfishly. "Your part's to keep your mouth shut—always. You better learn it."

He climbed down stiffly from the buckboard, waved to the man who started across to him.

Kate saw them conversing, then the man turned and entered the shack, Cardowan following him. When he was gone, Kate looked around here. There was thick screening timber surrounding her, which, once she was in it, would hide her. Cardowan could not search for her long, since his every action had spoken of his haste. The edge of the timber dipped close to the house at one point, and that would be the place to enter it. She eyed it for a few desperate seconds, gauging her chances of escape. Then she moved, sliding across the seat, putting her foot on the wheel hub.

And then, while she could feel her heart pounding with the excitement of it, she heard the shots—two of them—from inside the cabin. She froze utterly still, facing the cabin, the strength and courage draining out of her. Then she sighed and settled back on the seat.

Cardowan appeared at the door, in the act of holstering his gun, a rope in his other hand.

"Drive the team over to the corral," he ordered her curtly, and set out for the corral himself.

Kate brought the horses to life and drove the buckboard over to the corral. She wanted to ask questions, to know what had gone on inside the shack, but she knew without having to ask. Cardowan had decoyed the man into the shack on some pretense, made sure that the homesteader lived alone, then shot him.

Cardowan looked down at her as he climbed the corral poles.

"There's more than one way to settle with an unreasonable man," he said carelessly. "He wouldn't sell me his horses."

That was all. Kate sat there, fear rising up in her like a wave of nausea, until Cardowan's voice dragged her attention to him.

Sagging Chinline Often Is Caused by Faulty Posture

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Said the woman, fingering the wattled skin under her chin: "I don't think a worse tragedy can befall a woman than this! If you have it, it is all you see in the mirror!"

Some women take it that way, and some don't give it a thought. But when that signpost of age hurts us it appears just below the chin, it HURTS.

I don't believe there'll be as much of these chinline blues sung ten or twenty years from now. The younger women are taking precautions against it. Most important of all, they're tying the whole subject of chin and jawline contour in with posture study and perfection. You never see a bad chinline on a woman who has fine posture. All the massage treatments, the astringent usage, the patting and slapping in the world will not contribute one-tenth of what one can do for herself by holding the head up properly.

That broken down underchin, at least 75 times out of 100, is caused by bad head carriage and not by age or skin massage carelessness. So, in reckoning on any measures of remodeling the chinline, begin with the carriage of the head. The head is held tall. That's the best way to describe it. The chin is not shoved forward. It falls in precise place when the head is held as if sustained by a string from the ceiling.

Throat massage, neck massage, patting and astringents, understand, are fine assistant correctives, but they won't do a bit of good if the head is allowed to go on bearing down on, and breaking down with its weight, the muscles that were intended to hold up the chin. To help strengthen those flabby muscles, by all means do neck, chin and throatline exercises. Here's a grand one, but do it exactly as ordered. Stand with feet apart. Bring fingertips together at rear of the head, elbows to the front.

Now here's the trick: Press the head backward, at the same time pressing forward [or resisting] with the hands, until the elbows are at the sides in a horizontal line with the shoulders. And do this on a full breath. Relax. Repeat. Do 25 times, 50 times.

ing in Tryon, N. C., where the Chicago colony is growing steadily. Among next autumn's debut parties will be one given by Mr. and Mrs. Karcher in Barrington for their daughter, Miss Barbara Willson, who is a student at the Knox school. Miss Willson is a year behind in school, because of an accident that kept her out most of last year, so she will return in the fall to finish her studies at Knox.

During the spring holidays Miss Willson probably will visit friends in the east. Her brothers, Freer Willson, who is at Williams, and Archie Willson, a student at the Ridgefield school, will come home for Easter.

The Orrs' new home is going up about a mile away from the Dunham Woods Riding club, and since the Orrs are living in St. Charles it is easy for them to keep an eye on its progress. Mr. Orr's mother, Mrs. Arthur Orr, is at her ranch near Bozeman, Mont. She will come to St. Charles late this spring for a brief visit.

Miss Mimi Orr, who will join her mother in Montana this summer, and Miss Barbara Hess, a debutante of the season, are living in town this winter. The former is attending business college and the latter is studying at the Art institue.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Church, who are living in Evanston, hope to start building on their property west of Winnetka in the spring. Mrs. Church's aunt, Mrs. Benjamin F. Taylor, will return to the Ambassador East next month from a holiday in Pasadena, Cal.

G. F. Babsons Welcome Second Daughter.

A second daughter, was born at the Passavant hospital Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Babson Jr., of Oak Park. The baby probably will be named for her mother, the former Miss Jean MacArthur. Her little sister's name is Barbara. The babies' maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Telfer MacArthur, are planning a trip to Sea Island, Ga., next month with the Kenneth Templetons. Miss Dorothy MacArthur will go from Smith college to join her parents for the Easter holiday.

Mrs. George A. Richardson has returned from California, bringing news of her newest grandchild, Samuel F. B. Morse III., who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. B. Morse Jr., in San Francisco on Feb. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Elting Jr. became the parents of a son, their first, yesterday morning at St. Luke's hospital. The baby, and his little sister are grandchildren of Victor Elting and of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edwin Stanley. Mrs. Elting is the former Miss Helen Stanley.

Country Day School Dedication Program.

Alumni of the North Shore Country Day school in Winnetka are saving the afternoon of Sunday, March 6, for an interesting program at the school, the dedication of its new Lower School building. The first part of the program will be held in the school auditorium with Perry Dunlap Smith, headmaster, as the main speaker.

T. Kenneth Boyd, chairman of the building committee, William McEwen, representative of the class of 1927, and children of the third grade, who have studied the construction of the building as a project in connection with their class work, will share the platform with Mr. Smith. Upon leaving the auditorium, guests will inspect the new building and its equipment, with members of the faculty, parents, and senior students acting as informal guides. Tea will be served around the fireplace in the new kindergarten room.

Members of the committee planning the dedication program are Mrs. Myers Wilcox, Mrs. Lawrence Howe, Mrs. Walter F. Straub, Mrs. Stephen A. Gregory Jr., Mrs. Denison B. Hull, Mrs. William A. Magie II., Mrs. Gail Selden, Miss Janet Harvey, Ronald Gleason, and David H. Corkran.

Cup for Champion Waltz Skaters.

The cup presented by Mrs. Charles H. De Long for the champion waltz skating team at the Winter club Washington birthday ice carnival was won by Helen Priebe and Betty Peabody. The runners-up were Deborah Smith and Alice Keith Carpenter. Mrs. Philip D. Armour and Douglas Blossom were the judges.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giles Walker are entertaining at cocktails from 5 until 7 o'clock Saturday in their apartment at 3140 Sheridan road. Mrs. Walker is the former Jane McMurray.

Mlle. Fernande Combet will speak on "Souvenirs of Paris" at the weekly causerie of the Alliance Française this afternoon. Mrs. Thomas V. Hinde, Mrs. A. H. Wolf, and Mrs. Loise Dreyfus will be co-hostesses at tea after the program. Mme. René Weiller, wife of the French consul-general, and Mme. Jules Bloch will pour.

The duc de Levis-Mirepoix will speak at the Alliance Saturday morning. The duke, a historian, novelist, and official lecturer of the Alliance, is a member of one of the oldest families of France. "The duc de Saint Simon at the Court of Versailles," is the subject of his lecture.

Miss Barbara Cook and James Dunbar to Wed Tomorrow

James H. Dunbar Jr., executive vice president of the International Air show, and Miss Barbara Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, 5836 Stony Island avenue, will be married tomorrow in Hilton chapel on the University of Chicago campus. The announcement was made yesterday after the couple obtained a marriage license.

They will leave immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon in Jamaica. Miss Cook, a graduate of the University of Chicago, was the first girl ever to be named honorary colonel of the school's reserve officers' training corps. She also was production manager of Mirror, co-ed dramatic organization.

Flattering to All Women

WOMAN'S AND MISS' BLOUSE.

Flattering to all types of figures and to women of all ages is this blouse with shirred bodice and simple hipline. Younger women will like it with cap sleeves, soft rolled collar, and narrow sash tied around the slim waist. Matrons undoubtedly will prefer the more conservative styling of untrimmed V neckline and bracelet length sleeves, which are flatteringly full. You may have either buttons or a slide fastener up the front.

Any type of silk, either heavy or sheer, will make up well, and there is no need to select only plain shades. There are many sheer prints that are exceptionally pretty. All informal occasions will find this blouse the ideal partner of a simple skirt.

Style No. 2067 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for the blouse with kimono style sleeves.

Military Block Is Perfect Quilt for a Man's Room

Star and Stripe.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Typically masculine is this good looking military block, "Star and Stripe," which is pieced in two shades of red and white. This pieced pattern contains numerous patches and is the type of design which appeals to women who prefer the more elaborate and complicated quilt blocks in preference to any type of applique. In keeping with the masculine effect is the size of the block, measuring 16 inches square. Thirty pieced blocks are set together to form an all-over design, and the coverlet is finished with a 5 inch border and a ½ inch bias binding.

Prof. Leverton Quits N. U. Post for Publishing Field

Prof. Garrett Leverton of the dramatic production department of the school of speech at Northwestern university yesterday announced his resignation to accept a position with a firm of play publishers in New York. Prof. Leverton will leave the university in June. He was director of the university theater at Northwestern. He was graduated from DePauw university at Greencastle, Ind., received his master's degree from Northwestern, and taught from 1924 to 1928 at Lake Forest college before joining the Evanston school's faculty.

[ADVERTISMENT]

Unsightly, Dry Rough Hands Made Soft and Lovely

This is one sure way that has never failed to make hands soft, smooth and white. The way Doctors, Dentists and Nurses do . . . and every one knows how important it is for them to keep their hands in good condition.

Hands get rough and red when essential skin elements are destroyed by harsh treatment, dishwashing and bad weather. The way, then, to make them soft and white, is to replace these essential elements. To do this, get Mystic cream from any druggist or department store. Mystic cream supplies everything your skin needs to keep it from chapping and getting rough and red.

Apply it at night before retiring. It is absorbed almost instantly. Mystic cream is not the least bit sticky or greasy, and it won't stain. Results are quick and sure.

No work will be too harsh. Bad weather won't bother you. You will always have soft, smooth, lovely hands if you get the habit of using Mystic cream.

This simple treatment never fails.

Mother's Aid Should End if Son Marries

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am engaged to a young man and we intend to marry within a few months. I am 27. He is 25.

"He suggests that after we marry, and have our own little apartment, we eat at his mother's to save expenses. The food will be ours, but his mother will cook it at the same time she prepares the meals for her family. This is so that when I get home from the office I won't be burdened with the cooking. Also it will save gas bills.

"What I don't care for and fear is the part of being around mother-in-law too much. She likes me and is a lovely woman, but I feel that eating with her only once a week will keep us on more friendly terms. My fiancé wants to live near his mother, as he works in her neighborhood. I feel that living there and eating there will be a strain on me."

Why does a young man, old enough to contemplate matrimony, think his mother's job a lifelong one where he is concerned? Isn't it enough that she has raised him to a man's estate? Isn't it her privilege to call it a day when some other woman takes him over?

When moving in on the man's mother is contemplated or done it is the man's suggestion. The woman is more apt to suggest, where doubling up seems expedient, that they live with her mother. And in more of the latter cases does success follow the experiment than those in which the girl moves in with the young man's people.

The girl's mother is more inclined to accept a son-in-law as a welcome addition than is the young man's mother to accept a new daughter. In the latter instance there are two definite opposing factors trying to rule.

It goes without saying that the move asked about by the correspondent would be a fatal one. Better to postpone the marriage until the gas bill can be viewed with less apprehension than to move in with the idea of using mother as a means to a mean end.

We would be hesitant about taking on for life a man without the self-respecting independence to see his marriage through without his mother's help.

College Federation Will Observe Founders' Day

Founders' day will be celebrated by the Federation of Parents, Teachers, and Students of the Woodrow Wilson Junior college and the Chicago Normal college at 2:30 o'clock today. Mrs. Edward W. Jackson, state membership chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Charles W. Balch is president.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright; 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The great match-point value that may be attached to a measly 20 or 30 points in duplicate bridge causes some spirited bidding duels. The team that holds the superior ranking suit has a distinct advantage, of course, in these duels. But this advantage does not insure victory, by any means. Consider the close decision thrust on South in the following hand:

North, dealer.
Match-point duplicate.

	NORTH ♠ A 9 8 7 3 ♥ 10 6 4 ♦ Q 10 5 2 ♣ 8
WEST ♠ Q 10 ♥ A Q 5 ♦ 9 7 4 ♣ A J 10 3 2		EAST ♠ J 6 2 ♥ 7 3 ♦ A 8 6 3 ♣ K Q 7 4
	SOUTH ♠ K 5 4 ♥ K J 9 8 3 ♦ K J ♣ 9 6 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 heart	3 clubs
3 spades	3 clubs	Pass	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	Pass	4 clubs
Pass	Pass	4 hearts	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's opening bid was weak, but not unduly so as third hand in a match-point duplicate game. When North came in, first, with a spade bid and, later, with a heart raise, and the opponents still persisted to four clubs, South found himself rather on the spot. He realized, of course, that he and his partner might be able to defeat four clubs, but certainly there was no assurance of that. The bidding had told him clearly that North had only one club and, therefore, he decided to go to four hearts in the hope that he would go down no more than one trick which, even doubled, would be 100 points against the 130 points that would accrue to four clubs.

Personally, I think his decision was wrong, that if four clubs could be made, four hearts would be punished more than one trick. But I must admit that South's course had a remarkably good outcome.

West opened the club ace [lucky for South that East did not win the first club trick, since a heart lead through the king-jack then would have resulted in dummy's trumps being taken out and the defenders eventually taking three clubs, two hearts, and one diamond]. Afraid to break any other suit, West continued clubs. Dummy ruffed, and a low diamond was led. East, one of those defenders who automatically play "second hand low," ducked, and the king won. Declarer's last club was ruffed and another low diamond was led. This time East thought about the proper play but was afraid to put up the ace for fear that declarer would ruff. So now the blank jack won. Having "gotten away with murder" thus far, declarer now warmed to his work. He saw a chance to avoid the loss of a spade trick. He played the heart king. West won, and returned a club. Declarer ruffed, and led the heart jack. West took his queen and led his last club. Declarer ruffed and drew the one outstanding trump with the heart nine. This lead was too much for East, who had to find a discard. Dummy was down to the A-9 of spades and the blank queen of diamonds. East, discarding after dummy, had to let go a spade from the J-6-2, or the diamond ace. Naturally, he preferred the former, but this was quite satisfactory to declarer, who led a low spade to the ace and returned to his own king, dropping the queen and jack together. Declarer's remaining spade gave him his tenth and fulfilling trick.

To put it mildly, the defenders had been very helpful!

The Housewife

The housewife can save money with a polish that will clean and shine all metals. Instead of using one thing for brass and another for plated ware and a third, perhaps, for aluminum, she can now get a single liquid that will turn the trick for everything.

This polish will not eat away delicate or engraved surfaces, and it is both easy and economical to use. It is sold in cans. EDITH WEIGLE.

CHAPPED HANDS HEAL FASTER!

SPECIAL TRIAL OFFER 25¢ JAR ONLY 15¢

SURVEYS indicate that thousands of Doctors use Noxzema Medicated Skin Cream for Chapped Hands. That's because Doctors know that Chapped Hands are really Cut Hands—tiny cracks in the skin that need soothing, protective medication to help nature heal irritated skin faster.

"In my practice, my hands get in very bad shape—Noxzema gives better and quicker results." That's typical of what Doctors say.

Noxzema is a dainty, snow-white, greaseless medicated cream. Its medication sinks into the tiny skin cracks—stops all smarting, itching and burning irritation almost at once, protecting the skin and promoting faster healing.

See how effective Noxzema is for your hands. Make this simple test. Apply it on one hand tonight. Compare your two hands in the morning—note how one hand has started to heal—how much softer, whiter it is than the other. Get a trial jar today.

Canned Fruits Are Legion and Widely Varied

[Copyright; 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Family diets in many homes are somewhat limited by the cook's lack of familiarity with the limitless variety of foods in various forms which are available in our modern wonder markets.

Particularly is this true with respect to canned foods. The variety and quality of canned goods constantly increases, and several sturdy pantry shelves can accommodate enough different ones to provide interesting meals for several months.

Usually it pays to buy canned goods in quantity when there are "specials" on them. Always it pays to buy a well known brand. Here is a fairly complete list of canned fruits from which to choose. Tomorrow I shall list canned vegetables available.

CANNED FRUITS AVAILABLE.

Apple butter	Oranges, stuffed
Apple juice	Oranges, mandarin
Applesauce	Orange juice
Apples, sliced	Peaches, crushed
Apples, spiced for pies [cinnamon]	Peaches, halves
Apples, whole	Peaches, sliced
Apricots, halves	Peaches, whole
Apricots, whole [peeled or unpeeled]	Peaches, diced

Cranberry juice	Plums, egg
Currants	Plums, greengage
Figs, dried, in sirup	Plum nectar
Figs, fresh, in sirup	Prunes, dried, in sirup
Fruit cocktails [small pieces]	Prunes, dried, without sirup
Fruits for salad [larger pieces]	Prunes, fresh, Italian or Oregon
Fruit salad with wine	Prunes, sieved
Gooseberries	Prune juice
Grapes [muscats]	Quince
Grapefruit	Raisins
Grapefruit juice	Raspberries, black
Loganberries	Raspberries, red
	Rhubarb
	Strawberries

Definite specifications for quality, color, form, size, and sirup are followed for each grade of every fruit. Top grade fruits are designated as "fancy." Fine quality fruits, a little better than standard and a little less excellent than the fancy grade, are called "choice." Medium quality is known as "standard" and somewhat inferior products as "seconds."

FANCY GRADE FRUIT [grade A]—Is free from blemishes, uniform in size, excellent in flavor. It is packed in very heavy sirup.

CHOICE GRADE FRUIT [grade B]—Usually is one size smaller than fancy, is free from blemishes, and uniform in size. The flavor is good, the sirup fairly heavy.

STANDARD GRADE FRUIT [grade C]—Is of average quality, is reasonably free from blemishes, and fairly uniform in size. Medium sirup, good flavor.

SECOND GRADE FRUIT [substandard]—May have blemishes and is not uniform in size. The sirup is very light or the pack may be in water rather than in sirup. Flavor inferior to that of other grades.

11 BEAUTIES FLY AWAY AND ONLY ONE FLIES BACK

It's a Saga of Fashions, Florida, and Fate.

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—This is the saga of eleven models, all as beautiful as models should be, and how they all fled to Palm Beach and how only one came back.

The scheme originated with Virginia Vincent, in the public relations department of a 5th avenue store, who thought it was an excellent idea at the time and who does not, emphatically, think so now.

"All I get is calls from husbands and brothers and sisters and mothers and fathers," she lamented today, "and they all think I ought to know where the girls are. I don't know. I was not their chaperone. Goodness knows I am not a chaperone.

Here's What Happened.

"This is what happened: We decided to put on a fashion show—advance spring style—at the Colony club in Palm Beach. There were eleven girls in all—all of them those lovely models, the cigaret ad girls, the automobile ad girls.

"Well, we chartered a plane from the Eastern Air Lines and we all left. That was early this month. There were the eleven girls, and Dick Merrill was pilot.

"We reached Palm Beach all right and we gave the show. The next day I couldn't get them up.

Five Reduced to One.

"I finally got five of the girls, after they held up the plane for two hours, and we went to Miami and then I lost two of them there. And from Miami I started home with the other three. But I lost two of them en route, one in Washington and another at some other place I forget. All I know is that I only got back with Edit' Backus."

Miss Vincent said the girls had with them only the clothing they were wearing when they left. She was asked how it was possible for them to be spending weeks down there with such a scanty wardrobe.

"That," she said, "is a fine question to ask."

TRAFIC DEATHS MAR CHICAGO'S TWO DAY RECORD

Chicago ended its second day without a trafic fatality at 4 p. m. yesterday, but the record was marred last night.

Mrs. Jane Mansfield, 54 years old, of 11426 Perry avenue, died in the Roseland Community hospital after being struck as she was crossing 115th street at Perry avenue. Charles Pepelea, 21 years old, of Clinton, Ind., was the driver.

Clifford L. Tufford, 57 years old, of 7125 Greenwood avenue, was injured at 71st street and Dobson avenue by a car driven by Jacob D. Fulrath, 65 years old, 7144 Bennett avenue. Tufford died in the Jackson Park hospital.

Frank Galuhn, 61 years old, 2614 Bosworth avenue, a cement finisher, died in his home early today of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile at Wrightwood and Ashland avenues Dec. 9. The driver of the car, Edward Lambert, 32 years old, 2458 Clybourn avenue, awaiting trial on a charge of reckless driving, was ordered to attend the inquest.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday there had been 147 deaths from trafic accidents, 120 in Chicago. In the city 2,527 persons had been injured.

Police were called to four Chicago relief stations yesterday after picketers and sit strikers declared they would remain until relief money and supplies were distributed more freely.

At the Washington Park station, 6 East 35th place, 32 colored persons were arrested by Stanton avenue police and charged with disorderly conduct when they refused to leave peaceably. Warren avenue police posted a guard at the Humboldt Park station, 251 North Hoyne avenue, when picketers fled, shouting they would return and wreck the place.

Chicago avenue police dispersed a crowd which at closing time refused to leave the lower north station at 849 Hudson avenue. Ten relief clients who refused to leave the southeast station, 1752 East 75th street, were ejected by Grand Crossing police.

Chicagoan Is Found Dead in Gas Filled Florida Home

Miss Gertrude Closser, 60 years old, a Chicagoan, was found dead yesterday in the gas filled kitchen of her winter home at St. Petersburg, Fla. Miss Closser, who formerly resided at La Porte, Ind., had made her home for the last year with Mrs. George Shaw, 9717 South Damen avenue, a cousin, who was with her in Florida.

MRS. LOTTIE KAZMIERowski

Although he lives only two blocks away, Harry Kazmierowski, 27 years old, has not seen his son, Harry Jr., 8, for the last five years, Judge John J. Lupe was told yesterday by Attorney Herman P. Scher. Scher represents Kazmierowski's divorced wife, Lottie, 4862 North Ridgeway avenue, who alleges he owes her $1,964. Judge Lupe ordered the father to visit his son and start paying on the $7 a week support order.

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Spencer Tracy underwent an operation for hernia today in a hospital where he has been confined since Monday. M. G. M. Studio said he and Mrs. Tracy would leave for the south seas as soon as he recovers.

SERVES OUT TERM AS DRUNK DRIVER; PUT ON PROBATION

Damon Fuller.

Damon Fuller, 1155 East 56th street, son of George D. Fuller, professor emeritus of plant ecology at the University of Chicago, finished a ten day jail term yesterday on one charge of driving while intoxicated, and was given probation in the Safety court on another. Judge Charles S. Dougherty suspended his driving privileges for a year.

Fuller was arrested in January and won a continuance. He was arrested again on a similar charge, and both cases came up at once two weeks ago before Judge Dougherty, who doubled the usual penalty of five days on the first charge. Yesterday, in disposing of the second charge, he told Fuller:

"You are a difficult problem, but you've had a taste of jail, and I hope it will teach you something."

Three others sentenced by Judge Dougherty yesterday, two of them to jail terms for drunken driving, were:

WILLIAM G. ROSE, 40 years old, 20 West Huron street; ten days and license ruspended for three months.

ARTHUR HILL, 27, colored, of 5815 Wabash avenue; ten days and three months' suspension.

DRIVER AWARDED A $16,583 VERDICT AGAINST RAILWAY

Arthur S. Fagan, 39 years old, of Downers Grove, was awarded $16,583 damages yesterday from the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad by a jury before Judge William J. Wimbiscus of Spring Valley, sitting in Circuit court here. Fagan's automobile was struck by a train at the Main street crossing in Downers Grove. His attorneys, Murphy O. Tate and R. N. Wyckoff, contended that a lax gateman raised the gates after a freight train passed. The next instant Fagan's car was struck by a fast passenger train and hurled 100 feet against the depot. The railroad maintained the wig-wag signal should have warned Fagan.

CAP BLAST INJURES FOUR.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Four girls were injured by the explosion of a dynamite mine cap in a Hanover township schoolroom today. Mary Kosty, 13 years, who found it on her desk when school opened, lost two fingers and the thumb of her left hand. The other girls received powder burns.

YOUR COUGH

IS A WARNING SIGNAL —DON'T NEGLECT IT!

When you catch cold and your throat feels dry or clogged, the secretions from countless tiny glands in your throat and windpipe often turn into sticky, irritating phlegm. This makes you cough.

Pertussin stimulates these glands to again pour out their natural moisture so that the annoying phlegm is loosened and easily raised. Quickly your throat is soothed, your cough relieved!

Your cough may be a warning signal from your respiratory system. Why neglect it? Do as millions have done! Use Pertussin, a safe, pleasant herbal remedy for children, grownups. Many physicians have prescribed Pertussin for over 30 years. It's safe, acts quickly. Sold at all druggists.

If you make Shuttlecocks

. . . or sheep shears or steam shovels, you need to explain the sheep shears, steam shovel or shuttlecock business. Someone, somewhere, feels your prices are too high, your wages too low, your hours too long, your dividends too short, your shears too stiff, your shuttlecocks too fragile, your steam shovels too light or too heavy.

Because millions of people hold similar beliefs about every business, NATION'S BUSINESS seeks, through its editorial columns and through its promotion, to encourage straight thinking about ALL business.

The current promotion program as illustrated above by NATION'S BUSINESS presents the story of American business every month to its own 300,000 subscribers, and to over three million Saturday Evening Post readers twice monthly. Businessmen in local communities have sponsored and paid for reproductions to an additional circulation of over 10,000,000 in newspapers and other magazines.

More than 600 communities, organized locally to promote a better understanding of business, have availed themselves of over 5,000,000 folders, reprints and other supporting material for local distribution.

The program has become the personal crusade of thousands of men who care about preserving the spirit and enterprise of American business.

To advertisers and advertising agents, all this is an extra dividend. The 300,000 businessmen who subscribe to NATION'S BUSINESS are reading it with more interest, feel greater friendliness for it; look on it as the staunch defender of their own interests.

The best proof of all this is the eloquent fact that, since the fall of 1936, when this magazine aggressively took up the banner of business in its advertising, the circulation of NATION'S BUSINESS has increased 28%.

But here is an even bigger set of reasons for using NATION'S BUSINESS to deliver your selling message to the business market: It offers you almost as many executive subscribers as all other general business magazines combined!

—more than twice as many businessmen as the next largest business magazine has total subscribers!

—almost as many manufacturer subscribers as the total circulation of any other business magazine!

—more subscribers in large cities than any other business magazine has in all the cities, towns and villages in the land!

—and to cap it all—a cost per thousand readers which is about one-half the cost of the next business paper!

Looking at these facts, you can pack an answer to the question of how to sell to businessmen into three words:

Use NATION'S BUSINESS.

LOUIS KNOCKS OUT MANN IN THIRD ROUND

CHICAGO COMPLETES GOLDEN GLOVES TEAMS TONIGHT

SOUTH SIDE TO HOLD FINALS IN WHITE CITY

Champions Crowned in North Section.

Golden Glove Facts

CHICAGO'S South Side Golden Gloves champions will be crowned in tonight's final metropolitan sectional competition. Two out-of-town teams also will be chosen, leaving only one of the fifty centers to complete its lineup for the Tournament of Champions. Tonight's events:

CHICAGO.

Place—White City arena.
Time—8 p. m.
Number of bouts—36.
Admission—75 cents. No reserved seats.

OUT OF TOWN.

Rockford Morning Star championship round.
Streator Times Press championship round.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The last of the Chicago battalions in the Golden Gloves army will be chosen tonight, when the south side's ablest young punchers battle in the White City ring for the right to take part in the Tournament of Champions in the Chicago Stadium next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thirty-six bouts are on tonight's card, starting at 8 p. m.

The south side finals tonight will conclude all sectional qualifications in Chicago. From the warfare at White City will come eight more representatives in the open division and eight novice qualifiers. The north side winners were named last night in Loyola university gymnasium, joining the victors in the west and northwest trials, both of which were decided last week.

The new north side champions are:

NOVICE DIVISION.
112 POUNDS—William McCarthy, C. Y. O.
118 POUNDS—Joe Allegretti, C. Y. O.
126 POUNDS—Harold Jackson, Bowman Athletic club.
135 POUNDS—John McQuitter, Savoy, A. C.
147 POUNDS—Eugene Scruggs, C. Y. O.
160 POUNDS—Wilbur Foster, Tilden Tech.
175 POUNDS—Matt Egan, Young Peoples Keenan club.
HEAVYWEIGHT—Edward Steele, Trafton's gymnasium.

OPEN DIVISION.
112 POUNDS—Jesse Robinson, Acme Steel.
118 POUNDS—William Jefferson, American Giants A. C.
126 POUNDS—Eugene Ward, Union Park.
135 POUNDS—John Pleasan, Savoy A. C.
147 POUNDS—Savior Canadeo, C. Y. O.
160 POUNDS—Cornelius Young, C. Y. O.
175 POUNDS—Charles Richardson, Savoy A. C.
HEAVYWEIGHT—Luke Baylark, Savoy A. C.

Luke Wins an Easy One.

Big, dusky Luke Baylark from the Savoy A. C. glanced up and down and across Loyola university gymnasium at 11 o'clock last night. He was looking for the fellow who was to fight him for the north side heavyweight championship.

"He must be late," Luke lamented.

Luke shaded his eyes with his hamlike right mitt and looked again. His foe still was among the missing and still is this morning, as far as anybody knows. So the title went to Luke by default.

Big Luke's title came easy, but it wasn't that way in the other battles. It was punch for punch all the way until one lad's hand was lifted in victory or his opponent had been counted out.

They've Earned a Rest.

The north side champions will rest today and do some limbering up exercises tomorrow while the cuts and scratches of their sectional struggles heal. They will box on Saturday, then take it easy until they are called into the ring for the Tournament of Champions.

The most sensational fighter to come out of the north section title scraps was a novice. He was Wilbur Foster, a powerful puncher from Tilden Tech High school, who scored two spectacular knockouts to win the 160 pound crown.

His victims were David Brown of the C. Y. O. and James Smyles of the Savoy A. C., both rough and ready colored boxers.

Crowds Are Hard to Please.

Two decisions, those handed down after the first two novice division championship bouts, brought roars of protests from the crowd. William McCarthy got the first one and Joe Allegretti the second. Both bouts were thrillers. A knockdown Allegretti scored over Donald Malatesta from the Young People's Keenan club no doubt won him the verdict.

Jesse Robinson, runner-up in the Tournament of Champions in 1936, returned to the battle lines again in time to win the open division flyweight title. He whipped Emerterio Trinidad, 1257 North Clark street, in

Two old cronies with a dialect all their own spent the day at an Old Settlers' picnic. During the day they consumed a lot of brew, some of which spilled on their shirt fronts and sleeves. When they started for home in the old lumber wagon a crowd of flies darkened the air and almost blinded the two old soaks. Befuddled, but not entirely oblivious as they bounced along the road, Ame turned to Otto and said, "Jeepers, Otto, let's get out and let the flies ride."—Saint Charles.

Sweet trav'ler from some tropic strand
Where soft the south wind blows,
Perchance rare fragrance bringest thou
Of myrtle and aloes.
Just skip the gush, the robbin quoth,
I very nearly froze,
This place is really only fit
For seals and Eskimos.

Glad songster of the coming spring
We list for notes full sweet.
Not one wee squawk, the redbreast croaked,
Until I get some heat.
Then rustle up a worm or two.
A bird, you, know, must eat.

CARDINALS SIGN DEAN; MEDWICK STICKS TO GUNS

Outfielder Demands a Bigger Raise.

Winter Haven, Fla., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—"Dean vs. Cardinals," that interesting playlet which for several seasons has ranked high among major league baseball's holdout dramas, today reached a peaceful conclusion when Jerome [Dizzy] Dean signed his 1938 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. Although no announcement was made as to the terms the big pitcher accepted, it was understood that he will receive $17,500, as against a reported $27,000 last season.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the Cardinals and the man who conducted the conversation with Dean, was jubilant over his success, saying: "He's got fire in his eye, and that may mean a lot to our club. The spirit Dizzy is showing may be contagious. I hope it is. The Cards are a seventh place ball club on paper, but determination may lift them much higher than that."

Confers with Medwick.

Rickey's troubles aren't over, however. He said tonight that he already had conferred with Joe Medwick, star outfielder, who has refused to sign. Rickey said his discussion with Medwick, conducted in St. Petersburg Beach, was a friendly one, but that Medwick thought the salary increase offered him wasn't substantial enough.

Ordinarily the script of the "Dean vs. Cardinals" winter production has been packed with threats and calling of names, but the curtain fell on today's final act with surprising calm.

The voluble Dean wore an effusive smile as he emerged from a three hour conference with Rickey. Heretofore the drama has been prolonged by Dean's threats of quitting baseball forever, frequently continuing well into the training season.

Expected a Cut.

The 1938 version of the act ran smoothly with one exception. That came when Diz, on receiving his first contract, fired it right back to the Cardinal office. Diz was quite wrought up, claiming that he had been offered a contract which cut his 1937 salary by more than $10,000. He admitted he had anticipated a cut, but thought that he was worth at least $20,000.

U. S. WINS MATCH WITH JONES FOR $53,339 IN TAXES

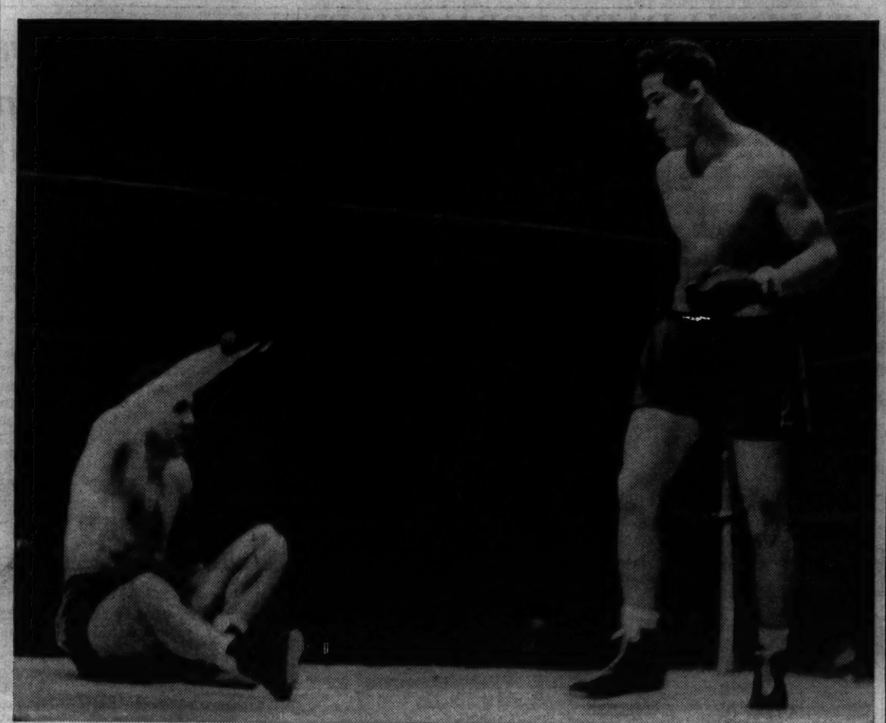

Macon, Ga., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Lawyer Robert Tyre Jones Jr., who, as Bobby Jones, ruled world golf for a decade, today lost a match to the United States government. Federal Judge B. S. Deaver ruled that Jones cannot recover taxes of $53,339.97, imposed in 1931 and 1933, on sums received by Bobby's father for movie work done by the former champion.

The money came to the senior Jones as trustee for Bobby from Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., for whom the champion had done a series of short subjects. When the case was heard Feb. 3, both Jones and his father testified the money received was held in trust for the golfer's three children. The elder Jones had bought the golfer's services for the motion pictures for $1,000. Judge Deaver found that the two Joneses had entered into a contract in 1930, after learning that a substantial federal income tax would be imposed on earnings from Bobby's personal services. Jones' father received $101,000 from Warner Brothers for his son's work in 1931, and $55,200 in 1933.

It's a Great Day for Discovery: He's a Father

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Discovery, handicap champion of the 1935 racing season, today became the father of a bay filly, out of Oroya, at A. G. Vanderbilt's Sagamore farm, near here. She is Discovery's first offspring, and probably will not be named until she is a year old.

Another Fight, Another Knockout for the Champion

Nathan Mann, New Haven, Conn., heavyweight challenger, sprawls helplessly on the floor before Champion Joe Louis' merciless battering in the third round of last night's championship fight in New York. Mann was unable to rise after this knockdown and was counted out. This was Mann's fourth trip to the canvas.

Louis Tells of K.O., but Mann Can't Recall It

New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—"I just went out there and started bopping him," drawled Joe Louis after his three round knockout of Nathan Mann tonight.

The champion, who hardly got up a good sweat in the brief workout, took his second successful defense of his heavyweight title in stride. He was so fresh he didn't lie down on returning to his dressing room.

"He hit me some good punches in the first and second rounds, but they didn't hurt," he said. "I don't think he hits as hard as some of the other fellows I've whipped."

It Didn't Hurt.

"No; I felt it, but it didn't hurt none."

"It annoyed you a little, though, didn't it?"

"Well, I reckon it did sort of wake me up. That's when I really started to work. Looks like I was a little slow warming up, don't it?"

Louis said he would have another tuneup fight some time in April. It was reported that the fight will be held in Chicago, with Harry Thomas as Joe's opponent. Jacobs said he would name Louis' opponent today.

Mann Can't Remember.

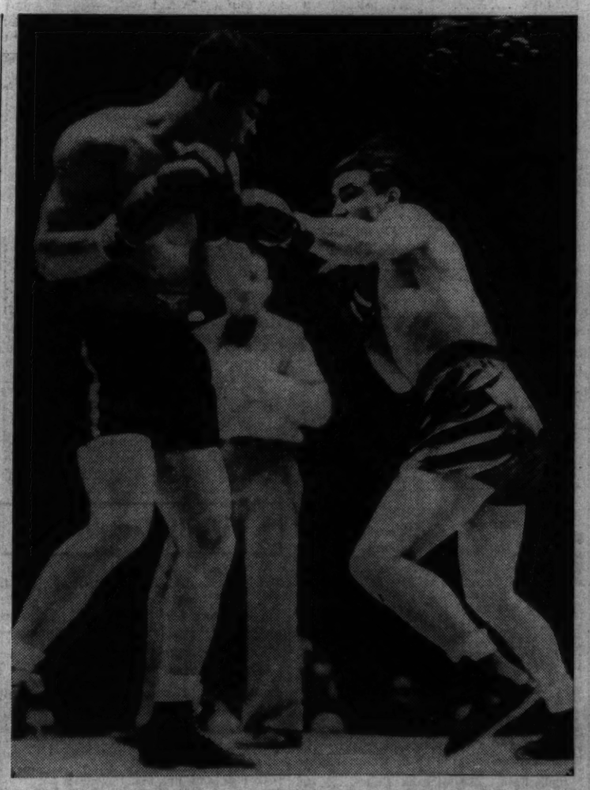

Mann said he didn't remember a thing after Louis caught him with a savage left late in the second round until he heard Referee Arthur Donovan call "ten" after the knockout punch. The entire third round was a blank to him, he said.

"I didn't see the blow that knocked me out. I don't remember being knocked down in the second round. That Louis sure can punch.

"I was in there gambling to win and put all I had into it while it lasted. Louis hurt me plenty, but I'll bet some of those rights I shot into him in the first and second rounds hurt him, too. It's too bad I had to let all those swell Connecticut folks down."

Mighty Lefts Batter Down Challenger.

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The expected happened in Madison Square Garden tonight. Joe Louis, Chicago Tribune Golden Gloves product and world's heavyweight champion, knocked out Nathan Mann, New Haven, Conn., farm hand, in the third round before a crowd of 19,490 which packed the Garden.

Mann Down Four Times.

In the short time required for the fight—it was one of the shortest heavyweight championship bouts in history—Mann went down four times. He was down for a count of nine in the second round when the bell came to his rescue as Louis tried with powerful, cruel punches, to finish the match.

Testifying to the power in Louis' punches was Mann's statement after the bout. Asked why he did not take advantage of longer counts in the third round, Mann replied: "I didn't know I was down. Was I?"

Gate Total $111,698.

One of the largest crowds ever to witness an indoor bout turned out for this heavyweight championship fight, the first held indoors since 1920 when Jack Dempsey knocked out the late Bill Brennan in twelve rounds in the old Garden.

Though the bout was advertised as a tuneup for Louis' match against Max Schmeling for the title in June, and despite the realization in advance that Mann had only an outside chance to win, the gross gate was $111,698.

Admittedly, Mann had very little chance when he entered the ring, but he was young, sturdy, fired with ambition, and the gates to fortune were open to him. In this setting about everything happened in this heavyweight bout — but it all happened to Mann.

Mann Stings Champion.

There was nothing much to the fight. Its suspense was delayed only until the second round. Then Mann, plunging in, stung the champion with a mighty right to the jaw. The blow bounded Louis against the ropes. He admitted later it hurt him. Doubtless, it shook the champion without staggering him. And, in the end it only brought about Mann's doom.

For Louis, rebounding from the ropes, decided to waste no more time with this young farm hand. He had been boxing cautiously, catlike in his movements, sticking and stabbing with a left that was sharp and powerful enough to snap Mann's head back, split the challenger's lip, and draw blood from his nose.

But that punch transformed Louis into the Golden Gloves bomber—the vicious, pitiless Louis fans knew before he won the crown last June from James J. Braddock. He was as unlike the placid Louis of last September against Tommy Farr as day is unlike night.

They're on Bandwagon Again.

Veterans at the ringside said the Louis of last night would have knocked out Schmeling. One insisted: "In not more than five rounds."

In the first round, which he won, Mann outfought Louis. He moved away from Louis' leads, and, midway through the round, drove the champion across the ring with a series of hard blows to the head.

Mann came out to do or die in the third. He started slugging with Louis near his own corner, but Louis' blows had far more power and he hammered Mann backward with a brace of bomblike lefts to the face. A left dropped Mann in midring but he was up quickly.

Donovan Ready to Step In.

Louis knew it was only a matter of seconds and followed his prey across the ring. A left hook to the mouth, a right to the ribs, and another left hook to the face sent Mann down in a heap.

When he arose Referee Donovan looked toward the judges, but they made no sign. Louis then sailed in, battering the hapless Mann who tried to fight back and actually succeeded in landing several rights to the head.

Louis smashed Mann into the ropes, switching his attack to the body. Then he moved him into position and stretched him across the lower rope with a left and right to the chin. Mann hung there for a moment, trying to gather his senses.

Referee Donovan appeared about to stop the contest. He looked across the ring, but didn't bother to pick up the knockdown timekeepers' count until it had reached eight. Then he made a few half-hearted gestures as he tolled the final seconds.

ARMSTRONG ENDS WORKOUTS FOR RIGHTMIRE BOUT

Makes His First Chicago Appearance Tomorrow.

$5,000 in Hand.

At any rate Promoter Mique Malloy said $5,000 worth of tickets had been sold up to last night. Another $2,000 was counted in reservations. The promoter explained that although a sell-out crowd of 10,000 is likely, there still are tickets available in all locations. Tickets are priced at $1.10, $2.20, $3.30, and $5, including tax.

Armstrong, who sparred three rounds yesterday with three partners, will move to the American Giants Athletic club on the south side this afternoon to put the finishing touches to his condition.

Joey Burman, who had a claim on the bantamweight title in 1923; Herbie Schaeffer, former featherweight headliner, and Roger Whalen, chief inspector of the Illinois boxing commission, were among the spectators in Trafton's gym yesterday. Burman said that Armstrong is one of the best fighters he's seen in the last ten years.

Comments on Armstrong.

"He's a type we used to call a bulldozer," Joey explained. "By that I mean he keeps shuffling forward and uses his great strength and counter punching skill to rough his foe and make him jittery. He's got flaws, but he'll do until a better battler comes along."

"He's got the confidence and sureness all champs possess," Herbie said, "yet he's not as good a fighter as I expected to see. For one thing he leads to the head or body with his right and that was a dangerous thing to do in my day because the opposition would take advantage of the opening and knock you out with a counter punch. If Rightmire knows anything about boxing and can hit fairly hard he will score an upset."

Clyde Troutt New Trainer of Hertz Horses

New Orleans, La., Feb. 23. — [Special.]—Clyde Troutt of Benton, Ill., announced today that he had completed arrangements to take charge of training the horses of John Hertz, Chicago sportsman, who operates the Leona Stock farm near Cary, Ill.

Troutt, who started his career as a groom, now has a string of thirteen horses quartered here for the Fair Grounds meeting. He said today that he plans to dispose of these horses.

Frank Hackett, who has been training the Hertz horses, will become business manager of the stable when Troutt takes up his new duties on March 15. A consignment of Hertz horses is to be moved from the Leona farm to New York early next month.

PERRY HAS SOME TAX DIFFICULTY; VINES FIXES IT UP

Miami, Fla., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—A tax debate between Fred Perry, British tennis player, and Agent Ray Ford of the Internal Revenue department, today was settled by Ellsworth Vines, exhibition opponent of Perry, after the argument had delayed the take-off of the Bahaman Clipper plane for ten minutes.

Perry and Vines, together with Walter Senior and Berkeley Bell, were flying to Nassau for an exhibition match. They were about to board the plane, when Ford challenged Perry on the rule that aliens earning a living in this country are not permitted to leave it without paying their income taxes. Perry said that he had paid taxes of $3,500 last year, and that he would not pay any 1938 tax until it was normally due. Vines finally offered to guarantee Perry's return and to pay the Englishman's tax if he did not return. Ford then granted Perry a departure permit.

SEEDED PLAYERS WIN IN INDOOR TENNIS TOURNEY

Virginia Hess Grelle of the Chicago Town and Tennis club defeated Pearl McCoy of Gage Park and Catherine Malcolm of Los Angeles yielded only one game to Velia Shumbeck of the Kelvyn Park club.

Competition in men's doubles opened with eight matches being played. Competition in the men's and women's singles and men's doubles will be resumed Friday night. The semi-finals will be played Saturday afternoon and the finals Sunday afternoon.

HOLD BILLIARD TOURNEY.

SMILIN' JACK—FOOL'S GOLD

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—WOMAN, THY NAME IS MUD

Stadium and Garden Try to Get Together

Miami, Fla., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—A huge sports promotion agreement involving New York and Chicago interests is believed in the making here as a result of several conferences among leading sports promoters from those two cities. The agreement, if reached, is expected to end the bidding and counterbidding between New York and Chicago for sports attractions.

Despite denials that any such plan is under consideration, Mike Jacobs and Bill Farnsworth of the Twentieth Century Sporting club of New York; Joe Foley, Chicago, who with Jacobs promoted the Braddock-Louis title fight, and Arthur Wirtz and William Burke of the Chicago Stadium, have been in conferences here for several days.

Jacobs Fights Garden, Wins.

Last year Jacobs concluded a successful fight on Madison Square Garden when he, with Foley, staged the Braddock-Louis fight in Chicago and broke the Garden's monopoly. Jacobs now controls all boxing in the Garden.

Biggest shareholder in the Chicago Stadium is James E. Norris, capitalist and grain operator who is also a big stockholder in the Garden. Norris is coming here within the next week.

Jacobs, who went to New York for the Louis-Mann fight, is expected back in several days. The truce between the Garden and Jacobs was the first step toward this merger.

Attractions for Chicago.

The next took place when Jacobs staged the Sonja Henie ice revue here. Miss Henie's country-wide tour was made possible through the financial backing of the Chicago Stadium group and Jacobs, in bringing Sonja here, made the deal through Wirtz and Burke.

The merger story indicates that the Chicago differences, if any, will be ironed out, which means Chicago would be in line for a number of big attractions.

HYDE PK. SENIOR FIVE WINS; GAINS TITLE PLAYOFF

Bowen Beaten, 29 to 12; Hirsch Plays Today.

Hyde Park's senior basketball team qualified for the quarter final round of play for the Chicago Public High School league championship yesterday by defeating Bowen, 29 to 12, at Hyde Park gymnasium. It was Hyde Park's seventh victory in eight games.

Hirsch, which is in second place in the south division, can tie Hyde Park for the sectional championship by defeating Morgan Park today. Both teams, however, will qualify for the title playoffs, and if Hirsch wins today the toss of a coin will determine the sectional title holder.

Darr, forward, and Pratscher, center, led Hyde Park against Bowen, the former scoring three field goals and three free throws, and Pratscher contributing two baskets and three free throws. Hyde Park led at the quarter, 12 to 1, and at the half 15 to 5.

Calumet, Kelvyn Park, and Hyde Park won junior contests. A basket and a free throw in the final seconds by Bob O'Hara enabled Calumet to defeat Englewood, 34 to 31; Kelvyn Park routed Foreman, 52 to 35, and Hyde Park won from Bowen, 22 to 17.

Bloom won a doubleheader from University High in South Suburban league competition, the heavyweights by a 31 to 24 score and the lightweights 27 to 16. Lineups:

Tribune Offers 14 Trophies in Casting Event

BY BOB BECKER.

Casters and fishermen have only a few more days to practice, adjust and oil their reels, and make final preparations for the Tribune's annual casting tournament which will be held at the National Boat and Sports show opening Sunday at Navy pier.

Fourteen trophies will be awarded to the winners of the casting events and the title of Chicagoland champion goes with the winning of the final competition to be staged Saturday night, March 5. There will be events for club casters, for fishermen not affiliated with casting clubs, for women, and for boys and girls under 16. Tournament equipment will be used in all events except the fishermen's competition.

Here's Complete Schedule.

SUNDAY, FEB. 27—Instruction, practice, and exhibitions.

TUESDAY, MARCH 1—Chicago Fly Casting club contests.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2—Illinois Casting club contests.

THURSDAY, MARCH 3—Fishermen's casting events. [For casters not affiliated with any of the casting clubs.]

FRIDAY, MARCH 4—Women casters.

SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 3 P. M.—Boys and girls under 16.

SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 8 P. M.—Finals. [For winners of first, second, and third in previous events.]

SUNDAY, MARCH 6—Instructions and exhibition.

All of the events will start at 7:30 p. m. except the junior competition on Saturday afternoon and the final events Saturday night. All competition will be in five-eighths ounce bait casting. There will be no fly casting events because of space limitations.

Plan Star Instruction.

Several nationally known casters will be at the pier to instruct novices in fly and bait casting. Among these will be Marvin K. Hedge, Portland, Ore.; Curley Moulton, Geneva, O.; Tony Accetta, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Richard Summerhays, Chicago, and Stuart Pritchard, South Bend, Ind.

Casters wishing to compete in any of the events should send their entries to this department, Tribune Tower, Chicago. Or they can enter by contacting W. J. Butler, tournament manager, at Navy pier. Butler will be at the Tribune booth near the casting pool each day of the tournament.

C. Y. O. FIVES OPEN SECTIONAL MEETS ON TEN FLOORS

Intersectional matches of the eighth annual C. Y. O. basketball tournament will begin tonight in ten gymnasiums, with eighty teams—forty-eight heavyweight and thirty-two lightweight—vying for places in the finals, March 6.

First and second place winners of each division will compete tonight. The victors will move into the second playoff bracket next Sunday.

Last year's champions, St. Elizabeth heavies and St. Laurence ponies, have reached the playoffs again. They will play against the St. Rita sectional leaders at Mount Carmel High tonight. Playoffs will continue Sunday and Monday, with the quarter finals and semi-finals set for March 1 and 3, respectively.

The gymnasiums in use tonight will be St. Mel's High, St. Bernard's, St. Sabina's, Mount Carmel High, St. Rita High, Fenwick High, St. Philip's High, St. Sylvester's and Queen of Angels.

IT'S GOOD JUDGMENT TO CHOOSE Wood-Stock

● Notwithstanding its moderate price, Wood-Stock Whiskey is as fine a bourbon as Old Kentucky ever produced. The rich full-body, the pleasing fragrance and delicious taste are the result of choice small grains distilled to the peak of perfection. Both your palate and your purse will tell you that it's good judgment to ask for Wood-Stock.

CUBS TO ARRIVE AT CAMP TODAY; PLAN WORKOUT

Manager Grimm Promises Hard Batting Drills.

Gallup, N. M., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—If the Cubs fail to hit consistently against National league pitching this summer, it won't be because of lack of practice. Manager Charley Grimm made that plain today in chats with his players as their train moved them ever closer to their training base. The team will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning and the first workout is scheduled at Catalina Island in the afternoon.

Hitting is going to form a major part of the Cubs' spring practice, Grimm announced. He has wired ahead for six pitchers from the Los Angeles club to accompany the team to Catalina to serve as cannon-fodder for the Cubs throughout the entire stay on the island. The coast leaguers have been in training for a couple of weeks and are in shape to give the boys trouble while working the winter's film from their batting eyes.

Plan Intensive Practice.

"We need more hitting," Grimm declared, "and if practice will turn the trick, we'll get it. We're going to start right in Friday morning with plenty of swinging up there at the plate and when the regulars arrive they'll get plenty of it, too."

By the time the second squad arrives, Grimm hopes his own pitchers in the advance contingent will be ready to help the Los Angeles boys on the mound. The pitchers among the early birds are Clay Bryant, Newel Kimball, Albert Epperly and Roy Parmelee, all right-handed, and Bob Logan and Clyde Shoun, southpaws.

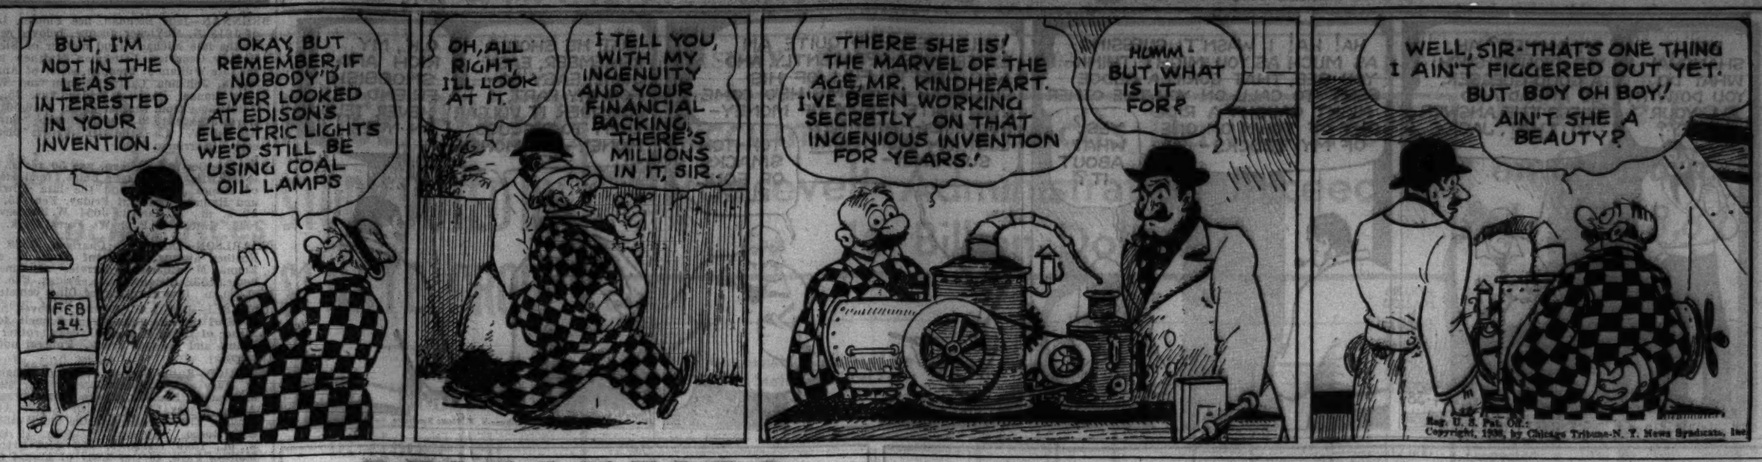

Kimball is to join the party tomorrow morning in Los Angeles, along with Tony Lazzeri, Steve Mesner, Tony York, Carl Reynolds, Jim Asbell and Coach Roy Johnson. Reynolds and Mesner formerly wore the livery of the White Sox, against whom the Cubs play a good portion of their exhibition games.

Intrasquad Games Planned.

These exhibitions will be preceded by about a week of intrasquad games on the island. The Cubs are better fortified for these contests than in any previous year, having two men for every position with a spare infielder and outfielder left over.

The only ailing member of the advance group, Secretary Bob Lewis, was much improved today, having recovered the use of his voice. Nothing more has been heard, however, from Pitcher Kirby Higbe, who missed the trip in order to return to the bedside of his wife, who is ill in Columbia, S. C.

Sammy Consolo, 124th Field Artillery armory, who appeared to be on his way to the south side novice lightweight title, ran into a little hard luck in the south sectional semi-finals when he was eliminated by George Richardson of the Catholic Youth organization.

Shortly after the second round opened Consolo ran into a left and right to the face which floored him. The young fruit and vegetable clerk was unhurt and took advantage of the count while resting on one knee. At the count of nine he started to rise, but before he had regained his feet Timer Herman Henning had counted him out.

Referee Norman McGarity then stopped the match and gave Richardson credit for a knockout. The A. A. U. rule stipulates that the referee has the final say in the matter.

No Doubt About These.

Two of the most spectacular knockouts of the evening came in the eighth and ninth bouts. They were recorded by Hubert Wood, C. Y. O., and Johnny Miller, American Giants A. C., both middleweights.

Wood dropped Earl Harris of the Savoy A. C. for the full count shortly after the first round started with a perfectly timed left hook to the chin.

After battling on even terms in their opening session, William Brown of the Three Musketeers ran into a powerful right to the jaw propelled by Miller in the second round and was counted out.

Old Favorites Win.

Twenty-nine south side battles were held last night. Such favorites as Lou Angelucci, 124th Field Artillery armory welterweight, and William Goldsmith, 1936 C. Y. O. lightweight champion, were among those who advanced to tonight's finals.

Goldsmith easily defeated George Johnson of the Savoy A. C. in three rounds while Angelucci conquered Jake Lampkins, 1934 Golden Gloves novice and 1936 C. Y. O. open champion in three.

A right to the ear almost floored Lampkins in the first round. In the second the two rivals traded rights with Angelucci having a shade the better of the exchange.

Von Schacht Throws Beth in 21 Minutes 38 Seconds

Friedrich Von Schacht of Germany threw Bill Beth of San Francisco in 21 minutes and 38 seconds last night in the Rainbo Fronton arena. Von Schacht tired his foe with headlocks, then beat him with body slams. Al Williams and Jack Curtis wrestled to a sixty minute draw. Rudy Stronberg threw Scotty Dawkins in 12:09, Walter Palmer tossed Roy Rickenbacher in 15:40, and Fred Grubmier and Joe Corbett drew in a 30 minute bout.

Dickson Quits Princeton to Assist Crisler

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Campbell Dickson became Princeton's third contribution to the Michigan football coaching staf today with the announcement that he would come here on a part time basis as end coach.

Dickson, a graduate of the University of Chicago and end coach on H. O. [Fritz] Crisler's Princeton stat since 1932, succeeds Bennie Oosterbaan, assistant coach here since his graduation from Michigan in 1928.

Dickson's appointment, following Crisler's announcement Monday that Earl T. Martineau would come here as back field coach, leaves Michigan only without a line coach for 1938. E. E. [Tad] Wieman, Crisler's chief assistant at Princeton, had been the leading candidate for this position until his appointment as Crisler's successor at Princeton.

Also a graduate of the University of Chicago law school and a member of the Illinois bar, Dickson has served as assistant coach at Minnesota, Chicago, and Wisconsin, and in 1923 was head football coach at Beloit college.

Hocky League Title Play to Open March 24

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Dates for the annual Stanley cup playoffs were announced today by the board of governors of the National Hocky league. The league championship will be decided in a three out of five series between the two teams which finish the regular forty-eight game schedule at the top of the American and Canadian divisions.

This battle, to be called series A, will be played on March 24, 26, and 29 and March 31 and April 3.

Series B, bringing together the second place finishers in the league, and series C, involving the third place teams, each will be played on a two out of three game schedule. The first two games will be played on a home and home basis on March 22 and 24, with March 26 or 27 for the third game.

The winners of series B and C then will meet in series D, to be played on March 29, 31, and April 3. The victor in series D will battle the winner of series A for the Stanley cup, in a five game series starting April 5.

SHARPSHOOTING HAWKS BATTLE RANGERS TONIGHT

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The Chicago Blackhawks, who meet the Rangers tomorrow at Madison Square Garden, arrived today from Montreal where they set their best season's scoring last night in defeating the Maroons, 6 to 5. It was the highest score compiled by the Hawks since Jan. 26, 1937, when they won from the Americans at New York, 9 to 0.

Tonight's game is a crucial one for the Chicagoans. Although they lead Detroit by two games, the Red Wings have played two less than the Hawks; so it is necessary for Hawks to win over the Rangers to whom victory or defeat means nothing as far as a playoff birth is concerned. The Rangers are in second place, 4½ games behind Boston and 8 games ahead of Chicago.

Three points apiece by Paul Thompson and Doc Romnes against Montreal sent both up in the scoring list. Thompson, with 32 points, is trailing the United States section's leader, Cecil Dillon of the Rangers, by only three points and Bill Cowley of Boston by one.

In six games against the Rangers, the Hawks have won three, the Rangers two, and one was tied. Two of the Hawks' victories were achieved in New York.

The two teams will conclude their series in Chicago Sunday night in the Stadium. The lineup:

ILLINOIS SWIM TEAM DEFEATS PURDUE, 48 TO 36

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Counting heavily in the relays and free style events, Illinois defeated Purdue today, 48 to 36, in a dual swimming meet.

The Boilermakers took firsts in four of the seven individual events, but the visitors won both relays, along with the 100, 220, and 400 yard free style events. In water polo match following the swimming meet the Boilermakers defeated Illinois, 2 to 1.

Kilian-Vopel Quickly Take Lead in Milwaukee Race

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The German team of Gus Kilian and Heinz Vopel held first place with a 20 point lead over their nearest competitors three hours after the start of Milwaukee's seventh international six day bicycle race tonight. Kilian-Vopel and the team of Ernst Buhler-Gottfried Huertgen were tied in mileage at 73 miles 6 laps.

First National Five Wins in Bankers' League, 39 to 30

First National, Chicago Title and Trust and Hotel La Salle triumphed in Chicago Bankers' Basketball league games at the Central Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday. First National defeated American National, 39 to 30; Chicago Title won from Northern Trust, 25 to 17, and Hotel La Salle defeated Harris Trust, 34 to 29.

NORTHWESTERN SWIMMING TEAM BEATS CHICAGO

Winning all the free style events and the diving, Northwestern's swimming team defeated Chicago's Maroons, 52 to 32, last night. Wolfson, Northwestern sprinter, won the 60 yard and 100 yard free style races.

Northwestern's water polo team avenged an earlier defeat by Chicago this year by beating the hitherto unbeaten Maroons, 7 to 2.

MARLIN SINGLE EDGE BLADES Same Flawless Quality 15 for 25¢

Have you the lips of a CAPABLE CRITIC?

The face of JOHN CHAPMAN

Starting as a reporter and photographer, he is now drama critic and editor of New York's largest circulated newspaper. His column "Mainly About Manhattan" is one of the most popular features of the "News".

LIPS OF A CAPABLE CRITIC

Thin and thin-skinned. Muscular at the edges, but soft and mobile. Characteristic of a type with great precision of taste. The distance of the lips from the base of the nose is longer than average. The flesh immediately below the under lip is inclined to bulge slightly forward. Characteristic of a type with keen perception—one who weighs values with acute precision.

Real capable critics of whiskey quality give an all-star ★★★★★★★★★ rating to this "double-rich" Kentucky straight Bourbon. Taste it!

CHARLIE MEETS JACK BENNY ON THE AIR TONIGHT

Join in Program to Honor Louis B. Mayer.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

What happens when the No. 1 and 2 radio choices of the country appear on the same program will be known at 11:15 tonight when Charlie McCarthy [with Edgar Bergen] and Jack Benny meet in a Hollywood tribute to Louis B. Mayer, motion picture leader. Bob Burns, Allan Jones, Jeannette MacDonald are others to contribute to the entertainment. And there will be a lot of praise slinging by Cecil B. De Mille, Will Hays, Gov. Frank Merriam, Joseph M. Schenk, and others.

W. C. Fields, who used to call Charlie McCarthy his diminutive little chum, is to make a one time return to radio, not however opposite Bergen's hunk of pine. Fields is to revive the rôle of Prof. Eustace McGargle which he made famous in "Poppy" on the stage and in the movies on the CBS Radio theater, Monday, March 5.

Taking a lead from the Hollywood book, a Chicago group is organizing a central casting bureau for radio actors. Idea is to give the 400 or more local radio actors and producers a clearing house for talent—to their mutual advantage, and to the advantage of the promoters who will collect a percentage. The new casting outfit is setting up headquarters in Mather tower. A. N. Elyot, formerly with Don Lee Artists bureau in Hollywood, and Margaret Patterson, formerly with the Affiliated [Insull] Broadcasting system, will be the managers.

George Jessel, Mutual network comedian, has launched a new crusade for the forgotten men [and women] of radio—the writers. He proposes that they be credited on the air for their work, just as stage and screen writers are.

"If it is important that at the end of a program an announcer says 'The song you just heard is from Meet Me in Pittsburgh from the motion picture by the same name, by the courtesy of Gigantic pictures,' then it is only fair that credit be given the men who have written the continuity for a program," he said.

"Having their names mentioned will help them to get other work. As it is now no one knows them, but a few insiders."

"I intend," Mr. Jessel went on, "to start crediting writers on my own show next week by saying, 'The material for these programs is written by Sam Carlton and George Jessel.'"

Congressman Thompson [D., Ill.] said yesterday in Washington that a house subcommittee would hold hearings next month on a bill introduced by Congressman Boylan [D., N. Y.] to tax radio stations. As introduced the measure calls for an assessment of $1 per watt on stations under 1,000 watts; $2 per watt on those up to 10,000 watts, and $3 on those in excess of 10,000.

Feature of the We, the People broadcast at 6:30 tonight over WBBM-CBS is to be an interview with A. E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia building contractor who was twice ejected from the recent conferences of small business men in Washington. Another guest will be Frank Chabina, the Louisiana youth, whose sight was restored through the gift of an eye from one John Amos.

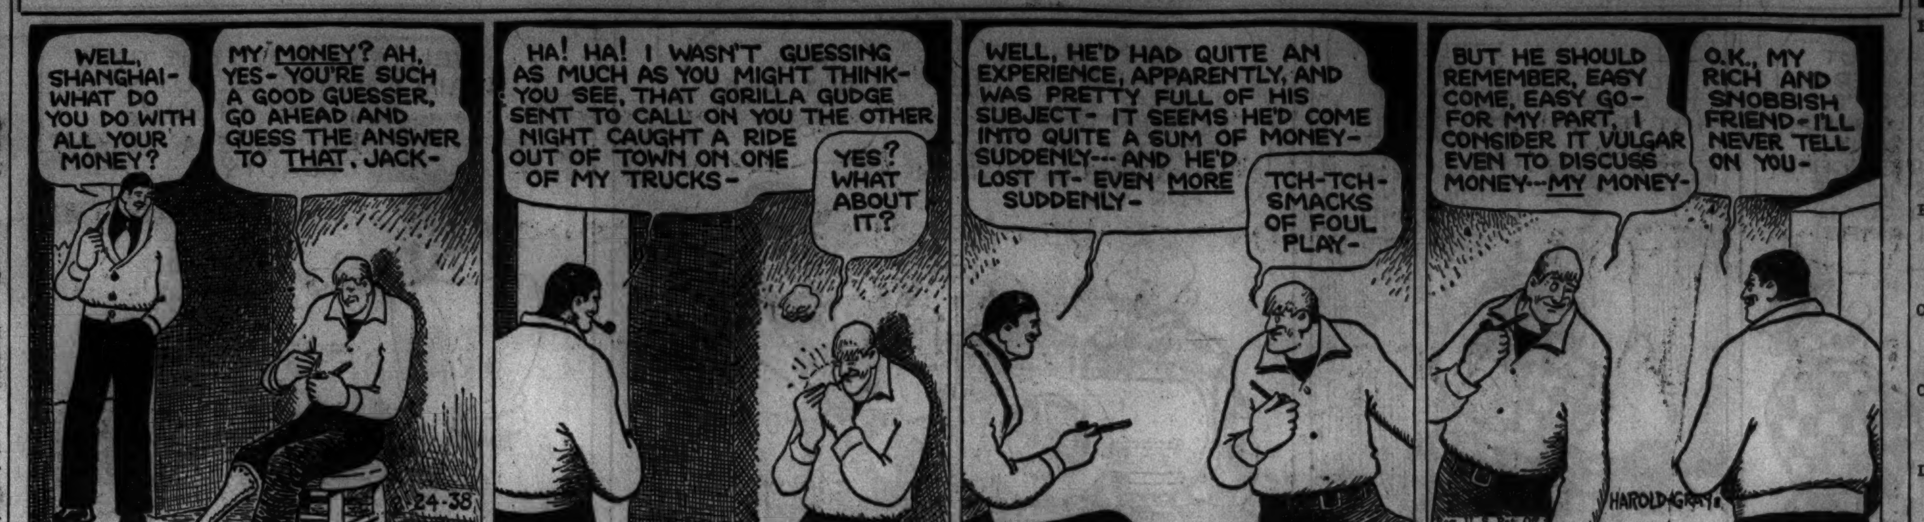

BENJ. ANDERSON, TRIBUNE MAILING ROOM HEAD, DIES

Benjamin Anderson, 65 years old, day superintendent of THE TRIBUNE mailing room, and a Chicago newspaper employé for more than forty years, died yesterday. He suffered a stroke in the shower room of the Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street, after playing indoor baseball.

Mr. Anderson began work on the Evening American, becoming mailing room superintendent. Later he went to the Journal as circulation manager. In 1924 when Liberty magazine was founded he became superintendent of the mailing room. He came to THE TRIBUNE in 1930.

His widow, Lillian, of 4649 West End avenue, survives. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Thomas Aquinas church. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery.

CALAMITY CARRIE . . . How She Changed Her Luck on Washday — By STANLEY OLIVER

HOUSEWIVES AMAZED BY THIS NEWEST "NO-SCRUB" SOAP

IMAGINE! Only 15 minutes' soaking—no scrubbing, no boiling—yet white clothes come 4 to 5 shades whiter! Even "grimiest" spots come white with a few quick rubs.

No wonder thousands of women are discarding old-style soaps and switching to OXYDOL—the SAFE "no-scrub" laundry soap. It is the result of a new formula that makes mild, gentle soap 2 to 3 times whiter washing than less modern soaps. Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine.

But OXYDOL doesn't depend upon harshness for its unusual results. It is made by the Ivory soap people—and it is SAFE for all washable colors and hands. Even sheer cotton prints washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL suds, showed no perceptible sign of fading.

So try OXYDOL without fail. Every day you put it off you are missing something that will give you a totally new conception of faster, easier washdays—of brighter, whiter clothes!

You can get OXYDOL at all dealers. Why not phone for a package today? Procter & Gamble.

JUDGE ACCUSES H. L. CLARKE OF UTILITY FRAUD

Assails $2,000,000 Stock, Loan Deal.

Harley L. Clarke, ousted ruler of the 400 million dollar power empire of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, was charged with fraud in a complicated $2,000,000 stock and loan transaction of the corporation and its subsidiaries and holding companies, in a memorandum issued yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly.

"All of these transactions are marked by an utter lack of good faith," asserted Judge Holly. "Fraudulent is rather a mild term to apply to them."

The judge issued his memorandum on a petition by Frederick Z. Marx, trustee for the Webster Securities corporation, Clarke's personal holding company, which with the parent company is undergoing 77B bankruptcy reorganization. The memorandum instructed Marx to vote 100,000 shares of common stock of Utilities Power and Light corporation at the stockholders' meeting of that company on Feb. 28 in accordance with the wishes of Floyd B. Odlum's Atlas corporation.

Shares Pledged for Loan.

The shares are pledged on a note held by Atlas corporation, which ousted Clarke from control of Utilities Power and Light late in 1936 and since has been engaged in a bitter court fight with him, in which charges of fraud and looting of company assets have been exchanged freely by the contestants.

Clarke was quick to point out yesterday through his attorney, Roy D. Keehn, that he was not a party to the proceedings in which Judge Holly made his charges. Similar charges were made in 1936 in a suit filed on behalf of Utilities Power and Light corporation against Clarke by Dwight H. Green, then United States district attorney, but that suit is pending before Judge James H. Wilkerson, not Judge Holly.

At Clarke's request, Attorney Keehn obtained from Judge Holly a hearing this afternoon at which his side of the story will be presented. This was done when Clarke's plea that the judge's memorandum be withheld until he be heard arrived after release of the memorandum.

No Connection, Says Clarke.

In a telegram from New York to his lawyer, Clarke said:

"It seems to me the opinion is not based on whether the transactions with Webster Securities were fraudulent. Since I was not a party to the court proceedings, will you please see Judge Holly at once and request him to delay filing his opinion until we can have a reasonable time to give him the facts. I maintain and can prove that the transaction of $2,000,000 made by Webster had no connection whatever with the 100,000 share voting trust certificate."

In his memorandum Judge Holly outlined the complicated process by which Webster Securities corporation acquired the voting trust certificate for 100,000 shares of Utilities Power and Light from the latter company.

Traces Deal Through Banks.

The certificate was pledged with the Old Central Republic Bank and Trust company in 1931 for a $2,000,000 loan. The money, Judge Holly charged, was used by Clarke to pay personal debts. Clarke's note passed to the Reconstruction Finance corporation as part of the collateral on the $90,000,000 "Dawes loan," and from the RFC eventually to Atlas corporation.

"The transaction by which Harley L. Clarke obtained $2,000,000 in cash from Utilities Power and Light corporation was fraudulent," said Judge Holly. "There can be little doubt that, desiring approximately this amount of money to meet his obligations to a New York bank, he devised a scheme by which, through his control of Utilities Power and Light corporation, Utilities Power and Light securities company, and Webster Securities corporation he could obtain the money of Utilities Power and Light corporation to pay his private debts."

Another 30,000 Block Involved.

Also involved in the memorandum were voting rights at the coming stockholders' meeting of another voting trust certificate for 30,000 shares, now held by Jason & Co. as the nominee of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, with which the certificate was pledged as collateral. The bank may vote this certificate through Jason & Co., Judge Holly ruled, and then said of the 30,000 share transaction:

"That transaction was more complicated, but the result was that Webster Securities became the holder of the voting trust certificate, representing 30,000 shares, through Clarke's manipulations without a dollar of real money being paid. The price of the shares came from the treasury of Utilities Power and Light corporation."

Option Leads to Ouster.

Charges and countercharges between Clarke and the Odlum interests began to fly soon after Atlas corporation took control of Clarke's former empire, enforcing a resignation

Peace Moves Abroad Boost Stock Prices

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 23.—Stock market prices advanced on a broad front today. Leading issues gained up to 3 points, and some relatively inactive issues spurted as much as 8 points. The upturn was accompanied by an acceleration of trading on turnover of 1,299,315 shares.

Although it was largely an industrial share market, all sections joined in the improvement. Raw material issues, notably steels, rubbers, coppers, and farm implement shares predominated in the upswing.

Improvement of the international political situation was the incentive for the rise, traders said. Upturns in foreign stock markets in the last two days also were encouraging.

Steels Are Big Gainers.

United States Steel, Bethlehem, and Youngstown were the big gainers in the steel group, advances running to well above 2 points. Republic Steel pushed higher and the "independents" rose 1 and 2 points. Copper shares kept pace with the steels. Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, and International Nickel gained 1½ and 2½ points. U. S. Rubber added 1⅝ points in the most active trading of the day.

After displaying some hesitancy, railroad shares turned exceptionally buoyant in the afternoon, several scoring gains of 1 and 2 points or more. Carrier equipment shares worked higher in sympathy.

The majority of public utility issues held to fractional gains. Demand for them failed to keep pace with the rest of the market.

The stock of Deere & Co. was among the ten most active issues of the day. It advanced 1 point. Allis-Chalmers and International Harvester closed 1¾ and 2¾ points higher.

Montgomery Ward Climbs.

Merchandising issues, particularly Montgomery Ward, also came in for their share of attention. That stock added 1¾ points at 37⅝, a new high for the year. Sears-Roebuck was leader on price gain, rising 3½ to 65, also a new high for the year.

Yellow Truck, General Motors, and Chrysler gained ¾, 1⅜, and 2⅛ points, respectively. Oils and building shares improved fractionally for the most part. Chemical shares were active for a time, with Allied, Air Reduction, Union Carbide, and du Pont advancing between 2 and 3⅛ points.

Aviation issues became prominent at midday and registered gains of fractions to 5 points. Douglas, United Aircraft, and Boeing were active. Wright Aero jumped 5 points on sale of 500 shares.

The exchange announced today the total short interest in listed stocks, as compiled from information provided by its members, was 1,228,005 shares on Jan. 31.

Arrangements were made for the transfer of a membership for $70,000, an advance of $3,000 from the preceding sale.

London Has Upturn.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Renewed buying of securities occurred today on the more favorable international political outlook and practically all sections of the list closed higher.

PERKINS REPORTS SHARP DECLINE IN EMPLOYMENT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Continued marked reductions in employment and pay rolls, reflecting more than seasonal losses of nonagricultural jobs since last October, were reported today by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. The loss of jobs not accounted for by the normal seasonal trend since October exceeded 2,000,000, she said. The total, including seasonal loss, was 2,800,000.

A decrease in weekly wages of nearly $20,000,000 between Dec. 15 and Jan. 15 was reported.

From mid-December to mid-January 1,300,000 nonagricultural jobs were lost. In this period employment was reduced by 6.9 per cent as against a normal 2 per cent, and pay rolls by 12.1 per cent.

HOARDERS BUY GOLD AND PRICE CLIMBS 5 CENTS

Heavy buying of gold by hoarders continued in the London market yesterday, despite the easing of tension in the European political situation. The price rose approximately 5 cents a fine ounce to $35.10 and sales totaled $8,121,818, the largest since last Friday.

The French franc fell 0.02% of a cent and the Belgian belga declined 0.01⅛ cent. The British pound sank 9-16 of a cent. The Swiss franc and the Netherlands guilder rose 0.01 of a cent.

Weakness of the French unit was attributed to fears that France would increase armament expenditures because of relative military isolation if England reaches an accord with Italy and Germany.

Chicago and Akron Air Service Starts March 1

PRICE, PROFIT STUDY VOTED BY SENATE GROUP

Due to 'Loose Talk' of Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—The senate commerce committee today approved unanimously a resolution by Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] calling for an investigation of costs, profits, and prices of all the principal commodities of American commerce. The resolution calls for an appropriation of $25,000 for an investigation by a subcommittee of the commerce committee.

Senator Josiah Bailey.

Senator Bailey said there had been much "loose talk" about prices, price fixing, monopolistic practices, etc., and that congress should have the facts. He referred to the periodic, conflicting pronouncements of President Roosevelt on the subject of prices, and to the President's recent decree that prices must be "balanced." He referred also to the recent diatribes of Robert H. Jackson, the administration's trust buster, and Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, charging that monopolistic price fixing and a business sitdown strike brought on the new depression.

Would Make Broad Study.

"The purpose of the resolution," Senator Bailey told the commerce committee, "is to enable the committee to investigate the entire subject of price, concerning which there has been a great deal of indefinite and general discussion. If the resolution is approved, I would expect the subcommittee to proceed to investigate the entire field of price, with a view to ascertaining whether there is a disparity as between prices paid for raw materials, prices for labor, and prices charged the consumer.

"Necessarily, in investigating price, we would investigate profit. It is a very broad field, but it seems to be the crux of much of our thinking and is likely to be the cause of more or less legislation.

Includes Taxes and Profits.

"We would investigate the relations of taxes, freight rates, labor charges, corporate profits, and corporation capitalization to price, and we would attempt to learn just what is going on in this country with respect to price. We would attempt to determine whether the assumption that profits are too great or that prices are too high or too low is well founded in fact.

"I think that if the congress has such data, it could proceed intelligently, but I do not think it can proceed now because all the statements that we get are generalities. If there is talk about the price of building materials, let us find out why the cost of building a structure is what it is and also how much profit there is in it."

Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.], chairman of the committee, wanted to know whether the price of electricity as charged by the utilities should be investigated.

Fields to Be Covered.

"Yes," said Senator Bailey, "and Senator Vandenberg [R., Mich.] suggested farm implements. That also is a very fine subject. I would suggest food, clothing, building costs, power, rates of taxes, and perhaps other things. I would like to know just how much of our present price structure is due to taxes. There has been a tremendous increase in taxes, and it is always reflected in the price to the consumer.

"I also want to know just what the base of the profit is; and if, in any field, price is related to watered stock. If it is not related to watered stock but is related only to fair profits on the capital invested, then we should find out about that."

ROPER OPPOSES PERMANENT U. S. SCARCITY POLICY

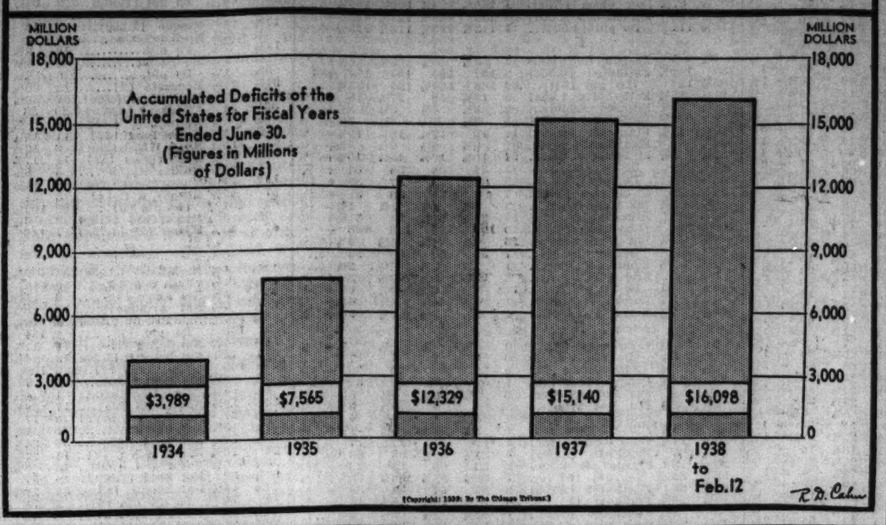

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Declaring that the basic philosophy of the United States is one of abundance and not of scarcity, Secretary of Commerce Roper said today that efforts to limit agricultural or industrial production should be made only in cases of emergency and should not be made part of a permanent federal program.

Secretary Roper announced that he would submit an analysis of 1,900 letters received from small business men to President Roosevelt tomorrow. His report will be a digest of the letters and will contain no recommendations.

Chicago Corp. Shapes Capital Loan Program

Greater activity in the intermediate capital market on the part of the Chicago corporation, the middle west's largest investing company, was indicated yesterday by Richard Wagner, president, at the company's annual meeting in its offices at 135 South La Salle street. Wagner said the corporation has the only large fund of such capital available in Chicago.

Richard Wagner.

Intermediate capital fills the gap between the comparatively short term loans of the banks and the long term financing through security issues.

Wagner presided for the first time as president of the corporation. Formerly vice president, he recently was elected president to succeed Charles F. Glore, who was elected head of the executive committee.

Glore Comments on Outlook.

"We believe that a fine opportunity to make profitable investments lies in the direction of intermediate banking," Glore told the stockholders. "We think the functions of intermediate banking are sound."

Wagner said there are five fields in financing which he believes will be profitable to the company. These, he said, are extension of loans for capital purposes or for working capital, financing of sound new enterprises, underwriting and seasoning of securities to be offered later, refinancing and reorganization of companies having sound setups, and occasional outright purchases of businesses.

In the financing of companies, he said, requisites would be good management, businesses that "have some place to go," and the obtaining by the Chicago corporation of a position in the equities of companies in which investments are made. In considering the purchase of companies, he added, there would have to be some plan for their ultimate disposition.

Meeting Passes Quietly.

Compared with the meetings of previous years, yesterday's session passed off quietly. Wagner said that in contrast to last year, when the nation's business was on the upgrade, 1938 was started under adverse circumstances.

He said, however, that since Dec. 31, 1937, there has been a slight improvement in the company's position. As of Monday assets were equal to $54.64 a share on the preferred stock, against $53.11 Dec. 31, 1937, and assets were equal to 70 cents a share on the common stock against 38 cents a share Dec. 31.

Replying to a question by a stockholder, Wagner said that on a basis of present conditions the management continues to expect to pay dividends on the preferred stock, but there will have to be a considerable improvement in earnings before the common stock holders may expect payments.

CONSTITUTION CHANGE TO PERMIT REFORM OF EXCHANGE SUBMITTED

A special committee of members, under the chairmanship of E. H. H. Simmons, former president of the exchange, presented to the governing committee an amendment to the constitution providing the mechanical means of "modernizing" the exchange, following closely the lines proposed several weeks ago by a group of exchange and non-exchange interests under the leadership of Carle C. Conway, chairman of the board of Continental Can company.

Calling for a paid president, who would be the chief administrative officer of the exchange, and providing for a board of governors representing the general public as well as the exchange, the amendment was taken under consideration by the governing committee and if approved will be presented to the membership for a vote about March 3.

CHANGES OFFERED IN OVER COUNTER REGULATION BILL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Officials of the Securities and Exchange commission conferred today with the senate banking and currency committee on proposed amendments to the Maloney bill for regulation of "over-the-counter" security dealers.

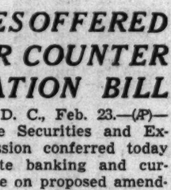

Committee members said the SEC officials presented a number of proposed changes in the legislation drawn to meet objections of some security dealers. The committee deferred action until a new draft of the bill could be prepared embodying the changes, most of them dealing with administrative details.

The legislation would provide for regulation of dealers through coöperative associations. One amendment worked out by the SEC in conferences with investment banking groups would give the commission enforcement power through injunctive rather than criminal proceedings.

Bank of The Netherlands Gold Stocks Sets New High

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The gold stock of the Bank of The Netherlands has reached a peak unprecedented in its history, the bank's weekly statement said today. The gold supply totals 1,425,800,000 florins [about $798,448,000] for a gold coverage of 82.5 per cent.

Staples Make One of Widest Gains in Year

Led by cocoa, hides, rubber, and a few metals, prices of most commodities swept upward yesterday in one of their broadest advances in nearly a year. Traders attributed the improvement to the advance in stock prices and to hopes that danger of war in Europe may be passing.

The Associated Press index of 35 cash staples closed at 71.57, up 0.32, and the Dow-Jones commodity futures index finished at 54.95, up 0.57.

Rubber Futures Active.

Rubber futures climbed 0.04 to 0.18 cent a pound in active trading, and crude rubber for immediate delivery finished 0.05 higher at 15.09 cents a pound. Cocoa futures advanced 0.26 to 0.29 cent a pound under aggressive buying. Hide futures climbed 0.30 to 0.33 cent a pound in New York, but cash hide prices held unchanged in Chicago.

Cottonseed oil futures advanced 0.06 to 0.09 cent a pound and also higher were wool tops, coffee, and sugar.

Butter Futures Strong.

Copper futures closed 0.25 to 0.27 cent a pound higher, tin contracts spurted 0.75 to 1.15 cents a pound, and lead futures moved up 0.07 to 0.13 cent a pound.

Export copper closed at 10.41 cents a pound, a gain of approximately ¼ cent. Scrap smelters increased the purchase price for No. 1 copper scrap ¼ cent to 8½ cents a pound. Domestic prices of lead, zinc, and copper were unchanged, but tin advanced 1⅛ cents to 43 cents a pound.

'L' Line Loss on Operations Is $768,813

The Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] yesterday reported net loss from operations was $768,813 in 1937. The company, which is undergoing 77B reorganization, reported a 1936 loss of $662,188.

A. L. Gardner Jr., named president of elevated lines.

The 1937 loss was figured after provision of $658,140 for retirement reserve [depreciation]. Fixed charges, including interest on funded debt, notes and amortization, amounted to $2,577,987, making a final reported loss for the year of $3,346,800. The 1936 loss was $3,240,175.

Transfer Revenue Included.

In its aggregate 1937 operating revenues of $13,759,206 the company included $666,762 estimated as due from the Chicago Surface Lines and the Chicago Motor Coach company under a division of interline transfer revenues ordered by the Illinois commerce commission. An adjusted income statement for 1936 giving effect to inclusion of interline revenues showed an operating loss of $56,462 and a total loss of $2,634,449.

Arthur Young & Co., accountants, in an accompanying certification pointed out that the matter of division of the interline revenues is still pending and no agreement had been reached at the end of 1937. The surface lines appealed from the order of the commission on the division of fares

Balance Sheet Figures.

The 1937 year-end balance sheet listed current liabilities of $5,179,994 and current assets of $1,472,742, exclusive of $1,387,287 listed as due from other traction companies under the division of interline revenues ordered by the commission. The balance sheet showed a total excess of liabilities over total assets of $16,084,367.

The report revealed that Addison L. Gardner Jr., general attorney for the company, has been elected president, succeeding Bernard J. Fallon, who continues as a director and chief operating head for the trustee.

Gardner, in his report to stockholders, said that passengers carried in 1937 totaled 150,349,614, an increase of 473,130 over 1936.

Quotations on No. 1 Heavy Melting Steel Scrap Cut

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—Quotations on No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap at Pittsburgh declined 50 cents a ton today to $13.50 to $14 a ton, against $14 to $14.50 previously. The decline was said to have been caused by the $1.50 a ton decline in export scrap prices in the last week.

SLUMP DELAYS DIVIDEND ACTION BY PEOPLES GAS

Outlook Not Bright, Ranney Reports.

Present prospects for improvement in business are "not very bright" and dividend action will not be considered until later in the year, George A. Ranney, chairman of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, told stockholders at their annual meeting yesterday in the Peoples Gas building.

About 180 persons, more than half of them women, listened in silence to the chairman's appraisal of business prospects, and then extended a vote of confidence to the management by unanimously reëlecting all directors.

After reminding stockholders that they received a $2 dividend last December, first since July, 1933, Ranney explained that 1938 dividend action must be deferred pending clarification of the business situation and settlement of the company's rate case.

Slump Reduces Earnings.

"The depressed condition of business is having an adverse effect on our volume of business and on our earnings," he said. "Additional revenues as the result of increased rates will not be available for any purpose until the termination of our rate litigation. Consequently, it is too early in the year to make any prophecy in regard to dividend action. Whatever the cause or causes may be, it is a well established fact that general business is in a depressed condition and that the prospects for improvement are not very bright."

The chairman reviewed the company's fight for higher rates and said the outcome may not be known for months. Higher rates were put into effect Feb. 5, 1938, but the company has agreed to impound the amount of the increase pending an appeal by the Illinois commerce commission of a Circuit court order approving the new schedule. It has been estimated that the higher rates will increase revenues by about $3,000,000 a year.

Funded Dept is Reduced.

In a review of the company's history in the last five years, Ranney told how funded debt had been reduced despite moderate earnings and payment of two dividends. He said the company is in a sound financial condition, but predicted that earnings this year would show the effect of the slowing up of business.

"During the five year period the net profits amounted to only $9,542,000, of which $2,847,000 was distributed in dividends, part in 1933 and part in 1937," he said. It seems clear that the reduction in rates, voluntarily put into effect in 1933, was a mistake and should not have been made.

"On Jan. 1, 1933, the funded debt of the company was $95,000,000. On Jan. 1, 1938, it was $78,222,000."

Letters of a business man to his son

XXXVIII

DEAR SON:

I was just reading tonight of how a famous man, when he retired, was engaged to write for a magazine at a dollar a word. He was noted for his brevity in public utterances, and so maybe his words were worth a dollar each. But, at his death, it appeared, ironically enough, that he had been too sparing with his words. For what he had left out of his will cost his heirs in the neighborhood of $1,000 a word!

I'm all for brevity, all right—but not at that price! As I was telling your mother, who wondered why I hired a lawyer to write my will, that an attorney knows the right things to say, and—for those who desire brevity—how to say them in the fewest number of words consistent with legality, their acceptance in court, and the carrying out of your desires. So why saddle your heirs with a will written by an amateur—yourself!

I don't know any situation more painful to people than to have to go through a lot of trouble because of a poorly phrased will, and right at a time when circumstances make it difficult to reach sound decisions about anything. And certainly the least a will could do is to appoint a competent executor and a trustee for the conservation of the estate.

I've always prided myself whenever I do something smart. And today I'm feeling pretty wise, after reading about that $1,000 a word business, for having got my attorney and the trust department of the bank together on arranging my will. For if they can't make a will foolproof there's no one I know that can!

Affectionately,
DAD.

COTTON

Cotton prices advanced around 50 cents a bale yesterday to a new high level since early in September. Closing trades in American markets, while slightly under the high point, showed net gains of .04 to .06 cent on the Chicago Board of Trade and advances of .02 to .14 cent a pound on other American exchanges.

Reports from New York yesterday indicated a continued good demand for textiles, sales being estimated at 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 yards at firm prices.

Spot cotton closed .05 to .14 cent higher with New York, 9.37 cents; New Orleans, 9.55 cents; Galveston, 9.20 cents, and Houston at 9.15 cents a pound. Prices follow in cents per pound:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Increasing consumer demand for meats and additional advances in lard prices stimulated demand for hogs and lambs yesterday. Packers obtained advances ranging up to $1 per hundred pounds for lamb meat and sold some cuts of fresh pork as much as 50 cents higher than on the preceding session.

Live hogs reached the highest midweek levels in three and a half months on the strong to 15 cent higher trade. Extremely heavy fat stock showed the full upturn, due to the higher lard market. The average gained 15 cents at $8.65. Top loads of 190 to 201 pound lights brought $9.20.

Prices of lambs rose to the highest levels since Jan. 26, closing strong to 10 cents higher than on Tuesday's session.

Early weakness in cattle vanished on active late rounds, with the close about steady with the average of the preceding day. Choice 1,378 pound steers topped the list at $10.10.

Board of Trade—2.

The first official act of the 82 merchants who organized the Chicago Board of Trade was the appointment of a group of inspectors to examine and grade the commodities traded in by members. This was the first step in promoting uniformity in commodity grades and insuring the quality of such products.

Trade surged to new heights with the formation of the board. On April 6, 1848—three days after the organization of the board—telegraphic communication with the east was established. Ten days later the Illinois and Michigan canal was put into service, offering new transportation and trading possibilities. The first ocean-going steamship, the packet Ireland, reached Chicago from Montreal during the summer of 1848, linking for the first time the rising grain center of America with the markets of Europe.

An historian of the day describes how "on the morning of Aug. 16, 1848, there was in the port of Chicago two barges, twenty-seven brigs, sixty-seven schooners, six steamboats, six propellers, and thirty-two canal boats, crowding the main river so that it was almost impossible for any one of them to shift its position."

The civil war, with the tremendous load it placed on the entire middle west in equipping and provisioning the Union armies, greatly strengthened the Board of Trade, logical center of the nation for such a task. At the close of the war it took its place as the most important grain market in the world, a position it has held ever since.

U. S. LEATHER CO., CUTLER-HAMMER OMIT DIVIDENDS

Wesson Oil to Pay Extra of 50 Cents.

Omission of dividends due at this time were announced yesterday by two companies—Cutler-Hammer, Inc., and the U. S. Leather company. Directors of Cutler-Hammer decided to omit dividend action on the common stock because of "uncertainty of business conditions." During 1937 dividends were 50 cents each March and June, a stock dividend in October, and a dividend of 25 cents in December. The company manufactures industrial machinery, and has plants in Chicago, Milwaukee, New York, and San Francisco.

The United States Leather company announced that no action was taken on the preferred dividend at the directors' meeting. The company had a loss of $791,579 in the quarter ended Jan. 31.

Votes 50 Cents Extra.

An extra dividend of 50 cents and the usual quarterly dividend of 12½ cents were declared by directors of the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift company. Similar payments were made on Jan. 3 this year.

Remington-Rand, Inc., declared a fiscal year-end cash dividend of 25 cents and an extra of 1-100th share of its $4.50 cumulative preferred stock on the common. This makes a total of $1.10 cash and 1-100th share of preferred stock paid on the common shares during the current fiscal year.

Union Carbide and Carbon corporation directors voted a dividend of 80 cents. A similar amount was paid in previous quarters.

Directors of the Elgin National Watch company voted to reduce the dividend due March 15 to 25 cents. Dividends of 50 cents each were paid in the first three-quarters of 1937, and a final quarter payment of $1.50 a share was made. A number of other companies declared regular dividends.

GUILDER CLAUSE IN U. S. RAIL BOND IS HELD INVALID

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Federal Judge Charles B. Davis ruled today that first term and unifying mortgage bonds of the Cotton Belt railroad were payable for their face amount, $21,638,000, and that the provision making them payable in Dutch guilders, now worth $37,335,525 in United States currency, was invalid.

Judge Davis held that the guilder provision was nullified by a congressional resolution of June 5, 1933.

In another case the District court in New York decided bondholders were entitled to collect the guilder value. The United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the ruling, and the Supreme court refused to interfere.

Roy M. Green to Manage U. S. Crop Insurance Unit

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—A former Missouri farm boy, Roy M. Green, today was named manager of the $100,000,000 federal crop insurance corporation, the agency created under the new farm law to insure wheat growers against crop failures. The appointment was made by the board of directors, which also selected Cecil A. Johnson, formerly of Ames, Ia., as its secretary. Green has been chief of the agriculture department's division of finance in the bureau of agricultural economics since 1935.

Blast Furnace Use of Iron Ore Far Below Year Ago

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Lake Superior Iron Ore association reported today that iron ore used in blast furnaces in January was 1,923,056 gross tons, compared with 4,694,312 in January, 1937. Iron ore consumed by blast furnaces in December was 1,916,588 gross tons.

JUDGE ACCUSES CLARKE OF FRAUD IN UTILITIES DEAL

Assails 2 Million Stock, Loan Transaction.

from his position as president of Utilities Power and Light which he had given Atlas in return for an option on securities of his company which Atlas had acquired. The option was not exercised, and is the subject of one of the numerous lawsuits in the case.

After several attempts to reorganize Utilities Power and Light through the federal courts, the corporation filed a voluntary petition under section 77B of the bankruptcy act. At the insistence of the Securities and Exchange commission, which intervened in the proceedings, Judge Holly appointed a trustee to administer the company. He named Willoughby B. Walling, who died yesterday. Informed of Mr. Walling's death, Judge Holly said a successor would be named within a day or two.

Both Criticized by Referee.

The charges of fraud exchanged between Clarke and Odlum caused Judge Holly to appoint James L. Houghteling, now United States immigration commissioner, to investigate the conduct of the business before and since Clarke was ousted.

In a report filed last November, Houghteling criticized both Clarke and Odlum. He stated that Clarke had run the company and its subsidiaries as a dictator; that the complicated corporate structure was such that the principal interest of those controling the corporation was in finance rather than utility operation, and that Clarke's interest in the company, because of the heavy debts of the Webster Securities corporation, is negligible. Houghteling criticized Odlum for accepting about $17,000,000 for British holdings of the company which were estimated by others to be worth approximately $25,000,000.

Canadian Subsidiary Sued.

Atlas corporation yesterday filed suit in the Chicago federal court against Utilities Light and Power, Ltd., Canadian subsidiary of the former Clarke empire, for $1,117,652. The money is claimed as Atlas corporation's commission on Odlum's sale of the British properties, title to which was held by the Canadian company.

In his report Houghteling recommended that payment of this commission be withheld until the transaction was investigated more fully.

STEADY STEEL PRICES AFFECT OUTPUT MILDLY

Continuation of present steel prices through the second quarter by leading steel producers has had little effect so far on new business, the magazine Iron Age said yesterday in its weekly review of the industry. A few plants have more new orders this week than in recent weeks, but the improvement has not been enough to effect operating schedules for the industry as a whole.

Operations this week declined a point to 30 per cent of ingot capacity, the survey showed. Minor increases were reported in the Chicago, the valley district, and at Buffalo, but the rises were more than offset by lower operations at Pittsburgh, Wheeling, and Cleveland.

Steel consumption has been at a faster rate in industry generally than the rate of production, Iron Age asserted. One large steel company in a survey of its customers' operations learned that some were operating up to 60 per cent of capacity or double the steel production rate.

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The firm of W. H. Goadby & Co., one of the oldest houses on the New York Stock exchange, will absorb the firm of Loew & Co. April 1 and will move to the Loew offices at 2 Wall street. The business now conducted by these two firms will be continued under the name of W. H. Goadby & Co. Goadby & Co. was formed in 1876, and Loew & Co. in 1915.

Illinois Electricity Sales Decline During January

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—James M. Slattery, chairman of the state commerce commission, reported today that electricity sales to ultimate consumers in Illinois in January totaled 597,434,867 kilowatt hours, a decline of 4.1 per cent from the 622,729,480 sold in January, 1937, and decline of 1.8 per cent from December.

WHEAT PRICES TURN HIGHER ON GAINS ABROAD

Other Grains Are Strong in Sympathy.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .94⅛	$ .92⅝	$1.31⅝
Corn	.60⅛	.59⅝	1.06⅝
Oats	.31⅝	.31⅛	.47⅛
Rye	.76	.75⅛	1.07⅝

Wheat prices advanced a maximum of 2 cents a bushel yesterday in American markets, reflecting strength abroad on Tuesday, when American exchanges observed a holiday. The improved European political situation was also an influence.

The Chicago wheat trade was broad early in the session and commission houses fairly aggressive buyers. Professional traders who sold on the opening bulge, believing there had been sufficient advance for the time being were unable to stem the upward movement, until the May option had reached 94¾ cents.

Closing Prices Are Higher.

Failure of a big European demand to develop for North American wheat dampened bullish enthusiasm to some extent, but the close was at net gains of 1⅛ to 1⅝ cents compared with Monday. Winnipeg added ¼ to ⅝ cent to its advance on Tuesday, and was 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents higher than Monday's close.

Buying of wheat futures by houses with eastern connections continued yesterday, making seven consecutive days of persistent purchasing. Strength in securities and in commodity markets in general was said to have had some effect on wheat.

Purchases of about 4,000,000 bushels of Australian and other wheats for shipment to Vladivostok and about 1,500,000 bushels by Spain had some effect on Liverpool which closed 3 to 3⅜ cents higher than on Monday.

Other Grains Strong.

Other grains were strong in sympathy with wheat. Corn closed unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel higher. Announcement an embargo against shipments of the No. 2 grade of corn to New Orleans had been lifted led to some buying.

Lard futures advanced 12½ to 17½ cents per 100 pounds to a new high level since early in November, due to an upturn to new high levels for the season on cottonseed oil and the strength in other commodities. Clear bellies [salt pork] gained 15 to 35 cents.

A. H. MELLINGER HEADS ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE

Aubrey H. Mellinger, since 1930 vice president of the Illinois Bell Telephone company in charge of operations, yesterday was elected president of the company to succeed Floyd O. Hale, who was elected chairman of the board.

A. H. Mellinger.

In selecting a new chairman of the board, directors filled a position which has been vacant since the retirement of W. R. Abbott in 1935.

Directors also elected William O. Kurtz, for eight years general manager of the company's Chicago area, vice president in charge of operations to succeed Mellinger.

Officers Reëlected.

Officers reëlected included Graham K. McCorkle, vice president; Arthur Perrow, secretary and treasurer; August D. Grote, general auditor, and Fred Brown, assistant secretary.

The appointment of Paul J. Ramsey as general manager of the Chicago area, Leland R. Mapes as general manager of the state area, and William Kahler as chief engineer of the Chicago area also was announced.

Mellinger began his telephone career as an employé of the New York Telephone company. After holding various engineering and executive positions in that company until 1928, he became general manager of the Chicago area of the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Named to Board in 1932.

In addition to his election as vice president in 1930, Mellinger was elected a director of Illinois Bell in 1932.

He is a member of the Chicago club, the Union League club, the Mid-Day club, and the Glenview club, and is a member of the board of visitors of Ohio State university. He lives at 747 Sheridan road, Evanston.

At the annual meeting of Illinois Bell Telephone stockholders yesterday morning Kurtz was elected a director and other directors were reëlected.

Continental Steel.

Investors' Guide: I will appreciate information about the Continental Steel corporation.—A. C.

Answer: The Continental Steel corporation, Kokomo, Ind., manufactures wire and sheet steel products in about equal proportions. Principal customers for sheet steel are manufacturers of automobile bodies, electrical apparatus, refrigerators, roofing, and other products. The building industry, farmers, and jobbers provide principal outlets for wire products.

Wire products produced include plain wire, galvanized wire, nails, fencing, barbed wire, and merchant wire. Black and galvanized sheets are included in the sheet output. Among related wire and sheet products are rivets, staples, gates, roofing, siding, and various fabricated sheets, all of which are used by the building industry as well as in some manufacturing operations. The company altogether produces fourteen styles of steel roofing and siding.

Earnings in each 1937 quarter ran well ahead of those of the corresponding 1936 quarter until the final three months, when net income slumped to $21,041, compared with $338,766 in the final quarter of 1936. Sales for the fourth quarter of 1937 were 42 per cent below sales in the 1936 December quarter.

Sales for 1937 totaled $19,723,904, and net income was $814,553, equal after preferred dividends to $3.20 a common share. In the preceding twelve months sales were $18,539,796 and net income was $736,228, or $2.78 a common share after preferred dividends. At the end of 1936 the company's fiscal year was changed from June 30 to end Dec. 31. Earnings in previous fiscal years were as follows:

1936	$16,535,000	$716,000	$2.67
1935	11,392,000	482,000	1.69
1934	11,878,000	480,000	1.66
1933	5,565,000	*60,000	*1.44
'32 [6 mo.]	3,448,000	*205,000	*1.74

*Net loss.

The company had 24,449 shares of 7 per cent cumulative $100 par preferred and 200,576 shares of no par common stock outstanding at the end of 1937. Dividends totaling $1.75 a share were paid on the common in 1937. Directors at their meeting last week deferred dividend action until their March meeting.
